NEWS IN BRIEF

Change of principal at Rushden Academy

Mark Lester, Principal of Rushden Academy, has relinquished his position at the Academy having been off work for some time due to illness.

Lizzie Rowe, Deputy CEO of The Education Fellowship who sponsor the Academy, said: "We have supported Mark throughout the year to ensure that he could recover fully. We'd like to thank him for all his work at Rushden and wish him well for the future. We will be seeking to appoint a permanent Principal as soon as possible but in the meantime Mrs Jude Goodacre will continue as Acting Principal."

Parents and carers at the Academy were informed of these developments at the end of last week.

New Mule for Stanwick Lakes

The Ranger team at Stanwick Lakes were pleased to welcome the delivery of a multi-purpose 'Mule' vehicle recently, thanks to a £5,000 grant from the Eric Stanton Charitable Trust.

The money was given to the Rockingham Forest Trust, who manage Stanwick Lakes, to more quickly and easily gain access to all parts of the 750 acre site and continue their vital conservation work across the nature reserve.

STRIVE-ing for glory in the Dragon(flie)s' Den

Spire Homes have backed three tenants' bright business ideas with the trio collectively receiving £1,500 towards their businesses.

The grants were awarded following a Dragons' Den style presentation about their ideas, which have been refined over a 12-week business start-up course during which tenants could hone their business skills and build a brilliant business plan.

The Strive course was run by Enterprise Cube in partnership with Spire Homes, Daventry & District Housing and South Northants Homes, who each had entrepreneurial tenants taking part. In total, 18 tenants took part in the course. Experience ranged from people taking a chance on their skills and passion whilst others had already set up businesses and wanted support to expand.

The pitches were given to the six 'Dragonflies':

- Lynn Stubbs, Director of Business Services at Spire Homes
- Samantha Wylie, Head of Customer Services at Spire Homes.
- Paul Calland, Managing Director at South Northants Homes,
- Alan Humphrey, Chief Executive at Grand Union Housing Group,
- David Leathley, Tenant Board Director at Daventry & District

Housing,

• Rob Emery, Assistant Director at Daventry & District Housing
The three Spire Homes tenants who each received the full £500 grant were:

- Claire – her environmentally friendly domestic cleaning company, Clean & Green, has been going for four years and after a lot of success, is looking to expand into cleaning commercial premises with an expanded staff. The grant will go towards buying uniforms for staff, recruitment advertising and buying equipment. Spire Homes have also offered support from their HR team to help Claire in her personnel hunt.
- Denis – an experienced entrepreneur, Denis is still keeping busy at 82 by setting up an online skin cosmetics retailing company. The grant will be put towards setting up the website and purchasing stock.
- Nada – after looking for work for some time, Nada is taking things into her own hands and launching a pop-up Tunisian restaurant in the hopes of building up finances to buy some premises for a fully-fledged restaurant in Rushden. The grant will go towards buying pots and pans as well as training for HSE and food hygiene certification.

"We were really impressed with all the business ideas that people had come up with" said Lynn Stubbs, Director of Business Services at Spire Homes.

"During the pitches it was very clear that everyone is passionate about what they are doing and what they want to achieve; there are some really high aspirations and I hope that the course and our support will help our tenants achieve their goals."

"This is the first time Spire Homes have taken part in the Strive programme and we're very glad that we have done!" said Helen Mead, Customer Engagement Team Manager. "The tenants who've taken part have gotten so much out of the course. We're always looking for ways that we can make a difference for our tenants and this is a really unique way to support people. Helping our tenants into work is a big part of what we do. It can be really tough to go it alone setting up a business and by taking part in Strive we've been able to help our tenants realise their ambitions. A huge thank you also needs to go to Aaron Services and Keepmoat Property Services for their contribution towards our tenants' businesses; we're all looking forward to what next year's course!"

From the East Northamptonshire Chairman

I cannot believe that 2014 is over already. It has been a very busy year and very interesting. As I look back I have some wonderful memories of the last seven months as your Chairman. The most rewarding part of the job is meeting so many wonderful people around the district who do so much for the community.

