Feeling inspired by the Women's Tour?

Cycling fever has gripped Northamptonshire since the Women's Tour stage 3 peloton set off from Oundle and finished in Kettering. If you fancy getting on your bike and heading into the beautiful Northamptonshire countryside, try the Greenway.

The Greenway is a traffic free cycling and walking route that connects towns and villages from Rushden right through to Thrapston. It takes you through Higham Ferrers, Irthlingborough, Stanwick, Ringstead, Denford and Islip.

Thrapston looks into the past

Children have been dressing up as Victorians and making lace, while adults are discovering more about Thrapston's heritage through old photographs, a Thrapston 'Crime Walk' and a storytelling performance.

The Trading Places project has been funded by the Heritage Lottery to breathe new life into the traditional crafts of the Nene Valley and connect communities with their local history. The project, which is managed by the Rockingham Forest Trust, has been working in towns and villages along the valley, and Thrapston is the latest community to benefit.

In May, children from Thrapston Primary School learnt all about clothing in the town in the late 19th century and also had a go at traditional skills, including making lace with the local U3A lace makers. The children enjoyed dressing up in caps and bonnets then teamed up with photographers from Thrapston Heritage to recreate Victorian photographs of the town. The children looked just like their ancestors, thanks to the town's U3A Sewing Group and Trading Places volunteers, who made many of the clothes for the children to wear.

Thrapston Heritage have also been out and about taking pictures of street scenes and comparing them with Victorian photographs of the same scene, as part of the 'Looking into the Past' photography project. Both sets of photographs were put on display at the Thrapston Charter Fair by Thrapston Heritage, and many of the children who were in them visited the stand and loved seeing themselves as Victorians. If you missed them at the Charter Fair, there is still time to see the photographs as they are now on display at Thrapston Library.

Neil Busby of Thrapston Heritage said: "This has been a fascinating project to work on with the teams from Trading Places, members of the U3A group and the school children. It really has given us an interesting insight into Thrapston's history in the Victorian era."

It's not too late to get involved as there are two interesting heritage events hosted by Trading Places still to come. Internationally acclaimed performance storyteller Dominic Kelly will be telling captivating stories about Thrapston's past at a free event on Wednesday 8th July at 7pm in Thrapston Primary School's open air theatre. Then the following night, Thursday 9th July at 7.30pm, join Dr Drew Gray, senior lecturer in the History of Crime at the University of Northampton, for a walk around the town to learn more about some of the most fascinating and intriguing crimes that took place in Victorian Thrapston.

Booking is essential for both of these events. To book your place email tradingplaces@rfrtrust.org.uk or ring 01933 625527. To find out more about Trading Places, visit Facebook/Trading Places Nene Valley.

Dear Editor
TO ALL OUR FRIENDS IN BARROWDEN AND AROUND

Many of you will have already seen the new Friends of Fineshade website dedicated to enjoying and protecting Fineshade Wood. It's easy to enjoy the wood at the moment but there's a serious element of 'protecting' going on too (see for example this section <http://www.fineshade.org.uk/#!is-it-a-sssi/cj8>). Since Forest Holidays' surveyors are working regularly in the wood we can presumably expect another predatory planning application at some stage. It therefore makes sense to build a solid base of supporters using the website, Twitter and Facebook.

One particular area of the website we'd like to expand is the history and heritage of Fineshade – rather an interesting project as there has never been a village here!

Topics could include: the history of the wood as part of Rockingham Forest, Fineshade Abbey, the history of the farmed land and the farm house(s), the creation, use and closure of the railway line, the coming of the Forestry Commission, collecting memories from the mid-20th century onwards.

So we are looking for anyone with an interest in local history to help with research, writing, and capturing people's memories. Then we'll be able to put it all on the website for the world to enjoy!

If you are at all interested in helping with this project please email friends@fineshade.org.uk

Genealogy jottings

My former brother-in-law was an enthusiastic family historian, following the Pearson line back through the years.

He eventually traced them back to hill farmers in Cumbria and took his family on holiday there so as to explore the area where his ancestors once lived.

Wandering round the local churchyard, he found the place where a several great grandparent was buried according to the church's burial records. Alas, it was just a patch of grassed over earth; no headstone or other memorial. He was rather sad at this, having found this person in the censuses and knowing that they had had such a hard life, farming in the bleak hills of northern England. So, he contacted the church authorities and arranged for a local stonemason to erect a headstone in order that this person had a memorial for future generations to see.

