The food bank is open on the second and fourth Wednesday of each month 1.30pm–2.30pm at Thrapston Baptist Church. Please drop by if you need help.

New development boosts space for wildlife in Nene Valley

Irthlingborough Lakes and Meadows

A huge new Wildlife Trust managed nature reserve is to be created linking together four precious fragments of wildlife habitat, thanks to a planned leisure and shopping complex.

After a long delay it was announced last week that Rushden Lakes – a new multi-million pound leisure and shopping development in the heart of the Nene Valley – has been given the go-ahead by Secretary of State, Eric Pickles.

The Wildlife Trust has been working very closely with the developer LXB Properties as the development sits within the Upper Nene Valley Gravel Pits Special Protection Area, internationally important for the wetland birds that spend the winter there.

Only 31 acres of the 222-acre site will be developed, with a mixture of shops and leisure facilities; including a home and garden centre, shops on three terraces, space for up to four waterfront restaurants, a hotel and crèche, a boathouse/activity centre and a lakeside visitor

The Wildlife Trust will take on the management of the other 191 acres as a nature reserve, which will link together four of the Trust's existing nature reserves in the area to form one giant 660-acre space for wildlife. This will enable the Trust to build on the fantastic land restoration and community engagement work that it has been delivering at Irthlingborough Lakes and Meadows funded by a £1m Heritage Lottery Fund grant.

The cost of the reserve management will be paid for by the developer, which sees the nature reserve as a key selling point for the new retail scheme, with the potential to attract a huge number of visitors each year.

As part of the scheme a network of greenways will be constructed, enabling greater visitor access to this part of the Nene Valley and beyond whilst ensuring that the sensitive wildlife is protected. In addition to this a visitor centre will be built by the lakeside, using some of the highest sustainable building techniques.

Save a lifebelt designs unveiled on the riverbank

The winning designs of a competition to design an anti-vandalism message for essential life-saving equipment on our waterways were unveiled at a special riverside ceremony hosted by East Northamptonshire Council.

The council ran a competition for under 18s to design a message or a picture to be placed inside lifebelts along the River Nene, to make a vandal or thief think twice before messing with this vital equipment. The winning designs were unveiled at Ringstead Upper Lock on 19th June ready for Drowning Prevention Week. This was the first competition of its kind in the UK and saw over 270 entries submitted.

The winners, along with their families and friends, were invited to the ceremony where they met and were congratulated by the competition judges: East Northamptonshire Council's Chairman Gill Mercer, Schools Swimming Manager (Northamptonshire County Council) Steve Jackson, Nene and Lincolnshire Waterways Manager (the Environment Agency) Sue Cant and Sector Commander (Northamptonshire Police) Inspector Inam Khan. The designs were then placed on each of the lifebelts along the river.

Councillor Gill Mercer, Chairman of East Northamptonshire Council, said: "It was very exciting to see the winning designs placed on the lifebelts and we all hope that they will help to deter vandalism of life-saving equipment along the River Nene. Well done to all who took part and please stay safe near the water."

Run by The Royal Life Saving Society UK (RLSS), Drowning Prevention Week (21st-29th June) aims to ensure everyone knows how to have fun and stay safe near water. Visit www.drowningpreventionweek.org.uk to find out more.

The designs were revealed at a special ceremony for winners and invited guests

Past Chairman raises thousands for charity

Cllr Pam Whiting was delighted to hand over a cheque to Alzheimer's Research for £1,850 which was raised in her role as East Northamptonshire Council Chairman last year.

Pam's main fundraisers as civic head of the council were afternoon tea at The Bridge Hotel in Thrapston and a civic dinner which was held at The Courtyard in Stanwick. Monies raised were topped up by raffles and donations.

The contribution will help with research into the causes of Alzheimer's which is being carried out in Cambridge. This will hopefully lead to a prevention treatment which could help many people.

During the year, Pam also held an International Ladies Day Lunch at Stanwick Lakes which raised £200 for Water Aid, a Boobs and Brass concert at Higham Ferrers Church which raised £1,350 for Breast Cancer Charity and £1,560 for the Bell Appeal at St Mary's which will help with work to restore and re-hang the bells.