Recently, I attended carol services in Market Harborough, Daventry, St Neots and Huntingdon, South Northants, Raunds and Rushden. It is good to see the support that these services get in their respective communities.

I love to see the children singing. It was a privilege to attend Sing for Serve, a carol service showcasing the children of Rushden schools raising money for Serve, a charity which does a fantastic job in Rushden and surrounding areas.

Rushden Hall was the perfect setting for a Victorian Christmas evening. Many people dressed for the occasion in Victorian costume and we were royally entertained by a juggler, magician and the RATS (Rushden Amateur Theatrical Society) with festive poems and stories.

A visit to the Christmas Market in Oundle meant lots of lovely produce to sample and I even got to play on the bongo drums – something I hadn't anticipated! I was there to promote the Police Crime Awareness initiative and support councillors Reichhold, Stearn and Vowles, who have used their Member Empowerment Fund to buy timer switches for residents to help protect their homes whilst away. These were being given out free at the market to residents.

My visit to the Royal Mail offices was an eye-opener and was fascinating to see the efforts made to deliver all your Christmas cards and parcels to loved ones all over the world.

I hope you all had a wonderful Christmas and New Year. This is a time for families and, like most people, I spent my time with my family. New Year was spent in Austria with my daughter and her family attending my grandson's christening. I hope that you have all had special times like this.

ENC Chairman, Cllr Gill Mercer

Don't fall foul of cold weather

With cold and icy weather not far away, it's important to be prepared and remind ourselves of safety advice in relation to snow and ice.

Snow and ice on footpaths can be hazardous, but the following points will help to reduce the chance of slip hazards on your property:

- Clear paths quickly: it's much easier to clear fresh, loose snow than hard, packed snow which has been walked on. If you clear snow quickly, the sunshine during the day should clear any ice on the ground, and you can then cover the path with salt before nightfall to stop it refreezing overnight.
- Keep steps and steep pathways clear: it's particularly important to clear snow and ice from steps and steep paths as these pose a greater risk – use extra salt on these areas if necessary.
- Use salt or sand, not water: using water to melt snow can result in black ice, which is invisible and very slippery. Table or dishwasher salt will work to clear ice – a tablespoon for each square metre you clear should be enough.

- Don't block other people's property: take care where you put the snow you have cleared from your own paths. Shovel the snow from the centre of the path to the sides, making sure not to block neighbours' paths or drains.
- Check on your neighbours: if you've got elderly or disabled neighbours, offer to clear their paths of snow and ice if you can, and check that they are alright in the cold weather.

STEER CLEAR OF FROZEN WATER

As the weather gets colder, it's also important to remember to stay away from frozen waterways and ensure that children and animals are kept away from the water's edge. Dog owners should take particular care to avoid throwing sticks or balls near to the ice.

If you see someone fall through the ice:

- Call the emergency services
- Do not attempt to go out on to the ice yourself.
- Tell the person to stay still to maintain heat and energy.
- Try finding something which will extend your reach, such as a rope, pole or branch.
- Throw the object out and, once ensuring you are stable on the bank either by lying down or having someone hold on to you, pull them in.
- If you cannot find something to reach with, try finding an object that will float and push that out to them.
- Ensure that you keep off the ice at all times during the rescue, continue to reassure the casualty and keep them talking until help arrives.

- Once the person has been rescued, keep them warm and take them to hospital even if they appear to be unaffected.

Dear Editor
Rushden Resident in your issue of 22nd November says that she has contacted Warwickshire and Northants Air Ambulance offering to donate saved bottle tops but "they don't want them". I also live in Rushden and donate mine to that same charity via a friend of mine who lives in Warwickshire. She has no problem with them being accepted.

I would be willing to collect them from Rushden Resident and take hers as well if she would still like them to go to this charity. I agree that local charities should benefit from our efforts.

Santa's little helpers do their 12 good Christmas deeds

Spire Homes and Keepmoat donned their Santa hats in the run-up to Christmas, to deliver their 12 Good Christmas Deeds. Those nominated by the community were whittled down to a chosen few.

First on Spire Homes' and Keepmoat's 'nice' list was Nina who runs Rush2the Den Youth Club in Rushden. She was nominated by Joanne, whose children attend the club, to receive a Christmas tree for people who use the hall for events to enjoy.

