Can the bush go?

The folks at Thrapston Baptist Church are asking for your help.

Back in the 1980s gravestones were moved from what is now the church garden to the graveyard that is next to the garden.

Although most of the garden is now grass, alongside the entrance path there is a large bush. Removing the bush would open up the view to the entrance of the church from St Paul's Gardens, and make it more welcoming.

If you, or anyone you know, can help please get in touch with the church on thrapston.baptist@gmail.com.

Discover something new with the National Trust in Northamptonshire

See what's happening at National Trust places in Northamptonshire. Every year new discoveries are made and fresh information comes to light. A visit to a National Trust place in 2016 has the potential to reveal new stories about past residents, new objects on display or simply new views as the plants and gardens come to life.

The seasonal changes and new discoveries are what make National Trust places great places to visit. They are also one of the key reasons why regular visitors return to favourite locations time and time again, to see what's new! These are just a few of the things to discover in the local area this spring; From 25th April there will be a new walk at Lyveden called 'Beating the Bounds'. It is an opportunity to walk the boundaries at Lyveden and discover views across the property that few visitors get a chance to experience.

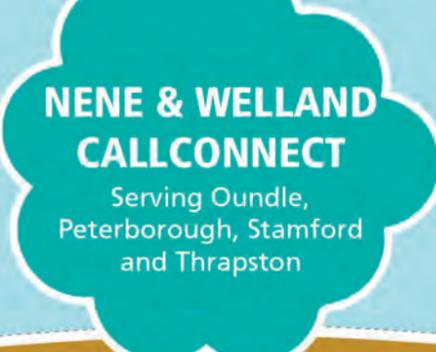

At Canons Ashby, visitors can get up close to John Dryden's rare eighteenth-century funerary achievements (ceremonial garments) while they undergo a month-long conservation project. The fragile textiles will be transferred from the Priory to the house, where they will be meticulously assessed and conserved onsite. Visitors can see the project taking place up close and chat to the conservators while they work.

Phil Bittner, National Trust Visitor Experience Consultant said: "Treasures and stories from the past regularly get uncovered at the places we care for. Sometimes they are new items with a connection to the place or the people that have lived there, and other times they are discovered as a result of research being carried out. Obviously, our first priority is always to preserve contents so that everyone can enjoy them for years to come but we love sharing discoveries and the evolving stories with visitors because they get just as excited as us."

As well as the smaller changes, there have been some larger discoveries in recent years too. In autumn 2014, volunteer Zoe Wilson discovered an old rusty key in the woodland at Lyveden. This find led to speculation that it may once have been used by the man whose energy and vision led to the creation of Lyveden: Sir Thomas Tresham. Further analysis, including X-rays, suggests a post-medieval date is most likely and this find probably dates from c.1550-1650. Work stopped on Lyveden in 1605 following the death of Sir Thomas so it is possible that it once belonged to him.

Editor's notes

Our publication date for this edition coincides with the anniversary of what is reputed to be Britain's first regular daily newspaper and it will be interesting to see how much recognition the event will get in today's editions of our current dailies.

The Daily Courant first appeared in 1702 as a single sheet with two columns and advertisements on the reverse; obviously, the proprietor recognised the financial imperative which was as relevant 314 years ago as it is today. The Daily Courant was produced by Elizabeth Mallet, writing under the name Edward Mallet, at her premises next to the Kings Arms tavern at Fleet Bridge in London. Mallet intended to publish factual, mainly foreign, news and stated that she would not add any comments of her own, supposing her readers to have "sense enough to make reflections for themselves", a sentiment which we might strive to maintain today. The Daily Courant continued in publication until 1735 when it was sold and absorbed into the Daily Gazetteer.

