Richard James wins top award at prestigious estate agency event

Local estate agent Richard James Estate Agents is celebrating being crowned the 2016 Relocation Agent Network Agent of the Year

Richard James received their award at this year's Relocation Agent Network Awards Dinner held on Friday 18th November at the Sofitel Hotel and Conference Centre, Heathrow.

The Agent of the Year Award is the most coveted prize Relocation Agent Network, the national network of selected estate agents, can give. Nominees are selected for the award because of the outstanding service that they have provided to their customers. They are judged on all aspects of estate agency, from marketing to customer care, professionalism to experience and reputation to commitment, which are all analysed in detail to decide the winner.

The black tie evening Awards Dinner was hosted by comedian and actor, Miles Jupp, who presented Richard James with their award. In addition to collecting the night's top prize, Richard James was also awarded two more accolades, the Best Agent Regional Award – Central and the Customer Relocation Award.

The Best Agent Regional Award recognises a member's overall contribution to Relocation Agent Network, their ability to achieve customer satisfaction and a strong market share locally. The Customer Relocation Award recognises members that have generated the greatest number of referrals over the past year.

Referrals are an important element of Relocation Agent Network: if a customer plans to relocate to another area of the country, their Network agent will recommend that the relocating area's local member assist in their move to the new location.

Co-founder and Director

James Rota said: "We are absolutely thrilled to have been named Relocation Agent Network's Agent of the Year. This is the Network's top award, so the accolade really does highlight the true determination, hard work and professionalism of every member of the Richard James team. It's a clear message to all of our buying and selling customers – the service that Richard James provides is the very highest in the Wellingborough, Irthlingborough and Rushden areas and across Relocation Agent Network."

Richard Tucker, Relocation Agent Network's Managing Director said: "We are so proud to name Richard James as our 2016 Agent of the Year. The team's commitment to outstanding customer service has been demonstrated time and time again and they truly are the Network's leading estate agent."

Letters to the editor

If you would like to submit a letter to the editor please send it to news@nenevalleynews.co.uk for consideration. The maximum word count is 200 words.

Dear Editor,

We read with interest A.T. Newman's comments regarding Rushden, 3rd December issue. Rushden Town Council treats all comments from local residents with great importance.

The Town Council adopts a positive approach for Rushden and is proud to have the backing of a supportive and caring community. Nationally shopping habits have changed significantly over the last ten years and this has sadly reflected on all High Streets. We are continuing to support our High Street traders and are actively seeking retail opportunities where possible. The town offers a variety of things to see and do and by working together with our strategic partners we are making continuous improvements to both the daytime and night time offer in the town. The task of monitoring evening activity is not always an easy one and constant vigilance from all parties is required.

The councillors and staff at Rushden Town Council appreciate constructive feedback and seek to take action where necessary, the town clerk and town manager have scheduled some evening monitoring in the town.

Please do not hesitate to contact Rushden Town Council by email info@rushdentowncouncil.gov.uk or by telephone 01933 316216 if you require any further information.

Genealogy jottings

A few weeks ago I mentioned how important it was to keep a note of your source material. There is nothing worse than wanting to verify or explore some information further when you cannot for the life of you remember where you found it!

This leads on to... how do you keep your family history records? Scraps of paper littering the dining room table? Notebooks? Ring binders for each branch of the family? Shoeboxes? It may be that you prefer to keep all of your records on your computer/laptop/iPad etc.

I have a ring binder for each surname in my family. Yes, there are rather a lot... However, I do know where to find information if I need to check something out. It is also great to see photographs of how my ancestors changed as they got older. I was very lucky in that a few years ago, I was presented with a cardboard suitcase full of photographs and have managed to identify who most of the people in them are. They are now filed in their appropriate folders. However, I do have some items out in my 'office'. On one wall I have a sampler that my great grandmother made in 1866 when she was just 10 years old. I also have a photograph on my wall of my grandfather (who died 10 years before I was born), my uncle and my mother – all since passed away – so that I can see them and enjoy them. My father has a plaster cast of his hand that was made by a renowned sculptor when he was three years old – not tucked away out of sight, but displayed in a cabinet for visitors to see. Whilst it is great to have wonderful records stashed away, some things need to still be enjoyed. Have a rummage amongst your mementos and records, seeing what you can enjoy.