Pam and George thoroughly enjoyed the year as Chairman and Consort, visiting many different places, travelling over 5,000 miles, attending 160 events, making new friends, not only in this district but further afield and just being involved with many different communities.

Pam said: "A sincere thank you goes to all of you who have supported my various functions; the total raised over the year is fantastic and I could not have done it without your support. Thank you all very much indeed."

Cllr Pam Whiting handed a cheque to Alzheimer's Research for their work in searching for the cause and prevention treatment

Irthlingborough Methodists refurbish Community Rooms

Builders moved on site recently to completely refurbish and upgrade the Community Rooms at the rear of the Methodist Church in College Street, Irthlingborough.

The halls complex was opened in 1960 and is now in urgent need of refurbishment and upgrade, to meet the needs of both the church and the community of Irthlingborough in the 21st century.

Briefly the upgrade consists of:

- Reconfiguration of lobby, toilet and kitchen area to provide better facilities for the disabled
- New fitted kitchen
- Installation of a platform lift from the lobby to the large hall
- Complete rewire
- New heating system

- Complete redecoration
 - Replacement of all windows
 - New roof to outside porch and other outside maintenance work
 - Addition of suspended ceiling and large hall and stage area
 - New flooring in toilets, vestibule and kitchen
- The Irthlingborough Methodist Church is grateful for a grant of £26,000 from the Methodist Church Fund for Property (www.methodist.org.uk) towards the approximate £150,000 cost of the project. It has also gratefully received grants from Biffa Award (www.biffa-award.org), the East Northamptonshire Council Community Facilities Fund, The Methodist Church Northampton District and Nene Valley Circuit, The Bernard Sunley Charitable Foundation, The Hunter Rowe Trust, The Maud Elkington Charitable Trust, The Garfield Weston Foundation, as well as financial support from the church's congregation and other individuals.

Work on the project began on 2nd June and is likely to run until mid-September.

It's only a game at the Community Safety Day!

With the World Cup final only days away, we've been gripped by the skill and talent on display. The beautiful game has the ability to bring great joy when your team is winning and very often, great anger when they don't.

This year's Community Safety Day at Stanwick Lakes on Saturday 26th July is focusing on the UK's favourite sport to give anti-social behaviour, domestic abuse and hate crime the red card.

The day will kick off at 11am and include displays from Northamptonshire Police and Fire Service, who will be bringing a cavalcade of emergency service vehicles for kids (and adults) to climb into and explore, plus a range of exhibitors giving advice and information. These include Community Law, Service Six and the Sunflower Centre, to name but a few.

As well as giving invaluable advice and information on crime prevention and community safety, the day will be full of fun activities, including prize competitions, ranging from keepy uppy to spot the ball and as the half-time whistle blows you'll even be offered an orange segment to keep you going!

In addition to the football theme, the day will draw attention to another popular summer pastime: swimming in the lakes and rivers around the district. Whilst the cool waters may be appealing on a hot summer's day, East Northamptonshire has seen too many tragic accidents over the past couple of years.

Water safety is becoming a key message for emergency services and local authorities and getting children in particular to take home advice on being safe around water and to not vandalise life-saving equipment will be a step forward in reducing the deaths and accidents on our waterways.

A full list of activities, exhibitors and competitions can be found on the East Northamptonshire Council website by visiting www.east-northamptonshire.gov.uk/onlyagame.

Take a look at the history of Britain as you've never seen it before...

This summer The Pantaloons Theatre Company are touring the country with their own inimitable take on the History of Britain – and this hilarious show is coming to Lyveden on Saturday 26th July 2014.

With mud, blood and stiff upper lips, The Pantaloons' History of Britain presents our country's past as you've never seen it before. Join a breathless race through the centuries in this delightfully inventive open-air show, which tells the story of Britain in under two hours.

Harold II and William the Conqueror don't see eye to eye. Henry VIII decides five marriages just isn't enough. Queen Victoria is most certainly not amused...

This historically hysterical show is packed with songs, sketches and silliness and is suitable for all ages.