"Nina does so much for the community," said Joanne. "It's lovely to be giving her something to help make the club a bit more festive. When I saw that Spire Homes and Keepmoat were doing good deeds, I knew that they could help Nina get decorations; she'd mentioned it before but she wasn't sure how much she'd be able to get. Decorating the room will be a great activity that everyone can get involved with and I know that she's really grateful."

Another good deed was delivered to Hannah, who for the second year running opened up her house on Christmas to those in the area who are less fortunate.

Hannah was nominated by her neighbour, Kate. "Opening up your home on Christmas Day is such a generous thing to do. She does it all out of her own pocket and never asks for anything in return. I think the hamper is a lovely way to give Hannah some recognition and reward for her charitable deed." Spire Homes Chairman, John Farrar, presented Hannah with a cheese and wine hamper for her to enjoy.

Julie was the third recipient of a good deed. Having run Barnwell Youth Club for over 20 years. She was nominated by Sharon Boot, Customer Engagement Officer at Spire Homes, and received a bouquet of flowers. "We awarded Julie a grant earlier this year to help with the club and we've been really impressed with how well it's going. Julie's been working really hard over the last year to keep attendance high and make sure there is some money coming in so she can keep giving the children fun activities to do. She's done a brilliant job so we wanted to do something special for her."

The Monday Munch Club at Oundle Middle School was also on the good deed list. Mel submitted a good deed request for the club after seeing the 12 deeds in the paper. "We meet once a month to give people a nice roast dinner. We started in September 2013 and it's been really popular with the locals. It was lovely to get some chocolates from Spire Homes and Keepmoat for everyone; it may be small but we're very grateful, it's a lovely finishing touch."

Julie Baker, Community Liaison Manager at Keepmoat, said: "The Monday Munch Club is clearly very popular – 100 elderly or disabled people from in and around Oundle attend it every month and we think that's more than deserving of a good deed. We're glad everyone had a lovely meal and enjoyed the chocolates."

Later on, Santa's little helpers from Spire Homes and Keepmoat delivered another good deed to Sue who works for Serve but also volunteers her time at the hospital to give what help she can to patients as well as helping her mum and grandchildren. She received a bunch of seasonal flowers in recognition of her dedication to supporting others.

She was nominated by her mother, Marion: "Sue is always out and about helping people, it's hard to figure out when she actually has some time for herself! She really does go the extra mile and I'm delighted that she's received a good deed."

The organisers of the Rushden Swimming Club received several nominations from parents at the club, who wanted to give them something special for their dedication to teaching.

Helen, Alison, Karen and Lynda who coach teams were given bath sets and wine as a thank you and Chris, who gives up 15 hours a week to organise the club, on top of attending galas and swimming meets, was given a hamper of ales and festive food.

Em, one of several parents who nominated the team said: "There are nearly 100 children who attend the Swimming Club every week and these guys give up a lot of their time to coach the kids so we wanted to do something special for them. We think the gifts are a great way to help us show our appreciation for all their hard work. Everyone really enjoys going to the club which speaks volumes about how things are run."

The final deeds were planned for delivery on 16th December in Rutland. "We were finding it a little tough to get down to just 12 deeds from all the nominations, so [we] decided to do a few extra good deeds." said Sharon Boot. "This is a great way to recognise our unsung community heroes and spread some extra Christmas cheer, so we wanted to give out as much as we could."

"It's been great giving out these deeds," said Julie Baker. "There are so many people who deserve to be recognised for their hard work and we're very pleased to be continuing our work with Spire Homes to make a difference where we work."

WOULD YOU LIKE TO JOIN HAYLEY NADINE DANCE ACADEMY IN ITS 10TH YEAR?

Our well-established dance academy has been going from strength to strength over the last nine years! With pupils working up to the standard where they are being accepted into reputable stage schools such as Stella Mann, and furthering their education. We are delighted that so many of our pupils continue working hard to achieve their dream.

We are delighted to be able to offer such a variety of subjects from ballet, tap and modern to musical theatre, street and also Irish! We take students from as young as two-and-a-half years all the way up to school leavers, and some even stay longer.