Have a wonderful Christmas and peaceful 2017.

Editor's notes

A recent return trip to north Wales, which Satnav suggested would be three plus hours each way, turned into a very extended day because of roadworks, accidents and collapsed drains! It's not unnatural to have an aversion to going anywhere near the M25 because of the potential for delays, especially on Fridays, but in this case the M6 in Staffordshire on a Tuesday was just as bad. This leads to conjecture about the state of the nation's infrastructure and in particular the cost to the economy of delays on our roads.

Reputable studies have put the cost of vehicle delays caused by congestion in London alone at between £2bn and £4bn per year, with up to £750 million of this due to roadworks, around £2,000 per road work per hour.

Obviously, the works are necessary for longer-term improvements but the 'jam tomorrow' seems to be a long time coming. Perhaps we should reconsider increasing the use of waterways, and rail, for freight and do our bit towards reducing the number of vehicles on the roads by not shopping on the web! Any

It's a year now since the ownership of the Nene Valley News changed hands and hopefully you will agree that we are still delivering the services you require from your local newspaper. In this edition we cover a couple of personal financial issues with advice from the Citizens Advice Service for those struggling to make their money go round and an opportunity to investigate savings on energy bills, thanks to East Northants Council (ENC). The latter are also seeking small local projects to which they can allocate funding, so if you believe you have something which fits the bill, get your local council to make an application or work directly with your ENC Councillor.

This will be the final edition of the Nene Valley News for this year. We'll be back in mid-January, so all of us at the newspaper wish all of you a merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year. And remember, the shortest day of the year is 21st December, so we are on the way to lighter nights and spring!

East Northants Snooker League

If you are interested in joining the League, you can find them via Facebook – East Northants Snooker League.

As we approach the halfway point of the season, things are getting very competitive in the League. The top spot has changed round on an almost weekly basis for the past month. Windmill G, having led for two weeks, lost their first match of the season, suffering a 1-5 defeat to Windmill C who are now slowly climbing the table, having been at the bottom just three weeks ago. Windmill Mecca have now really found their form, winning 6-0 over Coopers A, which puts Mecca in the top spot and sends Coopers A all the way down to 5th position.

In the Player Stats, Craig Back continues his impressive run of form; he has won 12 of 16, 75% of his games, putting him number one in the rankings. However, as Craig has lost a couple of frames recently, this makes it possible for another player to claim the number one spot. Darren Fenner and Richard Wright are close behind on 71%. All player handicaps are to be reviewed on Monday 19th December, ready for the second half of the season in 2017.

Matt Barcock stole the show this week, with his comprehensive win over Justin Gaggini, thanks to a new high break of 63. During the same match Darren Fenner also knocked in a 32 break. On the neighbouring table Colin Hinds showed how formidable he can be, claimed a 2-0 win over Frank Perkins, including a cool 38 break.

The draws have now all taken place for the three winter competitions – the H-Cap Singles, Scratch Singles and H-Cap Doubles which must be played over the course of December. There are some exciting matches lined up. Good luck to all players.

Monday Munch Club

Oundle's Monday Munch Club for elderly and disabled residents in Oundle and surrounding villages is planning to move from strength to strength going into 2017.

The lunches, which take place on the third Monday of every month except August, have become a firm fixture in the local calendar and are staged at Oundle CE Primary School in Cotterstock Road.

With support from Waitrose, the club recently hosted scores of people at its annual Christmas party with the school's pupils providing festive musical accompaniment.

"It's been a wonderful to see so many folk coming along to these communal mealtimes to spend quality time eating and chatting together," commented the club's organiser Mrs Sarah Lee. "We feel sure the club will keep on growing and we are keen to engage as many locally based elderly and disabled people as possible."

The next club lunch will take place on Monday 16th January 2017. To book your place, please contact Patricia Bird on 01832 275353.

Advice Column

The Citizens Advice service is a network of charities, local and national, that between them provide advice to millions of people each year. Here, experts from Central and East Northamptonshire Citizens Advice provide answers to typical questions.