The Pantaloons began life ten years ago as an open-air theatre company, busking plays for donations in parks and on the streets, where they developed an attention grabbing, interactive and playful performance style.

"We characterise our work as post-modern folk theatre," says Mark Hayward, a founding member of the company and co-writer of the play. "We take well-loved tales – in this case stories from history – and give them a contemporary twist, making them accessible for new audiences and showing seasoned fans something that they perhaps had not seen in them before."

The Pantaloons have picked up plenty of loyal followers and a lot of critical acclaim and have quickly become one of the country's most prolific touring companies – and even they're not entirely sure how and when that happened.

The tranquil setting at Lyveden provides the perfect backdrop for people young and old to enjoy the show, which will include plenty of original live music, puppetry, audience participation and improvisation.

"We're really looking forward to hosting this energetic performance by The Pantaloons," says Claire Barrett, Visitor Operations Manager at Lyveden. "Their previous shows have proved extremely popular with our visitors and the History of Britain looks set to be another 'must-see' show. It's a great way for families to see history come to life, in a beautiful setting, and hopefully we'll all learn a few historical facts along the way!"

"The show will feature some more serious moments," says Hayward. "There's some quite moving stuff in there that we really wanted to treat with respect. Of course, there is also a rich vein of comedy to mine in the history of Britain and we'll be squeezing out every last drop!"

So pack a picnic, jump in your time machine, bring the whole family and be prepared for the theatrical event of the millennia!

Even more adventurous play at Stanwick Lakes, thanks to Biffa Award!

Biffa Award has given £15,000 to the Rockingham Forest Trust, which manages Stanwick Lakes, for the installation of new swings and sculptures.

The Adventure Trail, with a ropebridge, zip slide and climbing rock, is a popular place for families to explore when they visit Stanwick Lakes. Unfortunately the tyre swings on the Trail have come to the end of their natural life. Now thanks to the grant from Biffa Award, they will soon be replaced with exciting new adventurous play equipment.

Luke Johns, Senior Ranger at Stanwick Lakes said: "We plan to start work soon, taking down the old tyre swings and installing a new hexagonal swing and climbable animal sculptures. The Ranger team and volunteers will be working hard so the new play equipment can be enjoyed during the summer holidays."

So, when your family visits Stanwick Lakes this summer, make sure you explore the Adventure Trail and try out the exciting new play equipment!

Sacks for summer gardening

Sunshine and rain throughout June mean the flowers have grown like crazy. Unfortunately, it means the weeds have too. If you're sprucing up the garden for summer, take advantage of the East Northamptonshire Council garden waste sack service.

You can fill the 75 litre compostable sacks, which cost £15 for 10, with grass cuttings, hedge trimmings, weeds, dead plants and flowers, prunings and leaves.

Once filled, the council will collect three or more sacks at a time from the usual refuse collection point, within 10 working days of being notified. You will be told of the collection day in advance.

East Northamptonshire Council also offers a fortnightly wheeled bin recycling collection of green waste for £51.50 for a year.

For more information, visit: www.east-northamptonshire.gov.uk/gardenwaste or call 01832 742043.

Building opportunities in Irthlingborough

A near £1 million development on the outskirts of Irthlingborough has transformed a disused piece of land into an area of opportunity for local residents who are looking to lay claim to a home of their own through shared ownership.

The 10 homes located off Finedon Road at 'The Lanterns' have been built by Bloor Homes and Spire Homes to meet growing demand for affordable housing.

"Bringing affordable homes to rural communities is a huge part of what Spire Homes does," said Katy Sagoe, Director of Housing Services at Spire Homes. "We know that house prices can be particularly high in rural communities and having properties for shared ownership helps remove the barrier of saving a huge deposit for buyers."

"We have very strong ties with Irthlingborough and are continuing to seek new opportunities for Spire Homes to support the community and all its residents. This is a good scheme – we're making use of disused land and our continued partnership with Bloor Homes is proving very successful. We hope to build many more schemes with them in the future."

Prices begin from £35,000 based on a 40% share subject to affordability assessment. Anyone interested can contact Millers on 01604 239999.

