In Brief

Oundle Christmas Tree 2018

The President of the Oundle Rotary Club has written to the Town Council explaining that with effect from this year they can no longer provide the Town's Christmas tree. Apparently, the Club first helped with the tree many years ago but they now feel that it would be better provided by the Council. Obviously, the ceremony of turning on the lights and the very presence of the tree in the Market Square are beneficial to the Town generally and traders in particular. The Club's President explained that changing circumstances meant that they could no longer be responsible for the erection, maintenance and removal of the tree. She went on to say that they were extremely disappointed to have had to make this decision. Perhaps the Oundle Business Association would be able to step into the breach?

Police raid homes in East Northants as part of Operation Viper

Police officers executed two warrants in East Northants recently as part of Operation Viper, the force's crackdown on serious and organised crime.

The first warrant was executed in Weighbridge Way, Raunds, at an address where concerns had been raised about the occupant, who officers believed to be the subject of cuckooing, a practice which sees gangs take over the property of a vulnerable person in order to deal drugs. No one was in the property at the time of the warrant, however officers conducted a thorough search of the premises.

The second warrant was executed at a property in Irchester Road, Rushden, where items including a knuckle duster were recovered.

Speaking on the day of the raids, Detective Chief Inspector Julie Mead, said: "This is the first of our proactive days for Operation Viper. Serious and organised crime is something we need to address and is affecting all of our communities.

"Today we have a series of warrants and part of that warrant process is around safeguarding potential victims of cuckooing.

"The main aim of today was to make sure we safeguarded the person who's inside and to do that with partners, and to make sure they get the support and care that they need so they don't fall foul of cuckooing again."

The force is reliant on public help as part of the Operation. You are encouraged to contact them to report any relevant information.

If you have any concerns or would like to report any information to the police call 101, report a crime online or via independent charity Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Oundle north bridge: Council update

We have received the following comments about the north bridge in Oundle from Northamptonshire County Council: "We continue to develop the design for the width restriction for the self-enforcement of the 3 tonnes weight limit and looking at the signage requirements. We are looking at various options for the width restrictions and their effect upon traffic flows through Oundle. We will then present these to the Oundle Town Council and local parishes working party to discuss our proposals and the consultation process."

"We currently anticipate the width restrictions on the Oundle side of the bridge will have to be positioned on the bridge before the first arch. As the bridge is a listed structure we have contacted East Northamptonshire District Council planning office who have confirmed we require listed building consent and we will be meeting with East Northamptonshire District Council Planning officers to discuss their requirements.

"We are also looking at the possible use of traffic signals at the Barnwell Road /A605 Oundle bypass junction to facilitate the flow of traffic.

"We have placed a Traffic Regulation Order (TRO) to revoke the 18 tonne amenity weight restriction on Oundle South Bridge. This will follow the same process as the TRO for Oundle North and will go through at the same time as the 3 tonnes weight limit on Oundle North.

"At this stage we are unable to give more information on timescales. Consultation with all affected parties will be undertaken prior to any plans being finalised."

Genealogy jottings

I recently took advantage of the GRO pilot for having a pdf of a certificate emailed to me rather than wait for it to arrive through the post. (Note: this just applies to birth and death certificates, not marriage.)

I had a sister of my great grandmother Millicent disappear into the ether after the 1871 census, when the family had been living in Tunbridge Wells, Kent. By 1881, Millicent and her mother Harriet (plus some siblings but not Alice) were living in Brighton. There was no trace of her in the 1881 census nor could I find a marriage. However, later in 1871 there was a death of a 10-year-old Alice in the Ticehurst registration district. Feeling a bit doubtful that this could be my Alice, I sent for the certificate all the same – and it was the right one! She had died of Scarlatina (Scarlet Fever) at the 'Temporary Hospital, Frant Forest'. This then required some more digging to find out about Frant. It turns out to be a very small village on the edge of Sussex and Kent – so much so that the village straddles both counties – and is also just 2.5 miles from Tunbridge Wells.

By Jan Pearson
Genealogy Specialists, Tracing Our Past, Discovering Our Genes (TOP DOG)
www.genealogy-specialists.com

It seems that Alice was sent to the hospital so that she could be isolated – scarlet fever being extremely contagious. But why 'Temporary Hospital'? This required more digging and so I posted the query on my forum – the link to which is under my name. Within two hours I was given information about a couple of newspaper articles from the time explaining that there was a fever epidemic in Tunbridge Wells, resulting in the need for an isolation hospital and so one was hastily erected in Frant Forest, just along from the cemetery. Also, a contemporary map was found that showed the hospital site. Fantastic lot, those members!