Turning to the situation at Oundle Town Council, which was raised in our last edition, we had hoped to be able to publish comments from the council but at the time of going to print nothing had been provided, so in an attempt to add some clarity here is the unofficial version of events as provided by one of the five remaining councillors:

The issue about Level (or more correctly Profile) 4 status had nothing to do with the achieving of certain Quality Standards and would bring no additional benefits. The Profile of the council is to do with assessing the level at which a council operates in order to set the remuneration of the Clerk to the council. Essentially the higher the level (profile) the more the Clerk should be paid under the agreements between NALC and the SLCC. The decision about the level (profile) therefore affects the council's expenditure budget. At the December meeting of the council, when the initial decision was taken, there was a linked decision with regard to the remuneration of the Clerk. Although a review of the decision over the council's level/profile was sought by a majority of the town councillors and obtained in January, there was no attempt made to reverse the decision regarding the Clerk which still, therefore stands. The purpose of the review was to seek clarification of how the level (profile) should be assessed and following that review the original decision has been reinstated with Oundle Town Council having assessed itself to be a Level (profile) 4 council.

We hope that is helpful. However, it does not explain why the majority of the Councillors found it necessary to resign over this issue, leading to the need for an election aimed at finding a further nine individuals to fill the vacancies. Details of the timings for the election are in the latest version of the Oundle Oracle but the headlines are that nominations are required by 4pm on 7th April and polling day will be on 5th May.

Our articles on fly tipping and anti-social behaviour certainly indicate that our District Council is trying to get to grips with these matters for the benefit of local residents. However, the latter issue leads to a question about the problems caused by building development works and the distress caused to those living adjacent to building sites; is this anti-social behaviour, could the developers do more to mitigate the problems or is it just the price we have to pay for progress?

Genealogy jottings

Before I moved to this neck of the woods, I lived in a village in Hertfordshire. There were just three public houses in the village, but history tells me that there used to be at least another five. Some of them had been converted into private houses but still bore the name of the pub – or inn – as the house name. If you find your ancestors in the census and they are running a drinking establishment, but are unable to find that pub or inn in the present day, it could well be that the place no longer exists as such.

The Green Man in Oundle is no longer a public house, but now accommodates an antiques shop. The Wheatsheaf in Thurning is now a private house, as is the Fitzwilliam Arms in Irthlingborough. However, by looking at the buildings, there are still some clues to be had of their previous use.

But what were your ancestors' jobs? Here are some of the more unusual names that may be found:

- Ale Conner – A man who inspected the ale sold in public houses for quality and measure (Also known as an Ale Founder)
- Ale Tunner – He was responsible for filling the barrels (tuns) with beer

By Jan Pearson

Genealogy Specialists, Tracing Our Past, Discovering Our Genes (TOP DOG)
www.genealogy-specialists.com

- Brewster – Female Brewer
- Hush Shop Keeper – Someone who brewed and sold beer without a licence (this was usually a sideline to their normal occupation.)
- Malster – A brewer, maker or seller of malts (beers)
- Mashmaker – He made the mash vats or mashels used for mixing malts to make the beer.
- Pot Boy – Usually a boy or young lad who collected the used pots/glasses in the inn and washed them. He would also do other menial tasks.
- Zythesparist – A brewer.
If you do find the pub where your ancestor lived/worked and it is still in use as such, it is always worth contacting the brewery to see if they have information in their archives – you never know what you might discover!

The drivers' numbers game

Driving tips supplied by your local Advanced Motorists Group.

2. Allow at least a two-second gap between you and the vehicle in front on roads carrying faster moving traffic. Double this gap on wet roads and still further on icy roads.

In whatever circumstance, drive at a speed that will allow you to stop well within the distance you can see to be clear.

10. Double white lines where the line nearest you is solid means you must not cross or straddle it unless it is safe and you need to enter adjoining premises or a side road. You may cross the line if necessary, provided the road is clear, to pass a stationary vehicle or other obstruction, or to overtake a pedal cycle, horse or road maintenance vehicle if they are travelling at 10mph or less.

Author welcomed at Rushden Academy

On Tuesday 1st March Rushden Academy welcomed Horrible Science author Nick Arnold into the school to talk to and Year 7 and 8 students about his 'Horrible Life' and about what inspired him to write books about science.

