Revamped centre is a site for everyone

In just five months, since taking over the management of the Nene Valley Community Centre, the Peterborough Football and Sports Development Foundation (PFSDF) has really transformed the facility.

The centre, in Peterborough, has numerous rooms and facilities on offer for members of the community to hire for personal, recreational or event use. These include a large community hall that can seat 80 people or 100 standing, available to hire for any occasion.

The hall is also flexible due to a removable divider along the middle, giving the opportunity for half hall hire.

Members of the community also have the chance to book the Multi Use Game Area which offers three tennis courts or one small sided football pitch. The area is floodlit and so is perfect for use all year round. The site also boasts changing rooms with shower facilities which can be hired additionally to the MUGA if required or completely separate.

The Foundation has also transformed the outside of the site. It has already become home to many clubs and organisations and trustee Wendy Newey is keen for more clubs, societies, organisations and the community to get involved: "We want this to become a facility for the whole community. The football pitches and the artificial surface is a major part of what we do but we want to offer more than that."

The foundation are already exploring the possibility of adding a community youth vegetable patch with

The Club Youth Club and are working with PECT (Peterborough Environment City Trust) to plant around 700 new trees on the site.

Booking staff will be available from 9am-4pm to help you discuss your hiring requirements. Alternatively you can call 01733 330056 or visit the website www.nenevalleycc.org.

Letters to the editor

If you would like to submit a letter to the editor please send it to news@nenevalleynews.co.uk for consideration. The maximum word count is 200 words.

Dear editor,
Our house backs onto the East Northants District Council offices, the Thrapston Leisure Centre and Thrapston Primary School but despite being in such a busy area we still see some wonderful sights in the garden.

Here is a picture of a Sparrow Hawk taking a rest on our fence post, rather cheekily looking straight at me! Usually they are on the wing, hunting smaller birds so it is unusual to see one taking a break!

For the technically minded, the picture was taken with a Canon EOS 100D F8 1/200 sec exposure with 300mm zoom lens. Through our kitchen window!

Sincerely
Mr J Zakis

Genealogy jottings

Last time I was talking about first names, but surnames can also be a force to be reckoned with. One branch of my tree was Cowling. I have also found this recorded as Cowlin, Cowlan, Cowland, Coland – you get my drift? Always written as the person heard it and, as many did not read or write, no argument was met with. Also, regional variations in accents were much more noticeable a hundred or more years ago. I spent ages looking for a daughter of my great, great grandparents from the 1841 census recorded as Sarah. No way could I find her. Then, having had a lightbulb moment, I realised that their son, who had been born in 1837, should also have appeared but was missing. His name? Pharaoh. In the flat Essex accent of the time, Sarah and Pharaoh sounded rather similar and, when told to the enumerator – my great, great grandparents could neither read nor write to complete any documents – he wrote down what he heard.

The origins of surnames are many and varied. It could be from an occupation such as Cooper, Baker or Smith or even nicknames such as Redhead and Yapp. Others may be patronymics where a name is derived from a relationship. My surname of Pearson is such – Peter's son. Then there are location surnames. My maiden surname of Milsted comes from the village of the same name in Kent. I am just glad that it wasn't Llanfairpwllgwyngyllgogerychwyrndrobw ll-lantysiliogogoch! One very interesting website that I have used is: <http://gbnames.publicprofiler.org/Surnames.aspx> – if you enter the surname of interest, you can then compare the distribution of the name in both 1881 and 1998. My Milsteds were mainly in Kent with a smattering in South East London in 1881. However, by 1998, they had spread to Bristol and North East England. Fascinating stuff!

Editor's notes

As summer fades into autumn it's worthwhile considering what needs to be done around your property to stave off the worst effects of the coming winter. One of the potential problems which you might need to address is flooding, such as that experienced in our District a few years ago.

Across the UK nearly 17,000 homes and businesses flooded during the winter of 2015-16 and this winter could be worse because Britain is expected to experience unprecedented rainfall, with records to be broken by up to 30 per cent according to the Met Office. What's more, 1 in 6 UK properties are at risk of flooding, according to the Environment Agency, so it's essential that you consider what, if anything, needs to be done to protect your home. Even though floods cannot be completely avoided, there are some easy and effective preventive measures that you can take now to minimise the potential damage.