By Martin Lord

Readers willing to have their enquiry anonymously published (editor's decision final) can email Nene Valley News direct.news@nenevalleynews.co.uk. Please mark such enquiries 'Citizens Advice Column' in the subject.

I've been struggling with my finances for a while, and now it's got to the point where I can't afford bills like council tax or my mortgage. I'm worried that if I can't find a solution soon, I might have to sell my home. What can I do?

 The month after Christmas can be particularly tough, with extra expenses over the festive period putting even more pressure on household budgets. If you are facing New Year debts don't panic. With the right help there are ways to get on top of your outstanding bills.

Firstly, the earlier you get help with debt problems, the easier it is to get them sorted. Trying to carry on as if everything is normal can make things worse, as debts can pile up quickly. Letting your creditors, like your mortgage company or local council, know if you will be unable to pay them is key. Creditors should consider reasonable repayment plans and may be able to offer you more time to pay.

It is important that you prioritise paying certain debts, such as the rent, mortgage or energy bills, first to keep a roof over your head and the heating on. Depending on your circumstances, you may be able to get support through benefits, so it is worth checking this with the Department for Work and Pensions. If you are unable to pay your council tax debt the local authority may agree to let you pay a reduced payment over a longer period or even in exceptional circumstances write off the debt, but you will have to keep paying your ongoing bill going forward.

Drawing up a proper budget of your expenses can help identify areas you can cut down on. Before you turn to a loan to cover costs, think carefully and find out what this means for any future repayments and interest that will be due on the loan. Citizens Advice Bureaux offer free, confidential and independent advice, can help work out costs and negotiate with your creditors, and may be able to help you get debt-free by looking at appropriate options available for you.

From the ENC Chairman

On 7th December, making an early start to the day, I visited the Thrapston Royal Mail Delivery Office. Mr Kevin Moss, Delivery Office Manager, introduced me to his staff, who were all engaged in the work of organising the delivery of letters and parcels to all addresses that the office covers.

With Christmas ahead, their workloads are much larger than usual. I was glad of this opportunity to meet the Royal Mail staff and was impressed by their application to their work. This work is done so well that we sometimes take it for granted; we should remember to appreciate it.

On Sunday 11th December I was the guest of the Mayor of Corby at her Civic Service at St John's Church, Corby. The Mayor's tea party after the church service was a useful opportunity for informal discussions with councillor colleagues from neighbouring authorities about mutual concerns.

On Friday 16th December I was the guest of the Mayor of Wellingborough, Cllr Malcolm Waters, at his Mayor's Christmas party night, where we enjoyed an excellent dinner. The profits from the sales of tickets for the dinner went to the Mayor's charity, Contact the Elderly, an important and valuable voluntary organisation whose work is increasingly relevant as more people live longer. Society as a whole needs to cooperate effectively in looking after older people when they can no longer live fully independently. It is a coincidence that Cllr Waters and I, when we were also Northamptonshire county councillors, served on the County Council's Social Care Scrutiny Committee during our first term. I recall that our Committee did some very constructive work which, I hope, helped pave the way towards further achievement.

This will be my last column before Christmas. Before signing off for the year by wishing all readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year, I take this opportunity to support and draw your attention to the Government's anti-hate campaign, launched on 1st December. Summed up briefly, hatred is wrong, we should treat other people as we would want to be treated, whether in Britain or overseas. So, enjoy your Christmas and New Year's break!

Councillor Rupert Reichhold
Chairman of East Northamptonshire Council

Collyweston to stage new survey

A survey is gathering ideas and support for the future of one of our most historic villages.

‘Shaping Collyweston’ is at the first stage of a two-year project aiming to create a robust Neighbourhood Plan that will give planners, residents and people who work there clear guidelines for future development in and around the home of Collyweston stone slates.

Fiona Cowan, who leads the project, said: “We’re asking people to think in a bit of detail about where they live and how they feel about it. Not everyone can have strong feelings about absolutely everything – but it would be great if people can share what they do care deeply about.