Scheme composition:
 4 X 2 bed 4 person Houses at 68 metres
 2 X 1 bed 2 person Flats at 52 metres
 2 X 1 bed 2 person Flats at 47 metres
 2 x 2 bed 3 person House at 61 metres

Christian Aid Week house-to-house collection raises record amount

A record £7,300 was raised this year in Oundle and the surrounding villages during Christian Aid Week in May.

With the addition of Gift Aid, Christian Aid should receive an overall total of £8,295. The charity gives many thanks to all organisers, collectors and contributors for helping to raise this excellent amount.

Christian Aid works in about 50 countries through local partner organisations, with people of all faiths and none, to relieve poverty, develop sustainable communities and bring emergency relief. The theme of Christian Aid Week this year was 'Fearless', and the amount raised will be used to help communities in many countries to cope with the effects of conflict and to work towards peace and reconciliation – an all-too-pressing need in these troubled times.

Fire Service prosecution for hoax caller

A serial hoax caller has been sentenced following a prosecution by Northamptonshire County Council's Fire and Rescue Service.

At Northampton Magistrates Court Rizwan Ahmed Bashir, of Abbots Way, Northampton, received three concurrent six-month custodial sentences, suspended for two years, plus a 12-month supervision order and £580 in costs.

The court heard recordings of the calls made by Bashir, who had continually contacted the Fire and Rescue Service insisting that he was reporting genuine emergencies.

The conviction sends a strong message that this kind of behaviour is not acceptable and that Northamptonshire Fire and Rescue Service will not hesitate to take action against hoax callers.

Chief Fire Officer, Martyn Emberson said: "Northamptonshire Fire and Rescue Service takes this type of activity very seriously and I am extremely pleased that we have been able to successfully prosecute this prolific hoax caller. Making hoax calls is simply not acceptable. It means that fire crews and other resources are diverted from where they are really needed, such as at road traffic collisions or genuine fires. This not only puts people's lives at risk but wastes both time and money."

Councillor André González De Savage, County Council Cabinet Member for Strategic

Infrastructure, Economic Growth and Public Protection said: "Hoax callers are extremely irresponsible and this behaviour will not be tolerated. Modern technology means we can trace every call. We can have a phone cut off where we can prove it's been used for a hoax and, as has happened in this case, we can refer to the police for a prosecution."

Nine open gardens to welcome visitors in Harringworth

Harringworth is a pretty conservation village on the border between Rutland and Northamptonshire, with the Viaduct providing an excellent landmark as you approach.

There will be 9 gardens open from 2-5pm on Sunday 13th July, offering visitors the opportunity to see a variety of styles and plant collections, with many of the gardens boasting amazing views of the local area. Afternoon tea will be available in the Village Hall from 2.30-5pm with homemade cakes and cream teas.

Tickets and a map for the Open Gardens will be on sale at the Village Hall.

Cost of entry: £3 per adult, accompanied children under 16 free. Proceeds from the entrance fee and afternoon teas go towards the Harringworth Appeals Fund.

For further information about these Open Gardens and others in the area visit: <http://www.opengardens.co.uk>

Splash Leisure Pool to benefit from £330k refurbishment

The Splash Leisure Pool in Rushden is set to benefit from some improvements by East Northamptonshire Council.

The £330k project will include the replacement of essential mechanical equipment, to enable the pool to remain open for future use, new lockers and improved changing areas and showers.

To accommodate the improvement works, Splash will temporarily close from 27th July 2014 for approximately eight weeks. Customers are encouraged to use the pool at the Nene Centre in Thrapston and enjoy summer activities at the Pemberton Centre in Rushden.

East Northamptonshire Council's appointed observer to the Aspirations Wellbeing board, Cllr Glenvil Greenwood-Smith, says:

"We appreciate the inconvenience of changes to term-time swimming lessons for swimmers and parents so that is why the pool will temporarily close during the summer holidays, which are usually a more flexible time for sporting activities."

Peter Williams, Chief Executive of Aspirations Wellbeing which manages the facility, adds:

"The Splash Leisure Pool is a great venue with very loyal customers and this refurbishment will provide them with much improved facilities.