The Ticehurst registration district, although in Sussex, is adjacent to the Tunbridge Wells registration district, so it pays to check those next door!

Editor's notes

From the look of most of the parched lawns and gardens in the area, in many of which plants appear to be barely surviving, people are being sensible about how they use water; perhaps this also has something to do with the fact that most of us are on metered supplies. Certainly, we have escaped a hosepipe ban so far, largely because of some rainfall to the north and west of our immediate area, but once again there doesn't appear to be much rain in the weather forecast for the next couple of weeks. If you are concerned about how to save water there are some tips on the Anglian Water website at www.anglianwater.co.uk.

On the subject of meters, the government's policy on installing smart meters to monitor and report electricity consumption seems to be in some disarray. We are all encouraged to have the meters fitted but there are stories of inaccurate readings, increased usage and an inability to use the meter if you switch suppliers. There are also concerns that if you live in an area with poor mobile signal the smart meter won't work and if that isn't a problem many experts have highlighted security fears about the devices, claiming they could be hacked. The government has rolled back from its earlier plan to have a smart meter installed in every home by 2020 and is now only offering the option. While there is an obvious benefit in having a remote reading so that you don't have to read the meter each month the reported problems are deterring many users.

The BBC recently reported that the investigation into the disappearance of the airman Corrie Mckeague, after a night out in Bury St Edmunds, has cost £2.1m. Suffolk's Police and Crime Commissioner apparently stated that the government had agreed to contribute with a special grant, expected to be about £800,000. While that affair has been desperately sad for the young man and his family, who now appear to have accepted that his body is somewhere in Suffolk's waste disposal system, one cannot fail but to draw an unsentimental comparison with the potential cost of the repairs to the north bridge in Oundle, a problem which will affect a large number of people and businesses; the cost for the latter will be a similar sum but as yet the government remains silent on funding to support the work.

In just three months, on 11th November, we will be commemorating the ending of the First World War. Doubtless, there will be events across the District to mark the occasion and we would like to hear what you might be planning for your town or village; do contact us and let us know so that we can add a little extra publicity to support your efforts.

Enjoy Music in Special Places this autumn

Oundle International Festival has revealed its Music in Special Places Autumn 2018 programme, which this year includes a feature Last Night of the Proms with soloist Maureen Brathwaite, the ever popular Rushden Town Band, a special evening of music by Fauré and Elgar and a return visit from The FB Pocket Orchestra.

On Saturday 8th September as a prelude to the world famous BBC Last Night at the Proms, Adele Hudson will lead an early evening 6pm concert with local soloist Maureen Brathwaite and Rushden Town Band in Oundle School's Great Hall, performing true favourites including 'Land of Hope and Glory' and 'Rule, Britannia!' All in time for attendees to get home to watch the traditional Last Night on television.

The following month, on Saturday 27th October, at St. Mary's Church, Titchmarsh, the St. Peter's Singers will commemorate the end of the First World War with Gabriel Fauré's beautiful 'Requiem' paired with Sir Edward Elgar's 'The Spirit of England', which is dedicated "to the memory of our glorious men".

Concluding the Autumn programme in November, The FB Pocket Orchestra return as Music in Special Places guests to present their contemporary take on popular acoustic music from the late 19th and early 20th centuries at 7pm on Saturday 24th November at All Saints and Saint James Church, Kings Cliffe.

A spring and autumn bonus of high quality artists, Oundle International Festival's Music in Special Places programme offers the opportunity to listen to wonderfully talented musicians in very special and unique locations outside of the festival's usual July dates.

Further information and tickets are available from Oundle Festival Box Office, 4 New Street, Oundle, PE8 4EA, 01832 274734 or www.oundlefestival.org.uk. If available, tickets will be sold on the door, but advance booking is recommended.

CS Plumbing and Heating

Higham Ferrers resident and well-known plumber and heating engineer Chris Stocks likes to keep in touch with his roots and serving his local community has become his passion.

Founded in 2009, Chris left his position with British Gas after 10 years to set up Chris Stocks Plumbing and Heating Ltd with a wealth of knowledge and experience to put to use. Gaining confidence and the trust of local letting agents, Chris quickly built up a good reputation, solely from word of mouth and soon had many clients with good repeat business.

Chris bases his service provision on the proviso that his company is 'big enough to cope' with customer requirements such as the new provision of breakdown and repair cover plans, and at the same time 'small enough to care'. Affordable, honest plumbing advice and service is standard.