Upon returning home, he was checking through his notes for a different ancestor and realised that he had not obtained any certificates relating to the Cumbrian farmer. He found the correct reference numbers and sent off for birth, marriage and death certificates from the General Register Office (GRO). Upon receipt of these, he realised that there were two Pearson families in the area at that time – and he had been following the wrong one! An expensive mistake to make as the headstone that he had purchased was now marking the grave of a complete stranger and not the ancestor that he thought.

A valuable but costly lesson was learned. No-one ever said that following your family history was cheap, but by spending £9.25 on a certificate you make sure that you are following the right line rather than making assumptions and it costing you more later on!

Chance to comment on changes to the strategic plan for North Northamptonshire

The North Northamptonshire Joint Committee has agreed to submit its new Joint Core Strategy to the Government for examination by an independent Inspector.

This is a key stage in the preparation of a new strategic plan for the area covering Corby, East Northamptonshire, Kettering and Wellingborough. It will involve public hearings in the autumn, to allow the Inspector to test whether the plan has been prepared properly in line with national policy and guidance.

Before this happens, the Joint Committee is consulting on some final changes that it wants to make to the plan. These 'Focused Changes' seek to address issues raised in response to consultation on the Pre-Submission JCS in January and March 2015, or to otherwise improve the plan. The consultation runs until 27th July. The consultation and all relevant information (including the form for making representations) can be viewed on the JPU's website www.nnjpu.org.uk, the main offices of the district and borough councils, and in North Northamptonshire libraries.

Responses to the Focused Changes, together with all previous representations on the Pre-Submission Plan, will be provided to the Inspector to consider as part of the examination of the Plan.

The Focused Changes don't change the overall strategy but clarify or refine aspects of the plan. Some of the most significant changes are to:

- clarify how the impact of development on internationally important wildlife habitats in the Upper Nene Valley Gravel Pits will be managed;

- refine the policy relating to renewable energy projects including the Kettering Energy Park, to ensure that the full range of impacts are considered;
- provide a new policy for the Rothwell North Sustainable Urban Extension, taking forward the principles identified in previous local planning work and in the current planning application.

Cllr Andy Mercer, Chairman of the Joint Committee, explains the importance of this stage in the process: "The Joint Core Strategy is the culmination of many years work. The Joint Committee has considered carefully the feedback from local communities, developers, infrastructure providers and other interested parties at every stage of the process. The Focused Changes are the last 'tweaks' to improve the plan before it is submitted for examination. We now need to push on as quickly as possible to complete the process, ensuring that North Northamptonshire has an up-to-date strategic plan in place."

Please contact the Joint Planning Unit by email info@nnjpu.org.uk or by phone 01832 742358 if you have any queries about this consultation.

Flower show draws crowds

The hard work and artistic efforts of churchwarden Keith Gubbins and his team, resulted in the recent St Peter's Church Raunds Flower Festival being a huge success.

Hundreds of people from near and far came to admire the dramatic and beautiful flower displays, to relax and enjoy a delicious lunch, and to choose items from the attractively displayed craft and produce stalls.

Brownies from Raunds Methodist Church also did an excellent trade selling the attractive items they had helped to prepare.

To the delight of the organisers, this excellent and enjoyable event raised a magnificent £3,500 all of which will help pay for general church expenses. The vicar, Reverend Shena Bell, said she very much appreciated the efforts of everyone involved in making this event so successful.

King's Cliffe Heritage Centre

Higham Ferrers submits Neighbourhood Plan

Higham Ferrers Neighbourhood Plan Steering Group (on behalf of Higham Ferrers Town Council) has now submitted its neighbourhood development plan (the 'Higham Ferrers Neighbourhood Plan') to East Northamptonshire Council for examination. This is the first Neighbourhood Plan in East Northants to have reached this stage.

The Neighbourhood Plan, submitted on 11th June, includes a local vision and objectives, together with a draft policies map and a range of plan policies regarding housing development; community facilities; town centre and employment; design and environment, and transport and communications.

The Plan has a distinct remit, to provide a framework for sustainable development across Higham Ferrers parish for the next 20 years.

For the next stage in the process, East Northamptonshire Council is carrying out a procedural consultation, regarding whether the Higham Ferrers Neighbourhood Plan fulfils five "basic conditions"; "tests" that the Plan needs to pass.