"We'd like to thank the public in advance for their patience during the closure period and hope that the added benefits of the refurbishment work as well as the summer activities available at our other two sites will make up for the closure."

Keep informed of the progress of the works through the media, on the Aspirations Wellbeing and East Northamptonshire Council websites and on Facebook and Twitter."

Summer pleasures

By Catherine Burbage

One of summer's pleasures is picking a deliciously ripe, homegrown strawberry and eating it while it's still warm from the sun. Unfortunately, the slugs in my garden agree, so when we'd finished fighting over the few strawberries which had remained unscathed, the children suggested we bought some from a shop like normal people.

As we have some great, local strawberry producers who grow more varieties than the ubiquitous Elsanta, we went to Lutton (near Oundle) and bought them direct from the farm.

It's surprising how many strawberries we can get through just with good cream, but as the season wears on there are some which eventually remain unappealing at the back of the fridge. Similar to bananas, it is worth freezing strawberries if they're starting to go past their best and then use them in cooking. Smoothies make a fast breakfast by just whizzing together some milk, yogurt, strawberries, maybe a raw egg and a shake of cinnamon or a mint leaf; or put yogurt, whipped cream and frozen fruit in a food processor to make instant ice cream.

This recipe would make a refreshing, simple end to a barbecue and is ideal for using up strawberries which are going soft in places. If you prefer not to use alcohol, try a berry flavoured drink in place of the wine.

Gently heat the wine, sugar, cordial, orange zest and juice, star anise and pink peppercorns until the sugar is dissolved. Leave to cool and flavours to infuse.

Sieve the liquid (to remove orange zest etc.) into a blender and add 200g of hulled and chopped strawberries. Blend until smooth. A froth might form on top – if you don't like the look of it, allow the liquid to settle and skim off froth with a slotted spoon. Taste the liquid and add more sugar or liquid as you fancy (a drop of Pimm's might be nice in this as well!).

Prepare the remaining strawberries and chop into small pieces. Divide evenly between 4 individual serving dishes, pour the liquid over the top and finish with a generous spoonful of whipped cream.

For more information on this recipe have a look at my blog: www.nenevalleyfood.com

I'm a busy home cook who thinks it's really worth making a little extra effort so that myself and those I cook for can eat for joy, pleasure and lasting health every day. If you're a local food producer, have a cooking conundrum or need a bit of inspiration for a particular ingredient or occasion, do get in touch with me and I might be able to feature you in this column. My day in East Northants

Name: Cllr Gill Mercer

Organisation: East Northamptonshire Council

Job title: Chairman of East Northamptonshire Council

- How long have you lived and worked in East Northamptonshire?
38 years
- How would you describe a typical day?
I work for myself running a business, so I do spend some time on this each day. As Chairman, the day varies tremendously. For instance, recently I presented awards at Huxlow School for the Saving Lives on the Nene competition and after that I went on a tour of RAF Alconbury.
- What do you enjoy most about working in East Northamptonshire?
Being so close to the countryside. I come from Romford which was all built up, so I love all the green space and opportunities to enjoy the outdoors.
- What is your favourite place to visit in the district?
Stanwick Lakes – great walks, beautiful views and wildlife and the café does excellent cakes. I'm going to use this opportunity to plug www.nenevalley.net for places to visit, eat, drink and sleep. It's a useful site for visitors and locals.
- What does East Northamptonshire mean to you?
Friendly communities, pretty villages and bustling towns and beautiful countryside.
- Is there anything which would improve your life in the district?
A railway station in East Northamptonshire would be great for bringing more people into the district.
- What is your favourite food and drink?
I love fresh salmon and you can't beat a good cup of tea.

If you would like to feature in My day in East Northants please contact the editorial department on 01522 513515 or email news@nenevalleynews.co.uk

Cllr Gill Mercer

From the Chairman

It was a privilege and an honour to attend the Queen's Garden Party in June. The whole day was a wonderful experience, particularly the gardens which are beautiful and we were astounded that such greenery is so close to the traffic outside, yet so private and quiet.

We were also honoured to join the D Day commemoration in Northampton. It was good to pay our respects to those who fought for our freedom.