"Every job we go to is treated with the same importance, no matter how big or small, every customer matters to us because without them we have no business and by keeping that ethos we've retained customers and welcomed new customers from reputation."

Wilson Browne Solicitors

William de Ferrers created the Borough over three quarters of a millennium ago, to promote community and prosperity, at the gates of his castle where settlers had begun to trade. A hundred or so years later came Henry Chichele (c. 1364 – 12th April 1443) who was born in Higham Ferrers, became Archbishop of Canterbury and founded All Souls College, Oxford. Later (1523) the town's castle, which had fallen into disrepair, was demolished and the stone used to build Kimbolton Castle.

Such history is befitting of the Wilson Browne Solicitors office, set on the picturesque Market Square in Higham Ferrers. The listed building is steeped in history and full of character – an ideal location to meet with our specialists who can advise on a multitude of legal issues, whether for individuals or businesses.

The Higham Ferrers office is particularly active in Residential Conveyancing and has seen an increase in property sales following the recent opening of Rushden Lakes retail park. With more and more families seeking to move to the idyllic location set by the lakes, its wildlife and easy greenway routes making them more accessible than ever.

Many visitors have been clients of the Higham Ferrers office for generations, with their parents and grandparents seeking advice on Wills and trusts.

Farming and agriculture still plays a key role in the area, with many agricultural companies choosing Wilson Browne to assist with Agricultural Property Matters, tax and estate planning. In fact the Higham Ferrers farmers' market takes place on the market square once a month.

For the last piece of our puzzle, in terms of recent history, historic WWI documents belonging to T G Tailby were unearthed in the strongroom. Tailby, who lived in Stanwick, served in the Canadian Infantry in WWI but unfortunately died just before the end of the war. His family emigrated to Canada shortly after and Partner Nina Wilson thought it befitting to entrust the documents to the safe hands of Stanwick School. The mementoes, which will be 100 years old on 26th September 2018, included the death certificate, the memorial plaque and scroll, as well as a letter from the King himself, George V.

In many ways, the firm and its office are a reflection of the town, with both sharing a considerable history and a varied past with an ample measure of heritage.

Keeping East Northamptonshire greener and cleaner with new waste contract

A new waste contract is set to deliver a high level of service and save taxpayers £150k a year.

The appointment of FCC Environment (UK) Limited to provide rubbish, recycling and street cleaning services in the district means that East Northamptonshire residents and businesses can expect excellent service whilst saving £1m over the seven-year contract.

Steven North, Leader of East Northamptonshire Council explains: "This new waste contract will deliver first-rate waste collection and street cleaning services to our residents as well as making significant financial savings. "We're encouraging residents and businesses to recycle more than ever to help make East Northamptonshire greener and reminding everyone to keep our district cleaner by making sensible use of bins.

"With opportunities to improve recycling services and investigate more environmentally friendly collection methods, we're confident that the good service we have provided to residents will continue into the new contract."

Residents will continue to receive the same fortnightly recycling and refuse collections in the same bins as they currently do. A few residents' collection days will change to accommodate all the new houses built in the district and to ensure we are still using the most fuel efficient routes. All of those residents should have received a letter from the waste team to notify them of the changes.

Trade waste will also continue to be collected in the same way and the Garden Waste Club remains open for residents to join to recycle their green waste.

Scheme set up to keep you safe on a date

Are you single and looking to mingle? Arranged a date for this weekend? Well East Northamptonshire Council, working in partnership with Northamptonshire Police and National Pubwatch, has launched a scheme to keep you safer on your first date.

If your date isn't all that they seemed, for example they look nothing like their profile picture, are acting strangely or they simply make you feel uncomfortable, go to the bar and 'Ask for Angela'. The member of staff will see this as a sign that something isn't right and you need help. This could simply be to keep an eye on you or even take you to a safe room and call a taxi.

The scheme has been taken up by the following businesses in the district:

- Higham Ferrers - The Queen's Head, Joe's Bar, The Carriage House, The Griffin, The Green Dragon
- Rushden - The Rose and Crown, Cheers, The Welcome Inn, Rushden Bowls Club
- Stanwick - Stanwick Club
- Raunds - The World Upside Down, Raunds Town Cricket Club, Snooks, The George and Dragon, The Red Lion, The Globe
- Thrapston - The King's Arms, The Court House
- Islip - The Woolpack Inn

• Oundle - Onkar, The Ship, Brewbabu, The Talbot Hotel, The George Inn
Cllr Steven North, Leader of East Northamptonshire Council says: "This is a great scheme to help keep our residents safer when they are enjoying a night out in East Northamptonshire. To see so many businesses already taking part, it shows that the district is a great place to live, work and have fun. I encourage more pubs and clubs to join us."