An independent examiner will be appointed to assess whether the plan meets these conditions. The examiner may need to make changes to the Neighbourhood Plan so that it complies.

Assuming that the Plan passes, the council will hold a referendum later this year or early in 2016 to determine whether the Higham Ferrers Neighbourhood Plan should be adopted as the detailed (non-strategic) part of the statutory development plan for the town.

For further information regarding the Higham Ferrers Neighbourhood Plan, please contact:

Rushden Swimming Club at Regional Championships

Rushden Swimming Club have had a record number of swimmers qualify for this year's Regional Championships.

During the weekend of 2nd/3rd May, Molly Britchford and Marcus Eaton took part in the 15/over competition. Both swimmers swam well with Molly making the 16 years 50m butterfly final and finishing in 6th place and also first reserve in the 16 years 50m freestyle final.

The weekend also saw a first appearance for Rushden, in the women's 14-16 years 4x100m freestyle relay, and although finishing last, Amber Bales, Philipa Kabi, Freya Cole and Molly Britchford put in a fantastic performance.

The Club's younger swimmers Louis Boot, Nathan Jones and Brett Davies competed over two weekends 30th/31st May and 6th/7th June. All three put in fantastic performances, with Louis making the 14 years 50m backstroke final and finishing 6th, Brett finishing 5th in the 14 years 200m IM final, a reserve in the 100m butterfly final and an amazing 3rd in the 200m butterfly final. Nathan just missed out on finals for his events.

Rushden also had three other swimmers qualify for Regional Champs - Freya Cole, Jack Britchford and Ian Yarwood - who were unable to make it.

STSR Automotive Refreshers

STSR Automotive Refinishers in Rushden has seen a busy May and June. Owner Simon Tarbox says: "Since leaving a motor industry career that spans over 25 years, to start up on my own, I haven't stopped!"

STSR Automotive Refinishers bridges the gap between the customer and the long process involved in claiming after a small bump or scrape. Simon can repair most damage for less than your insurance excess.

The costs of running a vehicle have grown, and insurance excesses are so high that people are not claiming. The addition of an exuberant excess payment along with potentially losing their No Claims Discount means that people are often in fear of an increased renewal premium.

Dented panels, scratches and chips, accident and vandal damage, bumper scuffs and colour correction, damaged alloy wheels and much more can all be repaired at your home or work address.

Any vehicle can be transformed with a professional valet and if you're selling your car, removing the dents, dings and scratches could greatly improve its value and saleability.

STSR are running a special promotion for readers of Nene Valley News and are offering £10 off your first repair with this advert for all new customers.

Former Raunds Mayor presents donations

During her year as Mayor of Raunds (2014/2015), Louisa Thomas chose to support two main charities and recently each received a cheque for £850.

At the presentation, Canine Partners, whose mission is to train dogs to assist people with disabilities to enjoy a greater independence and a better quality of life, were represented by David Day, whose working dog Crunchie does just that for him, and Belinda Day who is a Puppy Parent for Canine Partners. Natascha Green and Maxine Horn represented the National Autistic Society Northamptonshire Outreach Team, which supports young adults in assisted living, enabling the young adults to start learning and working towards independent living, providing the help and support needed to enable them to move away from the family home.

Donations were also received by two Raunds churches, St Peter's and the Methodist Church. Louisa stressed that she wanted to thank all the people who helped and donated to her charities during her Mayoral year.

School inspires young scientists

From fruit batteries to painting with maggots!

On 4th June, Oundle School welcomed 56 pupils from seven local primary schools (Oundle and Kings Cliffe Middle School, Gladstone Primary School, Castor CE Primary School, Brigstock Lathams CE School, Exeter Primary School, Woodnewton Primary School and Studfall Junior School) to its SciTec science facilities to take part in a Gifted and Talented science event.

This annual event aims to highlight the importance of practical science by delivering hands-on experiments across all three sciences to visiting children. Experiments included playing with maggots (Biology), investigating fruit batteries (Physics) and making Coca Cola (Chemistry), enabling the young pupils to get a taste of higher level practical science whilst at the same time retaining the fun element which is so important in maintaining an interest.

Emma Wilkinson from Woodnewton Primary School said: "The children had a brilliant day and thoroughly enjoyed all of the activities."

Angie Alloway from Studfall Junior School said: "The children were simply buzzing, what a wonderful day."