“In the past, it has felt as if the people who actually live or work here don’t have any real say in what can or can’t be built in Collyweston. Over the years we’ve lost bus services, our primary school, shops, youth club, the post office and a number of public houses. There have been threats to remove grit bins that people rely on in the worst weather, and we expect to be told soon that our red telephone box isn’t cost-effective.

“But we’ve also gained a village shop run by volunteers, playground equipment and a multi-use sports area, a mobile library, a pocket park and a regular Wellbeing Bus – and recently a toddlers group has sprung up, running alongside our Friday Café in the village hall. The hall itself was extended and refurbished by volunteers, who worked hard to find sponsorship and grants, as well as doing a lot of the work themselves. And we have Permissive Footpaths and a Right of Way, opening up safer walking routes in the area.

“Looking back further, it was local craftsmen who funded and built our stone bus shelters, and who have looked after many of the traditional drystone walls that surround our public spaces. Today, it’s volunteers who keep our church and village hall going, despite the never-ending pressures of modern life.”

Survey forms are available from the community village shop on Collyweston High Street, from the village hall if you are visiting, or can be delivered (contact Fiona on 07989 306389 or collywestonnp@gmail.com). Free envelopes are provided to ensure confidential replies. Forms should be returned by 6th January 2017. Details of the project and an online survey are at shapingcollyweston.wordpress.com.

New year wetland wildlife walk

Ever wondered the difference between a tufted duck and a teal, or a gadwall and a great crested grebe? If so, why not kick-start 2017 by joining the Wildlife Trust for a guided walk at Irthlingborough Lakes and Meadows Nature Reserve on Sunday 15th January, 11am–1pm. The walk will be led by local bird expert Neil McMahon and will be a great way to counter the excesses of the festive season.

Winter is one of the best times to visit

Irthlingborough Lakes and Meadows, as it will be full of wintering wetland birds such as wigeon, pochard and lapwing that migrate here from colder climes. Located at the heart of the Nene Valley, Irthlingborough Lakes and Meadows forms part of a network of wildlife sites which is internationally important for its winter bird populations. Owned and managed by the Wildlife Trust, the nature reserve is home to all kinds of other wildlife too, including otters, Kingfishers and orchids.

Places on January’s walk are limited so booking is essential. To book a place (£3 per person, payable on the day), or for further information, please contact the Wildlife Trust on 01604 405285 or email northamptonshire@wildlifebcn.org. www.wildlifebcn.org. Registered charity no: 1000412.

Nene Valley Business News

Welcome to my December business column, the last one of the year. This month I am featuring one of our local high street shops, which is based on High Street South in Rushden and will be of particular interest to our dog loving readers.

We all need to support our precious high streets and town centres, which offer a variety of goods and services often within walking distance, and also play a key part in keeping the community together, especially in these internet times. So it really is a case of 'use it or lose it'.

My new puppy, Kira, and I made a visit to the award-winning Pooch Parlour Scruffies, based in the heart of Rushden and which has easy access for us dog owners, with a small car park located less than one minute from the shop if you are visiting from out of town.

The first thing you notice when entering the shop is the impressive amount of awards displayed on the wall and the friendly welcome from the proprietor, Mr Ashley Pedly. After Kira settled down, one of her first outings since her vaccinations, Ashley, a fellow schnauzer enthusiast made friends with my pup, which if she was coming to be groomed would be an essential part of the service.

Ashley and his wife Charlie have been grooming dogs since the year 2000 and established the business in Rushden in 2010. Impressively Charlie last year qualified as an International Certified Master Groomer, with the IPG (International Professional Groomers) and is one of only 33 groomers in the country qualified to an international level.

To qualify, Charlie had to pass practical and written exams for five different dog groups, so is an expert groomer for most breeds of dog.

She has also entered various grooming competitions winning many places including Reserve Best in Show at the Extraordinary Grooming Show 2016, first prize in the Northern Groomers Clip and Scissor Class 2014 and interestingly took fourth prize in the Asian Fusion class at the Grooming Show 2016, in Coventry.

Asian Fusion grooming is a mixture of conventional and traditional styling with Asian styles and techniques, which will give your much loved pooch a different look.