Nick spoke about his school days and former jobs and how they influenced his decision to write stories and then factual books about science. His first two books Ugly Bugs and Blood, Bones and Body Bits were written in 1996 and so he is celebrating their 20 year anniversary this year. Along with his talk and encouragement to read and write stories, Nick included a few scientific experiments which went down really well with the students, especially as they meant a couple of teachers and classmates got wet!

One of the Year 7 students said: "I think his talk was good because it was funny in places and I learnt that he had worked in a brain store!"

A Year 8 student commented: "I think the author visit was a very exciting event. Nick Arnold captivated the audience with good use of anecdotes and a funny presentation, which involved the audience and got his point across to inspire the students – we'd like to see more visits like this."

Nick also stayed in the school library for 45 minutes after the talk signing books and answering lots of student questions. After the event he had this to say: "I had a wonderful time at Rushden Academy – I met some very enthusiastic librarians and teachers and spoke to chatty and excitable Year 7s and thoughtful and happy Year 8s. Hopefully I inspired quite a few young writers and scientists. A message to all of you: please carry on supporting your school library!"

It was a great experience for Rushden Academy students and staff and Nick certainly brought science to life in his own unique style."

Gardening is more dangerous than you think!

Most people think of gardening as a gentle hobby which doesn't cause any harm to the body – well apart from the occasional stiff and sore back. However, as late spring and early summer is the time when people are planting out bedding plants, potting on and planting out what has been grown in the greenhouse, maybe it's a good time to look at some of the potential hidden perils of gardening.

Back problems are probably the most common known issue with gardening. Lots of bending over while weeding, planting and digging can place stresses and strains through the back. A little of this type of activity shouldn't cause any issues to a healthy back, but prolonged exposure to these activities can lead to muscle soreness and joint irritation giving rise to a few days of pain. More seriously you can cause some disc issues or nerve irritation, which could cause pain for a much longer period of time.

The best way to try and avoid any back pain is to take regular breaks from what you are doing, bend your back in the opposite way to the way you have been moving or keeping still, and make sure that you keep yourself nice and warm.

This time of year most physiotherapy practices have a few extra patients attending with elbow pain. You might be thinking, ah it's tennis season so that's why? Afraid not – prolonged use of shears or secateurs leads to lots of use of the forearm muscles. This can cause a lot of muscle pain in the forearm muscles and often a pulling of the tendon (tough material which connects the muscle to the bone) leading to a very sharp and prolonged pain. This 'tennis elbow', or lateral epicondylalgia as its known in the medical field, can take an awful long time to settle down. Prevention is best; again, take lots of breaks during gardening tasks. If you have a lot of work to do with shears, hedge trimmers, strimmers or secateurs, split the job over a few days or several weekends. Yes it's more frustrating and takes longer to have that hedge looking neat and tidy, but it's better than the frustration of lots of pain.

Another common part of the body affected by gardening but one very few people realise is in the knee. A lot of people have heard of sports people tearing the cartilage in their knee, but it's also a risk among gardeners. The cartilage is most at risk in the knee when the knee is bent, weight is put on it and then twisted. This is such a common movement to do whilst kneeling and rotating to pick up a plant or when reaching over to get at that last weed within reach.

Damage to your knee cartilage often results in knee swelling, pain and loss of movement. Often this will settle but gives you pain and loss of function for a time. Sometimes, though, this type of injury needs an operation. So rather than risk a knee issue, keep the plants to be planted out in front and move position regularly to avoid the twisting of the knee.

While we don't want to put people off doing some gentle physical activity it's worth noting some of these dangers so you can avoid the pitfalls of gardening and the errors made by others.

Huxlow sports teams looking sharp in brand new team kits

Seven local businesses have sponsored a Huxlow sports team each, so the boys' and girls' football teams all have a stunning new kit for their upcoming matches.

The Huxlow football teams have a strong reputation for success in the district and county, regularly participating in league and cup games.

"I love the new yellow kit. It's different from our usual kit, we're going to play like legends in it!" said J Gaggini, one of the stars of the Year 11 boys' team.