Mark Ratchford, Headmaster of Castor CE Primary School said: "Our pupils all came back to school very enthused! My gratitude to the science team at Oundle for making them feel welcome and inspiring them to look forward to secondary science."

Head of Science at Oundle School, Oli Peck, commented: "If we are serious about producing the scientists of tomorrow, it is important to start investing in our young people today. Getting primary school pupils enthusiastic about science through practical work is an excellent way to develop their love not only of science, but also of learning."

AFC Rushden and Diamonds supports Cransley Hospice

The AFC Rushden and Diamonds Fundraising Team recently presented a cheque for £500 to Cransley Hospice.

The money was raised at Quiz Nights in memory of Ken Dobbs, who used to run these events until he was diagnosed with cancer. The team said: "He spent his final days at Cransley and was so well looked after by the doctors and staff.

"This is a fitting tribute to a very dear friend of AFC Rushden and Diamonds and we will continue to raise more funds in his memory of the coming years."

Volunteer Befrienders needed

Nene Valley Community Action is appealing for volunteers to help them with their Befriending Service.

Supported by Northamptonshire Community Foundation, NVCA are looking for people to visit elderly and frail adults in their own homes who may be isolated from the community.

Volunteers would need to have a sympathetic ear and a caring nature, be able to maintain client confidentiality and be reliable. The minimum commitment would be approximately two hours per week. NVCA would provide initial training for the volunteer, ongoing back up and travel expenses.

Anyone who is interested in supporting this much needed programme should contact NVCA to arrange a one-to-one informal chat about the opportunity by telephoning 01933 396382/313526.

Music diploma success

Seven Oundle pupils, Matthew Ho (18), Francis Yiu (16), Fin Stowers Veitch (17), Charlotte Ma (16), Miles Aho (18), Ed Willey (18) and Tom Arnold (18) have recently been awarded music diplomas.

Matthew gained a distinction in his viola DipABRSM. Francis and Fin's Dip ABRSM diplomas are for violin and Charlotte's is for piano. Miles gained an ATCL piano diploma. Ed and Tom gained Rock School diplomas on electric bass and electric guitar respectively.

Considered to be the equivalent of the standard expected in the first year of an undergraduate music degree, the diplomas are a significant achievement. The pupils can now use the letters after their names, wear an academic gown with an elegant hood and will be allocated UCAS points.

Matthew, who has played the viola for five years since starting on the violin eleven years ago, gained a distinction in his viola DipABRSM.

Francis, who gained a DipABRSM diploma in violin, has played the instrument for 10 years and also plays the piano.

Fin, who also gained a DipABRSM diploma in violin, has been playing for 11 years and also plays the piano.

Charlotte has played the piano since she was around six years old and gained her DipABRSM diploma.

Miles gained an ATCL piano diploma, having been playing the piano for 10 years. He also plays the viola, organ and the guitar, as well as taking singing lessons.

Ed gained a Rock School diploma in electric bass, having played the bass guitar since he was 11. He also plays the piano, viola and sings.

Ed commented: "I enjoy composing and singing greatly, and hope to continue these at university and beyond along with my bass playing."

Last but by no means least, Tom also gained a Rock School diploma. He has been playing the electric guitar for eight years and played 'Satch Boogie' by Joe Satriani, 'Texas Flood' by Stevie Ray Vaughan, 'I Remember Wes' by George Benson, 'Sultans Of Swing' by Dire Straits and 'Song of the Wind' by Carlos Santana. He is currently studying A levels in Maths, Latin, French, and Spanish and hopes to read Modern Languages at UCL next year where he plans to continue playing the guitar, both acoustic and electric, in London.

Director of Music, Quentin Thomas said: "All seven pupils deserve our warmest congratulations for fulfilling these significant achievements that represent the investment of sustained effort and dedication in the pursuit of developing real ability and musical excellence.

Tom Pursglove MP welcomes new measures for new onshore wind turbines

Member of Parliament for Corby and East Northamptonshire, Tom Pursglove, has welcomed new measures announced by the Government which will change the law to give local communities the final say over planning decisions for new onshore wind farms.

Wind turbines will only get the go-ahead if the local community has made it clear they support onshore wind projects in their area. They will be free to decide where turbines should go and any proposals must address the concerns of local people and have their backing.

Tom, who is also the Director of Together Against Wind, an organisation set up to bring together groups fighting against wind farms in the UK, said;

'For too long our communities have been powerless to stop wind farm developments that they objected to from going ahead.