For those in areas considered high risk, it might be possible to install flood-resistant doors and windows or removable flood barriers. It's also possible to purchase toilet bungs and install non-return valves to minimise pressure caused by water backflow. In a more general maintenance context, seal any gaps in your walls and floors by using flood resistant sealants and if you have a basement or voids underneath your floors consider installing a sump pump system. In order to keep up to date on local flooding issues you can sign up for alerts from the Environment Agency and receive flooding warnings. And of course, ensure that your home is adequately covered for unavoidable winter-related damage.

With Brexit still front and centre on the government's agenda, there will soon be a significant feature of EU legislation on data management which will need to be copied into UK law. In less than a year, the EU General Data Protection Regulation (GDPR) will come into force and significantly impact how companies are allowed to handle your personal information.

Beginning on 25th May 2018, companies will be required to explicitly ask for your consent to collect and use your personal information. What's more, if your information has been hacked, companies are required to inform you of the incident. Additionally, the GDPR will afford you the 'right to be forgotten', which means that you can have your personal data erased from a database if there is no legitimate reason for the company to retain it. Legitimate reasons, as defined by the GDPR, include freedom of expression and scientific research. The right to be forgotten may eventually extend to social media accounts. Overall, the GDPR should ensure that your information is safe and secure. However, one wonders how long it will be before the criminal fraternity turns these changes to their advantage!

Cycling and history events this September at Stanwick Lakes

Whether you're a fan of cycling or passionate about history, there are two great family events taking place at Stanwick Lakes this autumn as part of the Nene Valley Festival.

On Sunday 17th September Rockingham Forest Trust and Cycle Northants celebrate cycling with the chance to have a go on crazy bikes and E-bikes, see mountain bike stunts and a free Rickshaw ride.

There will be an array of bikes to try, you can make your own cycle-powered fruit smoothie and even watch a short family film at the cycle powered cinema! A highlight of the day will be European champion Danny Butler performing spectacular stunts as part of the Extreme Mountain Bike Show and you can have your own cycling adventure on the day by taking part in a free 3k bicycle treasure hunt. Bring your own bike or hire one from AJ Cycles at Stanwick Lakes.

Then on Saturday 23rd and Sunday 24th September 'Making History' comes to Stanwick Lakes.

This free two-day Victorian event will include a whole host of traditional crafts demonstrations, the amazing re-enactment group 'The Ragged Victorians', Morris dancers, period music, family activities and traditional refreshments. Discover how local communities have been bringing to life the traditional trades and crafts that were once so important in our towns and villages and try your hand at Wool Spinning, Brick Making, Basket Weaving and Lace Making.

The 'Making History' weekend celebrates the completion of Rockingham Forest Trust's four-year Heritage Lottery funded project, Trading Places and is also the finale event of the 2017 Nene Valley Festival. Watch craftspeople at work and discover more about blacksmithing, green wood working, shoemaking, and wood carving. There will also be an exciting children's trail with prizes, Victorian 'dressing up' and the chance to make a traditional Peg Doll. And don't forget to try the great traditional food; including a Hog Roast, Hokey Pokey Ice Cream and Pork Pies...you can even help to create a great Victorian atmosphere by coming dressed up to the event!

Nationwide search for families of World War One soldiers enters its final phase

Vivacity's Archives Service has been working to find the families of servicemen who signed a visitor's book at Peterborough East station as they passed through the city in 1916 and 1917 on their way to fight during the First World War. Many servicemen, including members of the Royal Navy and Merchant Navy, have been identified but as the project's lifespan draws to a close, there are still hundreds of servicemen whose stories are left untold.

The two slim visitors' books, are from a tea room run by the Women's United Total Abstinence Council (WUTAC) and are full of handwritten messages, poems and pictures by the servicemen themselves. Mostly, these messages express gratitude to the ladies serving them tea and cake while the servicemen waited for their connecting trains.

Many of the messages, however, offer contemplations on the war and their part in it, providing a unique insight into the men's minds as they headed to the front lines in the Great War.

Over the last three years, the books have been painstakingly digitised and transcribed with the help of a team of Vivacity Volunteers and great efforts have been made to find out more about each serviceman within.

With only scraps of information to work with and the use of appeals via social media, a good number of servicemen's families have since been discovered across the United Kingdom and around the world. This has allowed the Vivacity Archives Service to build a more accurate picture of these individuals by hearing stories or seeing photographs from the servicemen's descendants.

Joan and Freda Lacey are two such descendants. They are the daughters of Gunner Joseph Drewery, who was from Lincolnshire and served with the Tank Corps in Egypt. Being reconnected with the original handwriting of her father from over 100 years ago, Joan said: "It was wonderful to see what my father wrote. I knew nothing about his time at Peterborough East Station and it is comforting to know that someone was looking after the servicemen on their way to and from the front."