Our teachers have all worked in the profession and studied in top stage schools such as Italia Conti, London!

We feel you can learn so much from people who have been in the industry and can pass on so much knowledge – with added bonuses when we get our friends out of West End shows such as the Lion

King, Starlight Express, or 42nd Street to come and give workshops to our students. The children really do get spoiled by such talent coming in to teach them!

We like to showcase each year, with our students working towards not only our end of year show, which is held at The Lighthouse Theatre, but dance festivals held across the county and other showcases such as at The New Theatre Oxford.

There is never a quiet time at our studio, which is always full of enthusiasm and encouragement to take each one of our students and lead them along their own path of growth – whether this be for their confidence or to improve their technical ability.

Some students just come for fun whilst for others dance develops into wanting it as a career but each individual student is important to us.

You should come along and be part of a fabulous academy where dreams really are at your feet. Dream, Believe and You Will Achieve: this is our motto!

Classes are held from Mondays to Thursdays at Manor School in Raunds.

We have limited spaces available so please call 01933 625078 or 07523434407 or email us through our website www.danceacademyshowcase.com for our information pack. We hope to meet the young stars of tomorrow.

Ferdi's Kitchen

By José Ferdi Tavares – ferdis.kitchen@gmail.com

- 1 tbsp butter
- 100g mascarpone
- 100ml crème fraîche (alternative to mascarpone)
- 1 tbsp Parmesan cheese finely grated (optional)
- 1L light chicken stock
- 2 tbsp chopped flat-leaf parsley
- 1 tbsp chopped chives
- Salt and ground black pepper

- Instructions
- Break the cauliflower into florets and cook in the chicken stock until tender – approximately 10 minutes.
- Remove from the stock with a slotted spoon and set aside to dry.
- Cook the potato in the same stock until tender – approximately 15 minutes. Add a bit more boiling water if needed.
- Whilst the potatoes are cooking, place the cauliflower in a bowl and puree with a stick blender or blend in a food processor until smooth.
- Add the mascarpone or crème fraîche and stir in.
- Once the potatoes are cooked, remove from stock and hand mash or mash with a potato ricer. Don't mash with a blender as this tends to make the potato gloopy.
- Mix the cauliflower and potato together.
- Add the butter, Parmesan (optional), parsley and season to taste with salt and black pepper.
- Stir until well mixed and the mash is smooth.
- Sprinkle with chopped chives.
- If you are serving the mash later, don't sprinkle the chives on until the mash is reheated. A minute or two in a microwave oven is a good way to re-heat.

Chef's notes:

I have also made it with cauliflower on its own, which was lovely and light. Also try the recipe by adding broccoli for a pleasingly vivid green mash, or replace the potato with celeriac, which gives it a wonderful anise flavour that is perfect with seafood.

Cauliflower & Potato Mash – Serves 4–6

I was wanting a lighter and lower-carb alternative to regular mash and started experimenting with a variety of vegetables. This recipe hit the spot. It is full of flavour and much lighter than just a potato-only mash.

Ingredients

- 500g cauliflower (approx. ½ cauliflower)
- 500g floury potatoes peeled and cubed

Calling any 16–17 year olds or their parents. You may be interested in a very exciting scheme called the National Citizen Service. It is a brilliant and life-changing offer represented locally by the Groundwork Trust.

National Citizen Service (NCS) is open to all 16 and 17 year olds in England.

It helps you build your skills for work and life, while you take on new challenges and meet new friends.

It runs in the spring, summer and autumn. You'll have a short time away from home and take part in a team project that will help your community.

NCS brings together young people from different backgrounds and helps them develop greater confidence, self-awareness and responsibility. It encourages personal and social development by working on skills like leadership, teamwork and communication.

Participants develop a social action project to deal with a local issue they're passionate about, and spend time putting the project into action in their community.

Oundle School's Frobenius Organ celebrates 30 years

The Music Department at Oundle School is extremely fortunate to have the Frobenius Organ in the heart of the School, located in the School's Chapel which was built as a memorial to staff and pupils who lost their lives in the First World War.