'Local communities in Corby and East Northamptonshire will now have the final say over planning applications for onshore wind turbines, which will ensure only those schemes that have the support of local people can go ahead. Furthermore, I am pleased to see that the Government will also be stopping billpayer subsidies for new onshore wind farms so that energy bills are kept down.

'In the past local people rallied to stop the dreadful proposals which would have blighted Lyveden New Bield. This announcement will ensure that local people can decide and determine the future of their areas and not be forced to accept decisions imposed on them.'

From the East Northants Council Chairman

Having accepted the honour of being East Northamptonshire Council Chairman on 27th May, I was off to a flying start with an invitation to the Queen's Garden party on 28th May which was held at Buckingham Palace.

It was an intimate affair, with a mere couple of thousand guests, and was hosted by the Queen herself, Prince Philip, Princess Ann, Prince Michael of Kent and his wife and young Beatrice.

Fortunately, we had a sunny day, which allowed Tony and I to explore the immaculate gardens of the palace while the brass band played. This was followed by an excellent afternoon tea (and yes they really do serve cucumber sandwiches with the crusts cut off, which made me smile). Here's a royal recipe for you all to try, add to your cucumber sandwich a fresh leaf of basil to give it a bit of a lift.

Afterwards we all lined up as the Queen and her family walked along to greet us so everybody had a chance to see Her Majesty. The party walked at a brisk pace which surprised us considering Her Majesty and Prince Phillip's ages. It was certainly a day we will never forget and I have to say I have never seen so many beautiful hats at one event.

We joined the Commander of Alconbury at the end of May for a hangar dance with a military jazz band and a spectacular demonstration by a local dance troupe of the Lindy Hop, something I wouldn't mind taking up myself. This event was to engage the local community with the American base.

On 4th June, I represented East Northamptonshire Council at the funeral of the late Mayor of Higham Ferrers, Cllr George Whiting. Hundreds of people attended in colourful clothes and the service was a true celebration of his life which reflected George's warm and caring personality. He certainly touched the lives of many people including my own.

I also attended the civic service for the Chairman of South Northamptonshire Council, Cllr Roger Clarke, which was held at the Holy Cross Church, Pattishall. This lovely old church was filled with the voices of a superb choir which sounded like angels from heaven and was just the ticket after a stressful week at work. Afterwards, we were offered refreshments and I met some fascinating guests who told me of their amazing lives. One gentleman regaled me with stories of his involvement in the design concept of Milton Keynes and his passion for the MK Dons. This triggered a letter from me that night, but that, as they say, 'is another story'.

*Best wishes to you all

Fit for breakfast

By Catherine Burbage

Breakfast is one of those meals where we often grab the fastest option and it's even easier now there are so many 'breakfast' bars and bakes on supermarkets shelves.

I compared the nutrition of several leading brands with that of a caramel wafer, and they're surprisingly similar.

The Fit4Life project in Oundle and Kettering gives members a recipe book packed with ideas such as the fruity omelette featured here. This is quick to make in the morning, but also great cold or packs well for breakfast at work. Fit4Life offers a combination of mind tools for motivation, workouts for fitness and food for weight management. Starting your day with a powerful workout and delicious breakfast will give you an inner glow to help you cope with whatever the day brings.

FRUITY OMELETTE – SERVES 1 OR 2

INGREDIENTS

- 3 large eggs
- Couple of handfuls of berry fruit
- 1 ripe banana
- Pinch cinnamon

- Coconut butter or similar for frying

METHOD

Mash the banana, sprinkle in the cinnamon and beat in the eggs until well combined. If you're going to eat the omelette immediately, add the berry fruit at this stage, but if you're making it the day before to eat cold, leave it out. Heat the coconut butter and spoon the mixture into the pan as either individual rounds or as a whole to be sliced later. Cook until the egg is just set and serve. If you're having it cold, remember to add the berry fruit. Add a dollop of natural live yogurt and a sprig of mint to make you feel really special before the day has even started!

East Northants Tennis League results

After opening with a 4-4 draw against their B team, normal service was resumed for last season's champions Kettering A as they defeated Geddington B 8-0 in Mens Division One.

Wayne Tideswell / Graeme Milligan were in impressive form as they beat Lance Holland / Adrian Colwill 6-3, 6-0 and John Fuller / Bill Worswick 6-1, 6-1.