On Thursday 28th January, the football teams hosted representatives from their sponsor companies for a morning of football, where they showcased their skills in friendly matches and met with the sponsors over refreshments in the Sports Hall.

"All the boys enjoyed the morning; they felt smart in their new kit and believe it will help them conquer the District League next year!" said Mr Letts, Learning Leader for PE.

The businesses from the local community who have supported Huxlow's sporting stars are:

- Yr 7 Boys – sponsored by Cloverdale Catering
- Yr 7 girls – sponsored by Paradigm Interiors

- Yr 8 boys – sponsored by R F Blount & Sons
- Yr 9 Boys – sponsored by Paradigm Interiors
- Yr 10 boys – sponsored by Wykes Engineering
- Yr 11 boys – sponsored by SCL Electrical
- Yrs 10 & 11 Girls – sponsored by Simplicity Blinds

"The Sponsors were thrilled with their kits and during the Sponsor morning said how great the students were and how smart they looked in their new strips," said Mrs Cox, PA to the Headteacher, who co-ordinated the event.

POSTPONED

Almost 14 years after moving into the area from Lancashire, the weather I moved to escape has caught me up. Apologies all round, as I can see that the drainage here isn't designed to cope with more than a shower. There must be an enormous underground drainage system in Rochdale, as its youth pitches cope with the rainfall Old Grammarians Sportsground (Central venue for our mini soccer) has had over the last few weeks and still need watering to make them playable.

But as we are in the Mediterranean Midlands, I guess we have to put up with postponements after 'light drizzle'. Of course the league could try alternatives. We have a nice new 3G pitch in Higham Ferrers and the perfectly good facility at Raunds. It has been suggested that they should look at doing something and to be fair they have made efforts over December/January with Futsal for under 9s and 10s.

Here are the results for the games that did go ahead that I am able to report:

Under 16s

AFC R&D Galaxy 6-0 AFC R&D Cosmos

Under 13s

Ise Lodge 6-1 AFC R&D Whites

Under 12s

AFC R&D 4-1 Irchester Romans Centurians

DIAMOND DAYS

Senior team action from the last 2 weeks:

27/02/2016

227 people witness Diamonds have a 'bad day at the office'. League position: 2nd

A lacklustre performance from AFC Rushden & Diamonds saw them slip to a 1-0 defeat by Potters Bar Town in Hertfordshire on Saturday afternoon. After the disappointment of defeat by Kings Langley the previous weekend, the travelling Diamonds fans would have been expecting far more quality from their side. Instead they had to endure a performance that mirrored that when they visited Beaconsfield - the only consolation this time was that they only shipped as single goal, but rarely threatened to show their hosts why they arrived at Parkfield leading the Southern League Division One Central.

The winning goal came from Scholars' striker Chris Doyle, who was able to convert a left-wing free-kick 10 minutes before the break.

The Diamonds rarely took the game by the scruff of the neck, apart from a short spell shortly after Andy Hall joined the action, when both Hoban and Lorraine might have levelled the game.

Manager Andy Peaks restored January Player of the Month Shawn Richards to the starting line-up at the expense of Andy Hall, with Delroy Gordon having shaken off a knock to continue at right back. Lewis Leslie was able to return to the bench, and Matt Pinder took the final spot on the bench that held five outfielders.

The Parkfield pitch had recovered well from the recent wet weather, with the wet perimeter area showing how much work had been done to ensure the pitch was ready. A cold easterly wind blew across the playing surface meaning there was little shelter for the impressive match day crowd.

The first dangerous looking attack from the visitors saw Jon Stevenson pick up a pass inside the area after a thrusting run from Claudio Hoban, and he reached the six yard box before squaring for Tom Lorraine, whose effort was blocked. The linesman's flag halted further attempts to convert the opening.

With 10 minutes to go before the break, the hosts got their breakthrough. A fairly innocuous break down the left saw Delroy Gordon penalised as he leant into the wide-player. The resultant free-kick found Chris Doyle, who had made himself space to flick the ball over Finlay with a collection of players following the ball into the net.