Built by Frobenius of Denmark in 1984, the inaugural recital was given by the legendary Carlo Curley in January 1985.

Director of Music, Quentin Thomas commented: "We are celebrating fine craftsmanship and the diverse uses our Frobenius instrument offers in the form of six recitals that encompass the 'straight organ recital', via organ duets and organ concertos, to works written for organ and brass, and the much-loved Snowman with Organ and Narrator. We conclude by launching our appeal to clean and restore the stop heads and display case. Thomas Trotter comes to Oundle to offer an Open Masterclass and Recital, preceded by a talk on the design and installation of our Frobenius Organ by James Parsons."

Oundle School's Music Department is a vibrant place with around 900 music lessons being taught each week, over 30 ensembles, bands and orchestras rehearsing each week, well over 150 performances a year, with regular tours, musicals and recordings.

Recent events include performing Mahler's No 8 at the Royal Festival Hall, conducted by Bernard Haitink, and alongside the New London Orchestra at St John Smith's Square. The school's musicians have recently been working with Nicholas Daniel, Simon Channing, the SKAMPA Quartet, Lewis Kaplan, Francesca DeGo and Francesca Leonardi with the Chamber Orchestra performing Mendelssohn's Concerto for Piano and Violin. There are many forthcoming concerts and performances.

Oundle School's partnership with The Royal College of Music was launched in January 2012 with the aim of enabling talented musicians from Oundle to work with RCM professors and students for the mutual benefit of both institutions. Professors from RCM give masterclasses and judge the School's annual Hepburn Music Competition.

Warwick Primary School pupils support Wellingborough's Daylight Centre this Christmas

Pupils at Warwick Primary School spent two weeks collecting food to take to the Daylight Centre and Wellingborough and District Foodbank. They were delighted to have amassed several boxes full of jars, packets and tins of food to be distributed to help families in particular need this Christmas.

The idea, originated by members of the Parents' Council, was eagerly taken up by the children on the School Forum. Parent Suzanne House said: "We thought it would be nice to help other families who might struggle at Christmas. It's a great way to teach children that some people are not as fortunate as them and that it's just as nice to give as to receive."

Katie, 11 years old, Chair of the Children's Council, said: "It's an amazing idea, easy to administer and great for those who are struggling over the festive season." Vice Chair, Zara, 11 years old, said: "Not everybody will be looking forward to Christmas shopping for gifts, for some families putting food on the table is the biggest challenge." Kye, 10 years old, added: "I agree it's good for us to think of others and not just ourselves. If we can help even a few families we can feel proud of our achievement."

Katie summed it up by saying, "I've loved watching children arriving at school with their contributions. My muscles have grown collecting from the classes each day! Everybody has pulled together with a common goal to make a real difference."

Bill Hoten, Principal, said: "I'm so impressed by the incredible effort the children and school community have put into this Christmas project. Not only have they collected a significant amount of food, the children have learnt again the importance and value of giving and how good it feels to think of and do something special for others in need."

MyClub Lotteries set to rekindle community spirit

A new Oundle lottery scheme, aimed at bringing communities together with local business and sports groups has recently been launched.

MyClub Lotteries has been devised by Oundle businessman Aaron Mildren and provides local sporting and social clubs the ability to raise funds whilst also offering lottery participants an additional incentive of discounts through local independent retailers.

Director, Mr Mildren said: "This local initiative not only allows local sports and social clubs to raise funds collectively, but also enables participants to invest in their community. This means that participants not only benefit from a chance to win substantial cash amounts in the lottery draw but also to interact with their local retailers, through a cheaper pint at the local or a reduced price for a steak at the local butcher, for example.

"For local businesses, this initiative is a great way for them to further contribute to the local community and help keep that interest in the local high street. All they need to provide is a small discount to Lottery Card Participants and in return they get great publicity locally, adjoined with an increase of business revenue."

For lottery ticket purchasers, a simple £7 per month subscription provides entry into a weekly draw and discounts on over 30 local businesses in the Oundle area, including pubs, restaurants and shops. Lottery cards are available from local leisure and sports clubs, although you do not have to be a member to take part.