Phil Smith / Niki Helbick fared even better claiming a maximum for the loss of only three games.

Kettering B kept their winning momentum with a 6-2 victory over Desborough. Chris Todd /

Jamie Hills were the pick of the Kettering side defeating Jonathan Brooks / Joe Kvatch 6-4, 6-1 and Jason Rowley / Malcolm Kilpatrick 6-1, 6-4. Jon Burrows / Mihai Diac lost out 6-2, 6-3 to Rowley / Kilpatrick but came back strongly to beat Brooks / Kvatch 6-3, 6-1.

Rockingham's early season good form ended when they suffered a heavy 7-1 defeat to Geddington B. Lance Holland / Graham Love gained all four sets beating Roger Singh / Andy Phippen 6-1, 7-5 and Brian Gibbons / James Roberts 7-6, 6-4. Paul Rowden / Steve Brown were 6-0, 7-6 victors over Singh / Phippen, but had to be content with a 4-6, 6-2 half against Gibbons / Roberts.

Geddington A played host to Thrapston A and it was the visitors who came away with a 6-2 win. Matt Watts / Adrian Way collected a hard fought maximum overcoming Graham Love / John Fuller 7-5, 7-6 and Paul Rowden / Adrian Colwill 6-3, 6-4. Martin Welsh / Mark Stockley also beat Rowden Colwill but remarked tongue-in-cheek that their 6-2, 6-3 defeat to Love / Fuller was due to a nearby live band starting up!

Right direction needed for roadside advertising

East Northamptonshire Council is asking people not to put up advertising signs on verges and roundabouts across the district.

More and more signs advertising events, local businesses and clubs are popping up on East Northamptonshire roadsides, on roundabouts and attached to actual road signs. Many of these are in awkward places or are out of date which means an increase in roadside clutter that has no purpose.

District and Rushden town councillor, Sarah Peacock, explains: "Signage clutter builds up over time without anyone taking responsibility for removing unnecessary or out of date signs. Not only does it disfigure the countryside, it also distracts drivers.

"Some outdoor advertising can provide useful information about facilities available in our community but people still need to think sensibly before putting up a sign so that they don't fall foul of landowners, drivers and residents who take pride in the district."

If you're thinking of putting up a sign or banner, follows these simple tips to keep our roadsides looking attractive:

- Ask yourself, what is the purpose of your sign? What are the alternative ways of advertising? Try using a free newspaper which goes through people's doors and reaches those who don't drive too.
- Is it legal to put up a sign? If it's on a highway, such as a roadside verge, it is illegal to place an advertisement sign. If on adjacent land, you will need permission so check who the land belongs to and if they are okay with your sign or you could end up in trouble.
- Consider a co-operative sign – one sign with a designated amount of space for local groups to advertise events/ clubs etc.

- Think really carefully about location. Tying a homemade birthday banner to a busy roundabout sign is not only dangerous for you to do, as well as being illegal, but it can cover important road signs and it can come loose and cause an accident for which you could be liable.
- Remove your sign as soon as your event is over. It doesn't look good on your organisation to have 'Bonfire night' signs still up in December. Sarah continues: "Some people might ask why local councils don't just remove all the signs and the answer is that it's time-consuming and very costly. We need local people to take responsibility for keeping the front door to our communities looking smart and attractive so think twice before putting a sign up."

Your ABC guide to driving safely

Driving tips supplied by your local Advanced Motorists Group.

- D. If Dazzled by oncoming vehicles, slow down, glance away for a second before continuing. Do not flash your headlights as you would dazzle other drivers. If dazzled from behind use the dipping function of your interior mirror. Keep your windscreen clean, dirt increases dazzle.
- E. Enjoy Economical driving by getting to know the power band of the gears in your vehicle. Don't travel at too high or too low a speed in each gear and you should save fuel. If conditions permit, block changing gears uses your engine's power most efficiently and saves fuel.
- F. Forward vision is crucial. Not only scan the road immediately in front of you, but raise your eyes to scan the middle and far distance. Your eyes are capable of seeing long distance at the same time as short distance. If you look far ahead you can still see what is happening near to you.

Home hosts vintage tea party

On Friday 19th June, as part of National Care Homes open day, Darsdale Residential Care Home in Chelveston Road, Raunds hosted a 'Vintage Tea Party' to which all were invited. Carers and members of staff wore clothes from the 1940s and 1950s. A sumptuous tea was laid out in Darsdale's beautiful gardens with an array of cakes, sandwiches and home made scones with jam and lashings of cream. There were games and music with vocals provided by a member of staff and residents joined with visitors and carers to enjoy the party atmosphere. The weather was ideal for the event although a marquee had been provided against the possibility of rain.