Half Time: Potters Bar Town 1 AFC

Rushden & Diamonds 0

The pace of the game in the second period was really disappointing; with little to suggest that the Diamonds were chasing an equaliser in order to help erase some of the memories of their performance the previous weekend.

The hosts were happy to see the stalemate, as they held the advantage, and as a result there was very little of any quality to report, and some of the misplaced passes, mishit shots and poor crosses are best left unrecorded.

It was only when Andy Hall joined the action as the Diamonds' second substitute that there was sign of increased tempo, that coming shortly after the hosts could easily have doubled their lead when Jack Lyons broke clear on the left, beating the Diamonds' offside trap, but he was unable to convert the chance.

Hall quickly produced the most penetrating pass of the game, as he linked with Jon Stevenson, who in turn set up Tom Lorraine for a chance that he fired over. Claudio Hoban then started to run at the defence with more purpose down the left, and he was able to get in a low shot, well saved by Goode. A second chance for Hoban quickly followed as the Diamonds looked like they might finally start to threaten the home goal on a regular basis.

Tom Lorraine appeared fortunate to escape a second yellow card as he protested the award of a throw-in, perhaps as he felt he might have been rather better protected from a number of challenges during some clever defending by the home side.

A Tale of Two Scotch Eggs

Scotch eggs at their best make a convenient, tasty snack that will keep you far more satisfied than a soggy sandwich or limp salad. At their worst they remind you all day about eating them, may well contain trans-fats, have been fried in low grade oils with coloured breadcrumb soaking it up, and have a low meat content bulked out with rusk.

Choosing between the best of scotch eggs and the worst of scotch eggs can take little more effort than reading a label (it'll be worth buying the more expensive), with one contributing to a healthy, fulfilling life and the other sending us straight in the opposite direction.

Make your own using an egg from a happy chicken (duck, bantam or quail) that's been free to bask in the sun, scratch in the dirt and take a dust bath. Find sausage meat from pigs that have rolled in mud, with space to explore and play, so haven't needed growth hormones or antibiotics to survive intensive farming.

Wrap one around the other and enjoy as a satisfying, nourishing, real food treat. Have the best of times this Easter.

Scotch eggs – makes 4
5 smallish eggs
450g to 500g sausage meat
Chilli, onion, herbs, apple etc to your own taste

Hard boil 4 of the eggs. Allow to cool, then peel. Beat the remaining egg and mix thoroughly with the sausage meat and any flavourings you wish to add. Divide the mixture into 4 and press flat, about 2cm thick. Wrap a piece of meat around each egg, ensuring the joins are smoothed over. Bake in the oven at 200C for 30 to 40 minutes. Eat warm or cold.

Fly tipped waste will be traced

A Corby man was fined £600 recently for allowing waste to be dumped in East Northamptonshire.

Last summer East Northamptonshire Council's waste officers were called to attend incidents of fly tipping in the Wadenhoe area. Over the space of a few days there had been a couple of incidents at the same location where offenders had been dumping waste from house and garden clearances in Corby.

The waste was traced back to residents who had used registered waste carrier, RJS Gardening Services, for the removal of their waste.

Unfortunately, the business owner of RJS Gardening Services, Ryan Scott, transferred the waste to a 'man with a van' who was not a registered waste carrier.

The non-registered waste carrier then dumped the plumbing waste, bathroom tiles, pipes, children's toys and other general waste on Aldwinkle Road, Wadenhoe, leaving the cost of clear up to the residents of East Northamptonshire.

On 2nd February, Mr Scott pleaded guilty at Northampton Magistrates Court for failure to issue and produce Waste Transfer Notes for the fly tipped material and was fined £600.

Charlotte Tompkins, Waste Manager at East

Northamptonshire Council, said: "It's very important that residents do not accidentally find themselves facing enforcement action when they allow a business to take away waste from their properties. Always ask your service provider for a Waste Transfer Note if they remove anything from your property following any work. This will ensure your waste is disposed of responsibly."