Did you know: This year's Crufts winner was a West Highland White Terrier, Ch Burneze Geordie Girl, pet name Devon. Her owner, Marie Burns, is also Devon's groomer, which certainly paid off in this year's Crufts final.

I asked Ashley what he would advise when you are looking for a good groomer for your beloved pooch. He advised there are a number of great groomers in East Northants; check their qualifications and experience, as the dog grooming industry is not regulated and anyone can set up as a dog groomer. Not good news when you hand over your furry friend to someone with clippers and scissors! I also asked him how I keep Kira's white beard free from staining. Ashley advised to check that what you are feeding your dog doesn't contain food colourings, which can cause staining.

Does your business qualify for a Government grant?

The Government are offering a Rural Development Programme for England: LEADER funding is available to local businesses, communities, farmers, foresters and land managers. Find out how to apply for funding through Local Action Groups (LAGs)

You can apply to your Local Action Group (LAG) for funding for projects that create jobs, help your business to grow, and benefit the rural economy, under the LEADER scheme. LEADER funding is delivered via LEADER LAGs and is available to local businesses, communities, farmers, foresters and land managers.

A total of £138 million is available in England between 2015 and 2020 under the scheme.

What projects are eligible?

A LAG is made up of people from the local community and the local public and private sectors. Each LAG decides which projects they will fund in their area. This depends on their priorities but all projects must support one or more of the six LEADER priorities. These are to:

- support micro and small businesses and farm diversification
- boost rural tourism
- increase farm productivity
- increase forestry productivity
- provide rural services
- provide cultural and heritage activities

If you want to know more details contact the following:

It could make a significant difference to your business.

Next month, for all you Top Gear and The Grand Tour fans, do I have a treat for you! My other half has offered to carry my notebook and pen for next month's feature, which I am really looking forward to sharing with you.

I would like to finish the year with a big thank you for all the great comments I have received throughout the year from the Nene Valley readers for my business column. I wish all the Nene Valley readers and the residents of East Northants a very Happy Christmas and prosperous New Year. My best wishes to you all from your local business champion.

Lasting legacies left by Lancelot 'Capability' Brown

To end a busy year celebrating the 300th Anniversary of the birth of Lancelot 'Capability' Brown, the Northamptonshire Gardens Trust were delighted to have gifted trees to all those groups from Wellingborough and East Northants who visited the wonderful Brownian landscape at Castle Ashby in July. These visits were part of an ambitious project aiming to encourage a wider, more diverse audience to visit, learn about and enjoy Brown's landscapes as part of the Capability Brown 2016 Festival. This festival was managed by the Landscape Institute and funded with a grant from the Heritage Lottery Fund.

On a beautifully sunny morning on Monday 28th November, five trees were delivered to a variety of sites and in the very capable hands of 'Capability' Brown two Rowan trees were planted at Rowangate

School and the Warwick Academy in Wellingborough and a Hawthorne at Southwood House for adults with disabilities, also in Wellingborough.

Owing to limitations of space, Rowangate School in Rushden and the SERVE Therapy Centre in Higham Ferrers received crab apple trees in pots to brighten their urban environments. Each tree was ceremoniously planted with the help of pupils, residents and of course, 'Capability' Brown.

Carol Fitzgerald, a spokesperson for the Northamptonshire Gardens Trust explained that "all participating groups in the July trips to Castle Ashby now have a fitting reminder of a special visit to a 'Capability' Brown landscape and the great man himself. It has been a very exciting and enjoyable year and we are delighted to end the project with a lasting legacy."

Oundle Festival of Music and Drama

"Thank you for inviting me to adjudicate at the Oundle Festival," wrote John Pomphrey, Choral Adjudicator 2016.

"I found the day completely absorbing with fine singing and an excellent, friendly and competitive atmosphere in every class.

"The hospitality was excellent, the clerks most helpful and there seemed to be enthusiasm and smiling faces throughout the day. Wonderful!"

The 2017 Festival, which runs from Wednesday 29th March to Saturday 1st April, provides performance opportunities for amateurs of all ages. Experts in their field offer encouragement and suggestions for improvement to all who take part: from the child reciting a poem before an audience for the first time, to the more mature musicians.