Project Officer Beverley Jones says: "We are so lucky to have been able to preserve this unique piece of national and international history. The servicemen who left messages in these two little books came from as far as

South Africa, Canada and even Australia! It really puts Peterborough on the map too as a historical railway hub and we are indebted to the Heritage Lottery Fund for making this work possible."

If you think someone in your family may have taken a train to go and fight in the First World War during the years of 1916 and 17 and you think you can help:

- 1 Head to www.peterboroughww1.co.uk
- 2 Search for a name or regiment that you think may be in the guestbook.
- 3 If unsuccessful – browse the online virtual guestbook and see if there are any names you recognise.
- 4 Use the website's contact form to send a message or tweet @PeterboroughWW1 if you think you or someone you know might be related.
- 5 Even if you don't discover a relative you can help our search by sharing our posts on social media

Wildlife

More than once this summer the media warned that "today is likely to be the busiest day this year at our airports", as tens of thousands of us headed for other countries for our annual holiday (for some reason the 'winner' makes the same level of headline news!). Now, a few weeks later, another group of animals is filling the skies in far greater numbers as bird populations move around the world for their seasonal journeys in one of the two main seasons of what we call the 'migration season'.

This mass action is not just for birds; in some parts of the world other creatures, like mammals or insects, also change their habitats, travelling both short and long distances. This time it is not just for fun but because conditions like temperature and food supplies, do not suit them throughout the year.

These travellers do not have mechanical help, just muscle power with, they hope, a little help from the weather; if that turns bad the journey becomes more dangerous and many may not reach their destination at all. Air passengers at times criticise the meals they are served, but what if we had to take with us our food for the whole journey? Birds are now stuffing their bodies in the hope of having enough energy to last the trip, which may not be very long, perhaps only involving crossing the North Sea; others, though, can involve travelling literally many thousands of miles, and in extreme examples the round trip may take more than a year.

For those which have visited during the summer the thought of winter is becoming strong enough for them to have 'itchy feet' (or should that be wings?). For example, has anyone heard a cuckoo in the last few weeks? The answer will be "No", because they are among the first to go, but this month and next many more will join them, including many which look too frail to be undertaking the long and hazardous adventure, but they will be back next year, provided they escape the rifles which in some countries will unfortunately be aimed in their direction.

Follow my LEADER to rural funding event at East Northamptonshire Council

Two sessions at East Northamptonshire Council in Thrapston on Thursday 28th September will explain how rural businesses can access European and other funding opportunities.

The sessions will run 10am-12noon and 1-3pm and include networking opportunities as well one-to-one sessions with funding experts from LEADER, South East Midlands Local Enterprise Partnership, Northamptonshire Growth Hub and the council.

Business help and advice services will also be available and you can find out about the council's new commercial initiative, Enterprising East Northants.

Su Davies, External Funding Manager at ENC explains: "This is a great opportunity to access funding and you can learn from the experts in the field. We're encouraging as many rural local businesses as possible to come along and find out more. By the end of your session, you should have a draft stage one application to take away, enabling you to apply to either the LEADER Fund or the EAFRD Growth Programme."

Grants can usually provide up to 40% of project costs and support a wide range of business development ideas, such as farm diversification, forestry projects, pubs and cafes, breweries and jam producers. Ring us if you're not sure if you qualify.

Email Su Davies, sdavies@east-northamptonshire.gov.uk or call on 01832 742191 to say which session you prefer to attend. Refreshments will be provided.

Donation to benefit Hinchingsbrooke Hospital

The Macmillan Garden Room project at Hinchingsbrooke Hospital, Huntingdon has received a £200 donation after Thorpe Waterville wood turner Tony Reeves used his skills to make a two tier wooden cake stand that was auctioned off to the highest bidder.

Tony, who heard of the appeal through playing with the RAF Wyton Area Voluntary Band, is a keen amateur turner and made the cake stand out of chestnut and American maple. The auction, conducted through Facebook, resulted in a top bid of £113. The closest unsuccessful bidder was also keen to support the project and anonymously donated another £87 to make a grand total of £200.

From the ENC Chairman

Since my last article in Nene Valley News, I have visited Stanwick Lakes to see the opening of their new play equipment. This great addition was partly sponsored by East Northamptonshire Council, through the Community Facilities Fund scheme and is a wonderful place for families, dog walkers and all.