You can check if a company is a licensed waste carrier by visiting www.gov.uk and searching for 'access the public register for environmental information'.

If you see somebody fly tipping, or know of a fly tip in the district, please report it to East Northamptonshire Council at www.east-northamptonshire.gov.uk/flytipping or by calling 01832 742026. If you can, please tell them:

- The time and date of the incident
- The location of the incident
- A description of the person/s involved (e.g. sex, height, age, build)
- A description of the vehicle used (registration number, make and model, colour)
- A description of the waste being fly tipped (quantity and type of waste)

The more information you can give the better chance ENC has of prosecuting.

Council one of the first to use new anti-social behaviour powers

East Northamptonshire Council is one of the first local authorities in the UK to successfully apply for a Criminal Behaviour Order (CBO) after a conviction for breach of a noise abatement notice.

Costa John Golding of Rushden was found guilty of breaching a noise abatement notice issued to control barking dogs at his home in Rushden. At Northampton Magistrates Court on Thursday 18th February he was found guilty of breaching the notice and was fined a total of £4,707.44 (£726 for the offence and £3,981.44 of costs incurred by the council).

The conviction follows years of complaints against Mr Golding involving barking dogs at his property. An abatement notice requiring him to control the noise from barking dogs was issued in February 2015 after a long and difficult investigation. Officers from the council continued to receive complaints about excessive dog barking, and breaches of the notice were witnessed between May and August that same year.

The court heard how the noise from barking dogs and lengthy investigation had a devastating impact on his elderly and vulnerable neighbours.

The CBO states that Mr Golding has 28 days from the date of the hearing to remove all the dogs from his property and requires that no dogs will be kept there whilst he lives at his current address. A member of the council's Environmental Protection team will inspect the property after 28 days to confirm that no dogs are present. Should Mr Golding continue to keep dogs at the property after 28 days, the council has powers to bring a further prosecution for a breach of the CBO.

Cllr Steven North, Leader of East Northamptonshire Council said: "We will continue to investigate cases of noise nuisance and take all necessary steps to prevent nuisance and anti-social behaviour affecting residents in our district. This is a great demonstration of the use of new anti-social behaviour powers to prevent harassment, alarm and distress to our residents."

War hero honoured at official unveiling of commemorative street sign in Rushden

First World War hero Lt Col Bernard Vann VC was honoured in Rushden recently at the official unveiling of a new street bearing his name at Barratt Homes' Lancaster Manor development.

A ceremony was held at Bernard Vann Close to commemorate the Rushden born soldier who was posthumously awarded the Victoria Cross for his fine leadership during an enemy attack in 1918.

Lt Col Vann also received the Military Cross and Bar and the Croix de Guerre for his bravery during his time in the Armed Forces.

The event was well attended by members of the Rushden branch of the Royal British Legion, the Vann family, town Mayor Kaye Rawlins, town councillors, representatives of Barratt Homes, Rushden & District History Society members, East Northamptonshire Council, county councillor Sue Homer, pupils from Rushden Primary Academy and representatives of the Mercian Regiment (formerly the Sherwood Foresters).

A street sign detailing the history of the name's meaning, funded by Barratt Homes, was unveiled during the ceremony.

The sign explains: 'Lt Col The Rev Bernard Vann VC, MC & Bar and Croix de Guerre was born... in Rushden. During WW1, he was the Commanding Officer of 1st/6th Battalion The Sherwood Foresters and was killed in action near Ramicourt on 3rd Oct 1918 when leading his battalion in attack. He was posthumously awarded the Victoria Cross for his fine leadership and action during the attack at Bellenglise and Lehaucourt on 29th September 1918.'

Andrew Swindell, Managing Director at Barratt Homes Northampton, said: "We are proud to have been involved in the unveiling of Bernard Vann Close and happy to be able to provide a special informative street sign to allow Lt Col Vann's legacy to continue."

During the ceremony pupils from Rushden Primary Academy laid a wreath, the Last Post was performed and a minute's silence observed. Attendees were invited to a reception at Rushden Hall following the ceremony.