Entries are welcomed from individuals, parents, teachers and schools. Entries close on 16th January, so there is just one month left to decide to take part and be part of this wonderful event.

You can find the 2017 syllabus at Oundle Bookshop, Oundle Box Office, Oundle Library and Fletton House. It is also available at www.ofmd.org.uk. The syllabus includes details of the prestigious Oundle Young Musician, Oundle Young Singer and Oundle Town Council Drama prizes.

The organising team of the Oundle Festival of Music and Drama were delighted to be awarded a grant by the Central England Co-operative Community Dividend Fund to buy an all-in-one printer to speed up their admin work. The thirteen-year-old photocopier had long outlasted its expected life and was in urgent need of replacement.

As a registered charity the Festival aims to keep entry fees as reasonable as possible, but income has not kept up with rising costs in the last two years. The continued support of Oundle Town Council, who this year are helping with the costs of the Saturday choir classes, and all the sponsors from the retail, business and professional community of Oundle and surrounding villages is much appreciated.

Reindeer pay a flying visit to Stanwick

Santa's reindeer proved a huge hit at this year's Stanwick Primary Christmas Bazaar – and helped to raise a grand total of £2,520.36.

The reindeer were a new attraction at the Bazaar, an annual event organised by FoSS, the Friends of Stanwick School, a charity that raises funds for the benefit of school pupils. As well as the opportunity to pet the reindeer, school pupils, parents and friends visited Santa's Grotto, plundered craft and gift stalls, enjoyed fresh cake and hot drinks, and took part in a raffle and tombola – both of which featured grand prizes, ranging from £200 in cash to a Christmas meat hamper.

"We always like to support the Bazaar," said

Vernon Frost, proprietor of Old School coffee shop and bistro, plus Shop @ Stanwick. "This year, rather than donate a prize, we sponsored the reindeer visit."

Other sponsors – all local businesses – included CR Potter the butcher, GT Commercials, DB Shoes, Shires Cookery School, Barrett and Coe photography, the Santa Pod Festival of Power, Pacesetters, Rock-It Promotions and (via the Rushden branch) Waitrose.

"We're so pleased to have been able to raise this money, which will directly benefit pupils at the school," said Amy Watts, chair of the FoSS committee. "I'd like to thank all the FoSS volunteers, who worked so hard, plus our sponsors and donors – as well as all those who visited the event, without whom it wouldn't have been such a fantastic success."

The next major event is the summer Village Evening, to be held on Friday 14th July. Meanwhile, FoSS regularly organises fundraising coffee mornings at the school. For more details, see www.facebook.com/FriendsOfStanwickSchool.

Your Health Matters

Are carol singers a health risk?
Has Health and Safety gone mad?
Please read this list to the end:

- Indoor Christmas lights need a portable appliance test (PAT) every year
 - You can't throw out sweets at pantos
 - Santa needs a seatbelt in his sleigh
 - Secondhand toys can't be donated for 'health and safety' reasons
 - Carol singers are a health and safety risk
 - Children are banned from throwing snowballs
 - If you clear snow from outside your business or home you are likely to get sued
 - Health and safety prevents people putting coins in Christmas puddings
- According to the government's health and safety website page, all of these are MYTHS.

However, the following are injuries that are seen every year in A&E:

- Children who have eaten glass baubles
- Injuries (and deaths) from watering Christmas trees when the tree's lights are on
- Falls from putting up decorations
- Stabbings from people using knives

instead of screwdrivers to assemble new toys

- Broken arms from pulling crackers (I have no idea how this is possible!)
- Back injuries from lifting the turkey out of the oven (every year we treat someone who has 'turkey back').

I have no intention of being a health fanatic and kill joy, but stay out of A&E this year by thinking before you water the tree and checking the ladder isn't broken before you step onto it to put up the decorations.

Don't give yourself 'turkey back' – if the turkey is too heavy ask someone else to lift it.

And don't water the artificial tree!
Top Tip: If writing your thank you letters gives you pain in your wrist or arm, try circling your wrists to stop muscle fatigue.

Have a fun-filled time and a Merry Christmas!