For further information on this story or MyClub Lotteries, please contact Aaron Mildren on 01832 771835 or via email at info@myclublotteries.com. There is also a bespoke website at www.myclublotteries.com

Bad weather not bad driving

With winter approaching drivers need to remember that colder, sometimes icy conditions can lead to dangers on the road.

Drivers are advised to prepare for journeys by checking the weather forecast and traffic news for current conditions to ensure they are ready for any emergency that may arise. Drivers are also urged to start checking for problems with their vehicles now before they happen in winter :

- Add anti-freeze to the radiator of your car
- Keep your battery fully charged
- Make sure your car has had a service and is well maintained
- Make sure the lights are working and are clean
- Check that your tyres have the correct amount of air in them, and have plenty of tread depth
- If your blades on your windscreen wipers are worn then change them

- Clear your windows and mirrors so that it is easier to see out. The glare of the low winter sun can make it difficult to see through dirty windscreens

Keep an emergency kit in your car which should contain:

- Ice-scraper and de-icer
- Torch
- Warm clothes and blanket
- Food and drink
- Boots
- First-aid kit
- Battery jump leads
- Spade – to dig your car out of snow

If weather conditions are that severe, the best advice is to stay off the road. Should you need to drive then always follow the advice given and remember bad weather doesn't mean bad driving.

Nene Valley News – Make Believe News

Competition winners' stories

First in the 10–12 age group, Sammy Harrison aged 10. Judges comments: 'A populist topic taken to the extreme – potential to become a fiction/horror author combining good visual effects as well as a topical subject to great effect.'

MEERKATS OVERRUN TOWN

World security forces are coming together today to discuss a recent infestation of evil Meerkats. The infestation started only a week ago after six Meerkats were being delivered to London Zoo by cargo plane. The animals managed to escape using force by hijacking the entire plane and landing it in Birmingham airport. Security forces had to negotiate with the Meerkats after they threatened to kill the pilot. In return for a tank the Meerkats let the pilot free.

"It was a very distressing experience," says Mike Johnson, pilot of the aircraft. "They all had crowbars and baseball bats." Luckily no one was hurt in the incident.

Unfortunately, the Meerkats have also raided a G4 summit meeting that included many world leaders. They are currently being held hostage and ransom notes have been sent out. Security forces have now assessed the situation as critical. The Meerkat forces have also joined forces with various terrorist organisations such as the Italian Mafia. They are armed and dangerous, and don't approach them. If you see one of the Meerkats, call the police on 999.

These notorious Meerkats not only have the brawn, but the brains as well! The Meerkats have been raiding science labs to create a gas that turns everyone into Meerkats. We recommend you stay inside at all times and try to have the least amount of ventilation possible. A message from home security also recommends that you arm yourselves. Rolling pins or even a stick. Anything that you can find. Keep your eyes peeled, readers, there are Meerkats hiding everywhere.

This story by Owain Derbyshire was first in the 13–15 group. The judges said:

'A very strong story line presented in compact but expressive prose with a surprising twist at the end.'

SURVIVOR FINDS ARTEFACT. RUINS FINALLY NAMED.

As we know life since the fall has been hard. Technically there is no one left alive that remembers what happened. Only rumours are left. The old and mysterious ruins, of what used to be a town had kept many secrets from us until now. The streets remain buried in thick snow, the temperatures too cold to survive in howling winds that never rest.

Our colony is deep underground and hidden from above by the snow covering it; it is warm and safe, unlike the desolate and empty streets of the weathered ruins above. It is also full of life, inhabited by hundreds of people commonly referred to as 'The survivors'.

On the day of my discovery I woke to the friendly smile of Celina, my life partner, her hand stroking the dark hair upon my head. I gave a quick smile, washed and dressed in my clothes, jeans, T-shirt and many thick layers of jumpers and socks. This day was set to be momentous but I was yet to know.

This complex was originally an old storage area, the town above had once kept everything here from clothes to tinned food, after the grange quarry had emptied out, leaving tunnels pre-dug into the stone work. So when the fall happened it became a safe haven that provided everything to support a small community. Life down here was boring, but safe for those that obeyed the rules.