I was equally impressed with the RAF base at Alconbury, which laid on a tour for civic heads. The American forces are an important part of the community – they contribute millions to the economy of the area with sub-contracts etc. and use their fire fighting skills to help out when necessary if there are crashes on the A14.

A trip to Ringstead with the winners of the Saving Lives on the Nene competition was great fun and was another opportunity to congratulate the young people who created such stunning designs. We hope that this initiative will make people think twice about tampering with lifebelts which are provided at dangerous places on the river.

Rowell Fair was a special occasion, both for the 6am start and also because it was the hand over from Bob Denton, who had been bailiff for 35 years, to Alan Mills. The new bailiff, astride a magnificent horse, shared the reading of the proclamation at 11 pubs in the town. As the procession moved off, the halberdiers tussled for the staves to get the right to hold one the following year. It was also the 400th anniversary of the Maunsell family being at Rothwell Manor and 810 years since the town was given charter status.

It was also a new era for the Lord Lieutenant, the Queen's representative in Northamptonshire. Lady Juliet Townsend is retiring and Andy and I attended a garden party to mark this. Several hundred people climbed an ancient scaffold to have a celebratory photo taken. We were really glad that it took the weight of so many people!

I'm looking forward to the next few weeks with events to celebrate our forces. We will see RAF Alconbury get the Freedom of the Town in St Neots. There will be a parade of the Queens' Royal Lancers in Northampton, a band concert in St Neots for Armed Forces Day and a flag raising ceremony in Huntingdon. I will also be attending awards ceremonies at Moulton College and the University of Northampton. I'll tell you all about it in my next column.

New monthly farmers' market in Thrapston starts 6th September

Saturday 6th September will see the launch of a brand new monthly farmers' market, hosted in the small market town of Thrapston, East Northamptonshire. The market will run every first Saturday of each month and will be held along the High Street in the heart of the town. The market will run from 9am to 1pm.

The market will feature a range of stalls selling locally grown, reared and produced food and drink – all within as small a radius of Thrapston as possible. It will be a true farmers' market, aiming to meet the requirements of FARMA, which is the regulating body for farmers' markets in the UK. Sellers will have to be from the local area, as close to Thrapston as possible. They must be growing, producing or rearing the food and drink themselves – not 'buying it in'.

Products which have been made, like baked goods, meals and drinks, must use as many locally sourced ingredients as possible. This way, the shopper knows that the goods they are buying are truly local.

Thrapston Farmers' Market is being set up and run by a small, experienced team in Thrapston. The team is passionate about supporting small producers from the surrounding area and offering the local community a chance to buy fresh, local food straight from the person who grew it, reared or made it. A key aim is to create a lively community event every month, bringing everyone together in Thrapston town centre.

As this is a community-led market, all funds raised by the farmers' market will go back into promoting the event and supporting Thrapston town centre. Retailers and business owners themselves will be able to decide how they want profits to be spent. It might be in the form of new street furniture, plantings around the town, new signage or town promotions.

Charlotte Croser, chair of the organising committee and owner of Jollys Toys says: "Thrapston Farmers' Market is being run by a community group, for the community – those who live in and around the town, and those who work and run businesses here in Thrapston. We want the market to attract new shoppers to our town centre, which has a lot to offer in the way of independent shops, cafes and service offerings. It is important to the organising team that the market celebrates local food and drink and promotes new start-ups, but at the same time it complements and enhances what Thrapston offers every day of the week."

The organising team is hard at work sourcing local producers and has already confirmed a dozen fantastic stalls selling delicious products which are new to the market and right on the doorstep. The team is keen for Thrapston Farmers' Market to have an identity of its own, and for it to introduce new and exciting products to taste, buy and enjoy.

The Thrapston Farmers' Market organising team is still keen to hear from local producers, so if you have something special to offer please get in touch with the organising team by emailing: thrapstonfarmersmarket@inbox.com or calling 01832 358915.

Help to put children in touch with nature

The Wildlife Trust for Bedfordshire, Cambridgeshire and Northamptonshire is looking for enthusiastic and passionate individuals to deliver exciting and inspiring activities for pre-school aged children and their parents.