Rushden RBL Branch Chairman Paul Mills said:

"The Rushden Branch of the Royal British Legion are immensely pleased to have Lt Col Bernard Vann's posthumous award of the Victoria Cross recognised even more in the town by way of naming a street Bernard Vann Close, with the informative street sign. His ultimate sacrifice will now never be forgotten."

Leader of East Northamptonshire Council Steven North said: "As the authority responsible for naming new streets in the district, we were aware that the Rushden branch of the Royal British Legion was keen to have this local hero honoured in some way in the town and so suggested that a street be named after him. We feel privileged to be part of this naming ceremony and part of the Bernard Vann legacy."

Homes at Lancaster Manor have now sold out, but for anyone still looking for their new home, Barratt Homes is currently building at nearby Ladywell Park in Wellingborough. For more information visit www.barratthomes.co.uk or call 01604 419621.

Local school expands to offer more learning possibilities to children in the region

Easton Garford Endowed CE Primary School in Easton-on-the-Hill is currently being refurbished with new facilities to support education for primary age children in the region. The work involves creating a new entrance, new offices, and greatly enhanced spaces for the pupils.

The building work began last month and is expected to be completed in a few weeks. A launch event is planned for the spring, at which the school will be welcoming parents, businesses and local dignitaries to see how the school has changed in recent months.

The current curriculum is rich and varied with a balance of academic and creative opportunities, and to widen learning opportunities the school is forging links with local businesses. Local artist Jill Hedges of Big Art in School, visits the school every Wednesday to lead outstanding art opportunities with the children as part of their creative curriculum. Future events include an Easter Egg Hunt on 22nd March with local employer, The Chartered Institute of Procurement & Supply and a shared residential trip to Norfolk for Year 3 and 4 pupils in collaboration with the school's new partnership school Polebrook Primary School near Oundle. Later in the year there will be a Family Fun & Sports day at the local Playing Fields, which will give the whole community the chance to get out and enjoy themselves.

New Executive Headteacher Hazel Johnson, appointed in September 2015, has worked hard with the Governing Body, the Garford Trust and PDET to source monies to fund the redevelopment and boost this much-needed village school just outside of Stamford.

She said: "Children in the local area deserve the best possible environment in which to learn and I believe that the works will transform the school into a modern and lively learning environment essential for the local community and education in the 21st century."

Mrs Johnson added: "With class sizes averaging 15 at this school, the unique personalised curriculum offered at Easton Garford Endowed CE Primary School affords children the best start to their school career. As the school continues to develop, we would love to welcome children from the wider local area and encourage visits to the school throughout the year."

Although Easton on the Hill is in Northamptonshire, the school can accept pupils from Lincolnshire, Cambridgeshire and Rutland.

Pupils invited to put their writing skills to the test in short story competition

Schoolchildren across Northamptonshire are being invited to show off their writing skills and imagination in a new short story writing competition.

The competition is being launched by Northamptonshire County Council as part of its Race To The Top school improvement strategy, which aims to raise educational standards and outcomes for young people across the county.

Pupils in Years 5 and 6 are being set the challenge to write a story of between 500 and 1,000 words about any topic they choose.

A judging panel will choose a first, second and third prize-winner, as well as two runners-up. The winning child will receive a £50 book token and their school will receive £300; the second place finalist will win a £50 book token and the school will win £200; and the third place finalist will get a £50 book token and their school will get £150. The two runners-up will receive a £50 book token and their schools will win £50.

The closing date for entries is Friday 20th May and the finalists will be announced on Monday 20th June. There will be a special prize-giving ceremony for the winning children on Sunday 3rd July at the prestigious Althorp Literary Festival.

The short story competition follows the success of the Race To The Top coding competition last year, which invited pupils to use their technology skills to design a game or an app.

County council leader Cllr Jim Harker said:

"I hope pupils across Northamptonshire will be inspired by this competition to put pen to paper and let their imaginations run wild.