The 'Bark in the Park' event at Hall Park in Rushden was another success and being a judge for one of the events was not easy. As you will know, I love our canine friends and this gave me an opportunity to showcase one of my designated charities, the Dogs Trust.

The picture featured in my last update was of the beautiful village of Aldwincle, which is rich in history and wildlife and nestled in a dramatic curve of the River Nene and with a population at the time of the 2011 census of 322. The original village rectory was the birthplace of the poet, John Dryden.

The following picture is of an area that many of you may not be aware of but is worthy of a visit when looking for somewhere to visit. Tweet where you think it is @ENCChairman

If you'd like me to visit any events you're hosting, please let me know via Twitter, email chairman@east-northamptonshire.gov.uk, phone 01832 742198 or write to ENC Chairman, Cedar Drive, Thrapston, NN14 4LZ.

The two biggest gyms in East Northamptonshire just got even better!

The Nene Centre in Thrapston and The Pemberton Centre in Rushden, both operated by Freedom Leisure on behalf of East Northamptonshire Council, have received a total investment of £394,000 to improve their fitness suites.

These gym improvements, along with upgrades to their indoor cycling facilities are the latest in a string of developments being made by Freedom Leisure to the three centres in the district which it began operating in April.

Both gyms have received state-of-the-art functional kit in the investment, which is designed to allow users to exercise while replicating day-to-day movements thus improving strength, fitness and flexibility, greatly benefiting daily life as well as achieving weight loss and muscle building goals. Just a few of the new pieces include: competition standard kettle bells, titan bags, slam balls, boxing gloves and new TRX suspension bodyweight training bands, born in the Navy SEALs to develop strength, balance, flexibility and core stability.

In addition the gym at The Nene Centre has received 30 pieces of cardiovascular (cardio) kit and the gym at The Pemberton Centre has received 37 pieces of cardio kit, with perhaps the most exciting news for customers being that both gyms now have the SKILLMILL™ and CLIMBER™.

These two pieces of cardio kit by TechnoGym are the latest must-haves in any top gym – and Nene and Pemberton are the only two centres in the whole of East Northamptonshire to have them!

Both centres also received brand new indoor cycling bikes (also known as spin bikes), with Pemberton's studio being upgraded to take a capacity of 20 customers, and Nene 24, while four additional bikes in the gym at Nene have personal MyRide on them, meaning that even if you are there when there isn't a scheduled class, you can do your own private MyRide workout on the screen.

Finally, to vastly improve the instructor led offering, both centres will be launching 'Ignite' classes on their group exercise timetables – small, action-packed, group training sessions based in the gym using the latest gym equipment to transform your workout forever, designed by and exclusive to Freedom Leisure gyms.

Chris Tye, Freedom Leisure Area Manager says: "These improvements now mean that these two gyms are extremely high class facilities for East Northamptonshire and we are delighted to be working in partnership with East Northamptonshire Council to make it happen for local residents. Some of this kit is really new and unique setting us aside from others, and we are very lucky to have 'Ignite' available here too. It is an amazing fitness offering which gives participants real results! It gives the taste of a personal training session and is free with membership."

Leader of East Northamptonshire Council, Steven North, adds: "This investment demonstrates our commitment to providing first class facilities for our residents. We encourage people to head to the Nene Centre or the Pemberton and check out the high quality equipment available to help them get fit and healthy."

To find out more visit www.freedom-leisure.co.uk and find the centre nearest to you, or pop in to either centre to speak with the team about the great membership deals currently on offer.

East Northants Snooker League

The ENSL Summer League concluded this week after almost four months. It's been a very eventful but competitive season, and the standard of snooker seems to have jumped up another level. We would like to thank all of the players and the team captains, the wonderful venues for hosting the league matches, and the generous sponsors for providing the silverware and the prizes. Without all of these important contributors there simply would not be an ENSL league.

We were able to announce last week that the Windmill Warriors had already won the league with a week to spare – quite some achievement.

Congratulations go to Justin Wynne for his season high break of 71. He will be receiving the high break prize and trophy which has been provided by Mr Justin Gaggini.

The Trophy Presentation evening is scheduled for Friday 22nd September and promises to be a great evening. The Committee has organised a one-day tournament for all league players at the Windmill Rushden club on Sunday 17th September. The ENSL takes a break now and anticipates the winter season which will commence in mid-October.

Results for week 14:

Windmill Mecca 3-3 Coopers A
Windmill Warriors 2-4 Windmill Underdogs
Coopers C 5-1 Coopers Ball Bashers
Islip WMC 2-4 Windmill Weapons