My job was hunting above ground; we took anything and everything we could find to feed the survivors that remained. My job was more a pleasure than a chore as I would occasionally look up to the stars above, a true beauty to behold, when all you normally see is a ceiling of chiselled rock.

This day was no different as the gate door was opened, normally heavily guarded and bolted at all times to prevent colonists from leaving and predators from coming in, and four of us Jack, Celina, Ben and me, John, ventured out into the wilderness.

Freezing wind whipped across my cold and pale cheek as we split up to find as much food as possible each of us heading in a different direction than the other. I walked for hours but I found nothing.

Then suddenly, crunch, I turned around and a blizzard met me. I dove for shelter in an old pipe as the blizzard howled over me. As it passed I looked around and realised I was lost. I walked seeking landmarks and stumbled over a piece of metal that had laid preserved deep in the snow. I dug the mysterious metal object out; as metal can be used for many things in the complex and can be valuable. It was then I noticed the old writing on its surface along with a picture of a tall rocket shaped building. I mouthed the words in wonder reading it aloud. The ruins finally had a name... 'Raunds'.

Chess corner

By Derrick Sims

The Christmas period was a busy time for the club, having entertained Rushden Academy in the Intergenerational Chess Challenge during November/December. This gave us an opportunity to play our two youngest players in a competitive situation.

Nine-year-old Lily Boulton has been a regular player at the club for some time and displays an enthusiastic approach to the game. Under the coaching of Club Secretary Nik Puryer she is showing some promise, even managing two draws in her games against the Rushden Academy.

An even younger player is Fortis Diksas who, although only a recent addition to the Club, is showing a steady and thoughtful approach to the game. It was good experience for him to play against the much older opponents from Rushden Academy. The Junior section of the Club is now starting to show some strength in depth which bodes well for the future.

Rushden B again travelled to Northampton, this time to play Chessmates C in the League. The Northampton Club fielded a strong team, with most of their players being higher graded than Rushden's. They were in for a shock with Rushden pulling out all the stops to produce a 4-1 victory.

Nik Puryer played well to draw against John Warnes on board 1 and board 2 produced an unusual game in that Dave Curran and Keith Bristow managed to play the whole game without the loss of a single piece, and both players ended up equal on time. Captain Bob Ellam played a bold move in sacrificing a piece to gain advantage and an ultimate win. Rushden's draw-meister, Jeff Owen shocked everyone with a blitzkrieg performance to beat Reg Tomalin. Newish boy, Tom Murts continues his winning way having only lost one of his last five league games. Rushden now move into second position in League II, just behind East Northamptonshire rivals, Oundle.

Tue 9th Dec, B-Div:

Chess Mates C 1-4 Rushden B

- Bd2: D. Curran (U) ½ K. Bristow (117)
- Bd3: M. Buswell (114) 0-1 B. Ellam (106)
- Bd4: R. Tomalin (90) 0-1 J. Owen (100)
- Bd5: T. Bayes (81) 0-1 T. Murts (64)

Chess is a game for people of all abilities, disabilities and lifestyles. Rushden Chess Club loves welcoming new members, so do come along to a meeting if you're interested in playing chess in a very friendly environment – for details please call the Club Secretary on 07810 474969, or visit the club website <http://rushdenchessclub.com> and for the NCA (County Association) it's <http://www.norchess.lloydbunday.co.uk>.

New chess club in Oundle

There's a new chess club in Oundle, which meets at the Library on the first and third Wednesday each month during school term time.

Open to players of all ages and skill levels, the club is the brainchild of two young volunteers, Adithya Menon and Kyle Lo, who are pupils at Oundle School. "Both of us love playing chess and we quickly realised the library was the perfect place to start a new chess club," said Adithya. "We're happy to teach people to play, as well as organise matches."

The club's youngest player is just eight years old and the oldest member (so far!) is Jack Duckworth, aged 81. He said: "You never stop learning with chess and I've enjoyed some cracking games here. The Library is a great place to meet. It's all very well playing chess on a computer but nothing beats facing your opponent across a board."

Adithya and Kyle are delighted that the club is growing and are keen to welcome new members.

The Chess Club's first meeting in 2015 will be on Wednesday 7th January at 3.30pm and the club will meet every fortnight after that.