£40k council funding for local projects

East Northamptonshire Council (ENC) is helping more communities in the district with £40,000 of funding for local projects.

Each district councillor is allocated £1,000 per year for small community-based projects. Money can be awarded to parish/town councils, community groups, voluntary organisations and charities working in East Northamptonshire.

Thanks to ENC's Member Empowerment Fund (MEF), these types of projects can be funded:

 - Installation of a gated entrance to the village of Hargrave to visually improve road safety
- Leader of East Northamptonshire Council,

Steven North, said: "This is a great small fund that allows our councillors to support capital projects in their area, either as an individual or working with other members to support larger projects. If you need a bit of financial help to make your project a reality, have a chat with your local councillor."

Oundle YFC kick off festivities in charitable style

Oundle Young Farmers celebrated another successful year at their annual Christmas Dinner and Dance, donating £138.17 in the process for RABI, a charity which supports farming families in difficulty.

The evening kicked off with a look back at what has been achieved this year, by chairman Richard Lee. It has been a busy few months with numerous successes for members and the club as a whole. After welcoming many new faces to the club, a good showing at this year's County Rally and lots of money raised at the Annual Charity Clay Shoot, the club has much to be proud of.

Following a lovely meal from hosts for the evening, the Elton Furze Golf Club, games were played, prizes were won and money raised for a worthwhile cause.

The Royal Agricultural Benevolent Institution (RABI) are a welfare charity who help farming people, both young and old who are in difficulty or need of support. This can be through providing grants, equipment or training to working farms in need; or supporting retired or disabled people who need a helping hand.

If you would like to find out more about RABI please go to: www.rabi.org.uk/ or donate at www.justgiving.com/rabi If you want to find out more about Oundle Young Farmers search for them on Facebook or on twitter @OundleYF for details of the next Wednesday meeting.

Chess Corner

Regular readers will be aware that Rushden Chess Club (RCC) has been an enthusiastic exponent of junior chess in the area. In previous years regular competitive games have been organised between the Club and a local school. The benefits of chess for young people have long been recognised and those familiar with the film 'Knights of the South Bronx' will be aware of the work carried out by David MacEnulty among poor students in New York. As a result of chess, significant improvements were seen in the educational attainments of the students.

In an effort to spread the reach of chess in the area, the idea of a junior league for local schools was proposed. This has been supported with a grant provided by Rushden Town Council. We are therefore now seeking potential entrants for the league. Whilst places are limited we would try to accommodate all applicants, thus anyone interested in entering their school or local group can contact us. A contact number can be found at the end of this article.

In this time of celebration, when families take time together, I am saddened to report that the family of Russian Grandmaster Yuri Yeliseyev will be mourning his passing. The 20-year-old chess maestro fell from a 12th floor Moscow flat in what appears to have been a tragic accident. Yuri was a keen fan of the urban sport known as freerunning, this activity includes climbing/jumping up walls, across roofs and over fences and other buildings. Yeliseyev won the world junior chess championship in 2012 and also this year's Moscow Open. He became a grandmaster in 2013.

As I look out the window at the frost on the ground, I feel glad to be inside in front of a roaring fire. At this time of year thoughts are very much focussed on the coming Christmas and the year past. In many ways 2016 has been a very positive time for the Club, with a continuing increase in the number of members. The junior section of the Club continues to grow and we were particularly pleased to host players from the Rushden Academy who pitted themselves against our youngsters. RCC acquitted themselves well in this inaugural competition despite Rushden Academy's age advantage. We have also seen the advance of the ladies with the C team now regularly fielding at least two female players in League competition.

As has become the tradition at this time of year, I am including a chess puzzle to mull over during a quiet time in the holiday period. So why not get that chess board out from wherever you last saw it and have a go! The solution will be published in the next edition of the Nene Valley News.

White to move, mate in three

Chess is a game for people of all abilities, disabilities, and lifestyles. Rushden Chess Club loves welcoming new members, so do come along to a meeting if you're interested in playing chess in a very friendly environment. The club opens most Mondays from 6pm for junior players – for details please call the Club Secretary on 01933 625767, or visit the club website <http://rushdenchessclub.com>