Irthlingborough Little Bugs Club was set up last year in partnership with the Irthlingborough Sure Start Children's Centre and they are looking for more volunteer leaders to help run these fun and friendly monthly sessions.

Little Bugs Club is part of the Wildlife Watch movement, which is the junior branch of the Wildlife Trust and one of the UK's leading clubs for young environmentalists. Sessions give pre-school children the opportunity to explore their natural surroundings and have their first experiences with wildlife that is right on their doorstep.

Louise Tuffin, Nene Valley Education and Community Manager at the Wildlife Trust said: "The sessions focus on all aspects of UK wildlife and past activities have included bug hunting, pond dipping, arts and crafts, songs and storytelling."

"To be a leader you need an interest and enthusiasm for wildlife and working with children, though you don't need to be a wildlife expert!"

Little Bugs Club takes place on the first Monday of each month at Irthlingborough Library between 1.30pm–3pm.

For more information contact Louise Tuffin on 01604 774043, email louise.tuffin@wildlifebcn.org or visit www.wildlifebcn.org

Time Trail – Twywell

Places of worship and their burial grounds often provide a good source of local and family history.

A few country churches also have connections with people of national importance. The 12th century St Nicholas Church in the small village of Twywell is one such church.

It has remains of Roman, Saxon, Norman and medieval architecture and artefacts; for instance Norman doorways, windows and font and a 13th century Easter Sepulchre.

In the churchyard is a headstone to Lewis Warren, who was killed at Slipton iron ore pits in 1881. He was 22 years old and his fellow workers erected the headstone in his memory. Iron ore had been extracted and smelted by the Romans but large-scale workings in this area date from the mid-19th century.

However, it is other events in the 19th century that are perhaps the most interesting in the long history of St Nicholas Church. In 1874

Horace Waller became Rector of Twywell. He was an anti-slavery activist, writer and as a member of the Universities' Mission to Central Africa had worked as a missionary.

He became a friend of the missionary and explorer Dr David Livingstone. After completing his medical training Livingstone went to Africa where he worked for over 30 years. His most famous exploration was to trace the source of the River Nile. When he died in 1873 his assistants Abdullah Susi and James Chuma, a former slave, were determined that he should be buried in England. They embalmed his body and wrapped it in bark.

After a hazardous 800-mile journey taking many months, they brought his body back to London. They also brought his journals to Rev Waller and he compiled and edited them.

The beautifully carved choir stalls in St Nicholas Church, installed as a memorial to Rev Waller, depict slaves being freed and African animals.

The Rev Waller was also a friend of General Gordon, often referred to as Gordon of Khartoum. The General served in the Crimea, China and the Sudan and mapped the Upper Nile.

Like Waller and Livingstone he was against slavery. The Bodleian Library, Oxford has numerous letters from him to Rev Waller. The General presented three stones from Calvary to St Nicholas Church and the church organ was dedicated to him.

My thanks to John Evans, Churchwarden for his help in writing this article.

Walk of Remembrance planned for Irthlingborough's Great War soldiers

The Irthlingborough War Memorial and the Memorial in St Peter's Church record the names of 151 men of this small town who made the supreme sacrifice in the First World War.

Between 2004 and 2008 members of the Historical Society successfully researched the story of each man and also collected photographs of the majority of them. This information is recorded in a leather-bound volume, which is perpetually on display in St Peter's Church.

As a tribute to those men, the Society will create a Walk of Remembrance along Irthlingborough High Street, around the Cross and up Finedon Road by displaying a small photographic memorial to each man. The memorials will be displayed in the windows of houses, shops and businesses, on the railings around Parsons Green and on trees leading to the War Memorial. They will be on display from Friday 18th July to Sunday 3rd August.

On Saturday 19th July from 10am to 2pm and Sunday 20th July from noon to 4pm the Society will be staging in St Peter's Church an exhibition '..... and then they were gone!' The archive photographs will follow the route from the Cross to the station taken by the first contingent of men who marched off from Irthlingborough to the Front on 6th August, 1914.