"This is a great opportunity for us to focus on writing skills at Key Stage 2 level and really challenge children to show us what they can do.

"I am very grateful to Lord Spencer for his support in this venture and would encourage all of our schools to get involved and set their pupils writing. I look forward very much to reading the entries!"

To find out more about the writing competition, including how to enter, visit www.northamptonshire.gov.uk/racetothetop.

Do you love animals?

Did you know that many elderly people live with a pet as their only companion? Evidence shows that some people will refuse to go into hospital if there is no-one to look after their pet. Hospital staff have reported that patients become stressed and agitated if their pet has been left alone, making both recovery and the hospital stay longer.

Purple Pet Power
'Supporting much loved pets in times of crisis.'

Purple Pet Power will ensure that much loved pets are cared for by caring and checked volunteers if their lone parent is admitted to hospital in an emergency situation.

Nene Valley Community Action is urgently seeking volunteers who will ensure pets are nourished, exercised, played with and clean. Some volunteers may be needed to offer short-term fostering.

NVCA will provide backup support and travel expenses.

Interested in volunteering for Purple Pet Power? Contact NVCA on 01933 396382 to arrange to find out more.

Bozeat Bookworms celebrate World Book Day

Pupils at Bozeat Primary School and Nursery, along with many other schools around the county, celebrated World Book Day in style! The children not only 'got reading' but did lots of other amazing activities across the school with a view to inspiring a love for reading.

Children aged from 3 to 11 came dressed as one of their favourite characters from story books they enjoy or have been exploring throughout the term. Stop, Drop and Read sessions occurred throughout the day where children dropped what they were doing to read their favourite books. All children have been given a 'World Book Day' voucher which can be used in exchange for special editions or as part payment towards buying any other book.

The day ended for the Reception and Key Stage 1 pupils with a bedtime story session. Pupils and parents came back to school with their teddy bears, dressed in pyjamas and slippers to hear bedtime stories and finished the evening with a biscuit and a hot chocolate before heading back home to bed.

Chess Corner

By Derrick Sims

Rushden Chess Club had the pleasure of hosting Kettering's A & B teams in the quarter finals of the John Robinson Knockout Competition. Rushden B looked to have drawn the short straw and were up against Kettering A. Rushden A were given a golden ticket with their draw against Kettering B.

Rushden A got off to a flying start when James Brutus' scary Halloween Gambit failed to impress James Gardner. The Kettering man was soon on the back foot against Gardner's withering attack and resigned after 29 moves. Hugh Murphy made heavy weather of his game against Chris Keech but brought his experience to bear to gain the upper hand. Chris realised the game was up and resigned after 30 moves deciding that he was wasting valuable drinking time.

Graham Arch on the other hand decided to play on against Nik Puryer despite being a Knight down with no obvious way of getting it back. Graham proceeded to perambulate around the board for a further 40 moves and finally resigned when Nik was on the verge of promoting his pawn. Saj played a canny game managing to keep Kettering's Steve Walpole on the back foot. In the end Saj's pawn advantage and promotion prospects led Steve to resign on move 51. With the match well and truly lost it just remained for Keith Ball to get a consolation draw off the frustrated Alan Lewis.

The heavily outgunned Rushden B were never likely to produce a shock victory. Captain Bob Ellam led the defeat when he blundered a Bishop early on and went on to lose both his Rooks. Resignation after 34 moves was the inevitable result. This was followed in short order by Phil Campbell who was facing Jonny Martin's merciless attack on his King defences resulting in a King/Queen fork. With the match standing at two games in Kettering's favour it was questionable whether Jeff Owen should have accepted a draw off the much higher graded Romilly. This was followed by a further draw in the game between Tom Murts and Ian Andrews, a good result for Tom having blundered a piece on move 9. With the match lost it just remained for Keith Bristow to conclude his game against the highly graded Peter Jaszkiwskyj. Keith decided to make a fight of it and must have surprised Peter with the ferocity of his moves. Despite his gallant effort Keith had to accept defeat in what turned out to be the last game to finish.