In the summerhouse a display of memorable photos and objects from the past which were of particular interest to the residents and visitors were on view, while in the dining room there was an exhibition of art by members of the staff.

At the end of the day everyone agreed that the party had been a great success and that Sarah and her team deserved thanks for having arranged such a memorable afternoon.

Resident Brenda with carer Sophie

Chess corner

by Derrick Sims

A few weeks ago I went to the local village cinema to watch The Imitation Game. The film is about the life of Alan Turing and his role in breaking the German Enigma Code in World War II. In the early stages of the film he is introduced to Hugh Alexander, who is identified as having been British Chess Champion twice.

It is certainly correct that Alexander was a chess genius, but the most surprising thing is that this was the only mention of chess in the film. Alan Turing is depicted as a social loner without any ability to interact with his fellow workers. This element of his personality seems to have been grossly exaggerated. In 1924 at the age of 12 he organised a chess tournament at Hazelhurst School where he was a pupil. Anyone who has organised tournaments will tell you that this requires a significant amount of ability to interact with, and persuade others to participate.

Turing was an enthusiastic chess player but not in the same league as Alexander. Turing used to enjoy meeting up with colleagues in local pubs for chats and games of chess and his fiancée, Joan Clarke, was also a keen player. It is reported by Andrew Hodges, who wrote a biography about Turing, that when Alan and Joan were at Bletchley Park they were unable to obtain a chess set due to war shortages. This prompted Alan to construct his own chess set, obtaining clay from a nearby pit and firing the pieces in an oven.

Chess and sporting achievements seem odd bedfellows, but Turing was an accomplished runner and when at Bletchley entered a race organised by the Army. Amazingly he won the race, beating the best the Army could turn out. Not only was he an excellent runner but also an enthusiastic tennis player.

A little while ago I commented on another film, The Theory of Everything, about Stephen Hawking, and described his enthusiasm for chess. An interesting question is what is the relationship between chess and genius? Does chess help to develop the brain and contribute to the process of genius? Although I don't claim to be a genius I do look to my own development and the role of chess.

At school I made a poor start, having failed the 11+ test that was used at that time to separate the wheat from the chaff. As a result I was sent to the local comprehensive along with the other 'failures'. During this time I played chess regularly and at a competitive level and went on to have a very successful career in Industry.

A recent study of 4,000 Venezuelan students found an average increase in students' IQ scores after four months' chess training. Chess also helps in developing problem-solving skills, concentration, planning and foresight. Additionally there is some evidence that regular chess playing improves memory and may delay the onset of dementia in older people. Another film that explores these aspects of chess is Knights of the South Bronx, which is based on the life of teacher David MacEnulty, who used chess to improve the educational performance of children from an inner-city district of New York.

The question must be that with all the benefits of chess, why would you not want to play it?

Chess is a game for people of all abilities, disabilities, and lifestyles. Rushden Chess Club loves welcoming new members, so do come along to a meeting if you're interested in playing chess in a very friendly environment – for details please call the Club Secretary on 07810 474969, or visit the club website <http://rushdenchessclub.com> and for the NCA (County Association) it's <http://www.norchess.lloydbunday.co.uk>.

Medal haul for Oundle Town Rowing Club

Oundle Town Rowing Club took four crews to the British Masters Championship on 14th June, and returned with four medals.

The British Masters is a national event aimed specifically at veteran rowers and, from relatively humble beginnings, has become a huge event with 800 races spread over two days for all ages (over 28) and boat types. A haul of four medals for such a small club is a significant achievement.

A bronze medal was won by the Women's Masters D Quad crew of Vicky Birchall, Jo Milborne, Jennie Stratton and Claire Izod. Jo and Vicky went on to win a silver medal in the Women's IM3 Double Sculls. A gold medal was won in the Mixed Masters E Double Sculls by the crew of Claire Izod and Simon Murray. And yet another gold medal was won in commanding style by the Masters E Quad crew of Simon Murray, Alan McMurdo, Brian Hardwick and Peter Dunn.

If you are interested in trying out, or returning to, the sport of rowing, find out about this friendly club at <http://oundletownrc.org.uk/>