The exhibition will also be shown on Parsons Green on Saturday 2nd August as part of the Town Commemoration which is being led by Irthlingborough Town Council.

East Northamptonshire Tennis League

Corby Tennis Centre are closing in to claim the championship in Mixed Division One, a title they narrowly missed out on last season.

Two 8-0 wins against Thrapston B and Kettering B leaves them sixteen points clear, although Kettering A have games in hand.

Brother and sister Jack and Paige

Haworth took the plaudits in both matches, dropping only seven games throughout. Juliette Haworth/Craig Haworth were just as convincing against Kettering while newcomer Nancy Davison joined Haworth for another four-set haul over Thrapston.

Kettering A remained in contention with a 6-2 win against Thrapston A. Wayne Tideswell/Leah Milligan and Graeme Milligan/Nicky Evans both accounted for Adrian Way/Judith Wildman, but Mark Stockley/Vanessa Woodhead put in an excellent performance to half 0-6, 6-4 with Tideswell/Milligan and 7-6, 2-6 against Milligan/Evans.

With Thrapston B and Kettering B both languishing near the foot of the table a close encounter always looked likely and it was no surprise when honours finished even. Nick White/Jo White and Martin Welsh/Judith Wildman always had the upper hand against Adam Brown/Rosie Brown. However Jon Burrows/Judy Hills held their nerve to defeat White/White 6-2, 6-4 and Welsh/Wildman 6-3, 6-4.

In Mixed Division Two Burton Latimer B gained a well-earned draw against promotion favourites Ferrers & Rushden. Gareth Street/Tracey O'Reilly were in fine form beating Mike Cave/Sandy Letman 6-4, 6-4 and Connor Fairweather/Jill McTaggart 6-1, 6-3. Terry O'Reilly/Miriam O'Reilly were not so fortunate though losing 7-5,

Keep updated with East Northamptonshire Tennis League

6-1 to Cave/Letman and 7-5, 6-4 against Fairweather/McTaggart.

Oundle maintained their 100% record with a 7-1 victory over Thrapston C. John Weston made a rare appearance for Oundle and with partner Cynthia Fairley duly obliged winning all four sets. David Barton/Camila Sherwin beat Jim Arkell/Margaret Butler 6-0, 6-0 but had to be content with a 6-4, 6-7 half against Simon Hossack/Judith Wildman.

Chess Corner

By Derrick Sims

A few weeks ago I reported on a Grand Master game from the recent European Team Championship in Croatia. The scene was round six with Miso Cebalo of Croatia playing white against Eugeni Vasiukov of Russia.

Cebalo tempted Vasiukov into moving his King forward into an indefensible position leading to Vasiukov resigning after only 13 moves. This has now been topped and my spy on the world chess scene has informed me of a Grand Master game leading to resignation after 11 moves.

The scene was the chess super tournament held in Stavanger, Norway. The protagonists were the Italian, Fabiano Caruana and Norwegian, Magnus Carlsen, the current World Champion.

This was a blitz game played under tight time constraints. Fabiano decided to Castle as quickly as possible and in doing so made a basic error. Fabiano was playing black and on the seventh move he moved his Knight to 'a6'. There is a saying in the chess world that a Knight on the rim is dim; Caruana was about to prove this big time! While Caruana was concentrating on castling Carlson moved the Queen out into an attacking position on Fabiano's Rook. The coup de grâce came when Carlson took Fabiano's 'dim' Knight with his Bishop; to retake the Bishop he would have to expose the Rook to Carlson's Queen. At this level to go a piece down leaves no alternative but resignation.

For those familiar with chess notation I reproduce Fabiano's faux pas below:

1. d4 e6 2. e4 d5 3. Nd2 c5 4. Ng3 cxd4 5. Nxd4 Nf6 6. exd5 Qxd5 7. Nb5 Na6 8. Nc3 Qd8 9. a3 Be7 10. Qf3 O-O 11. Bxa6 Bl.

We are always pleased to welcome new members of all abilities to Rushden Chess Club. We meet up from 7.15pm onwards and are a friendly bunch.

Club/County chess info: rushdenchessclub.com and <http://www.norchess.lloydbunday.co.uk>.