So if you're on a date and don't feel safe, go to the bar and 'Ask for Angela'.

From the ENC Chairman

My role as Chair of East Northamptonshire Council takes me all over the district. This week I was fortunate to visit the historic market town of Oundle, in particular its very active and popular bowls club.

I was invited to a ceremony for the handover of a specially adapted wheelchair suitable for disabled bowlers. This very helpful piece of kit was funded by the East Northamptonshire Member Empowerment Fund so we were joined by the three Oundle Ward councillors who had made it possible – Rupert Reichold, Jake Vowles and Phil Stearn.

We were given a demonstration, with one of the Club's members delivering a number of bowls from the chair, which was impressive.

The Club is in the process of applying for the Disability Bowls England Kitemark, which encourages anyone with a disability to play.

On a very warm day, we were especially pleased to be offered a refreshing cup of tea after the handover and to be able to admire the well kept grounds which included a beautiful display of flowers.

From sports to arts, I represented the district at a private exhibition of motorsport art. There were some wonderful pieces on display that captured the excitement and thrills of motorsport so well. It is always a pleasure to see people's passions come together in such talented ways. The exhibition was rounded off with an afternoon tea and some generous donations were made to my chosen charities for the year – Pancreatic Cancer UK and Northamptonshire Search and Rescue. Many thanks to Councillor Glenvil Greenwood-Smith for organising the afternoon.

Locals enjoy day of fun and fundraising

Ringstead Village Social Club hosted its fourth annual charity event to raise funds for both Teenage Cancer Trust and Cancer Research UK.

The day, organised by local residents Allyson Harrison and Sara Sharman, got off to a great start with a fete and football match on the village recreation ground. This was followed by a barbecue and entertainment in the Club's garden. The fun continued with evening entertainment, which included a disco and live band, Rusty Spoons.

During the evening's proceedings Mr Pete Newman, a company representative of Mick George, was warmly welcomed and formally thanked for the grant from the Mick George Community Fund which has enabled the Club to install a new kitchen. The facility has brought huge benefits to the Club, in particular on the occasion of charity events, when catering is required.

Local businesses, friends, family and villagers all donated items for a grand charity auction and magnificent raffle.

The whole day's events proved to be very popular with many families and friends helping to make this a memorable day.

Sara and Allyson would like to thank everyone for their help and support in raising over £3,500 for the two chosen charities.

Neighbourhood planning update: Glapthorn, Rushden and Brigstock

Progress continues to be made with preparing Neighbourhood Plans throughout East Northamptonshire.

Neighbourhood Plans allow communities (led by town and parish councils) to set their own (town/ parish) level planning policies for determining planning applications, adding local direction and distinctiveness to East Northamptonshire Local Plan and national planning policies.

The following Neighbourhood Plans have now reached significant milestones.

- Most recently, the Glapthorn Neighbourhood Plan 2016-2031 was "made" (adopted) by the Council on 30th July 2018, having been passed at referendum on 5th July. The plan was overwhelmingly supported at referendum, with 88% in favour on a record 61% turnout.
- Previously, the Rushden Neighbourhood Plan was "made" by the Council on 4th June 2018, having been passed at referendum on 24th May.
- The Brigstock Neighbourhood Development Plan 2011-2031 is the next Neighbourhood Plan expected to go to referendum. It is currently under examination and the referendum is anticipated to take place late in the autumn. Various other Neighbourhood Plans are expected to come forward during the coming months. The 1st draft Neighbourhood Plan for King's Cliffe was published for consultation last year and it may be submitted to the Council for independent examination in the autumn. Similarly, the 1st draft Barrowden and Wakerley Neighbourhood Plan consultation took place during April/May 2018 and it may be submitted for examination by early 2019.

Neighbourhood Plans for Barnwell, Ringstead and Warmington are all progressing, with publication of the 1st draft versions of these plans likely during 2019.

The Glapthorn Neighbourhood Plan referendum enjoyed huge local support with a 61% turnout. Thank you to all those who took part

Further information regarding neighbourhood planning is available at www.east-northamptonshire.gov.uk/neighbourhoodplanning or on 01832 742010.

Wildlife news

If you had to name our most easily recognised mammal which would you choose? Almost certainly the final count would be between the badger and the hedgehog, with the fox probably finishing close behind them, and rather strangely those two leaders have opposite fortunes at the moment.

Badgers have been blamed for being involved in the spread of tuberculosis, so killing some of the animals has been allowed; against that the numbers of hedgehogs have decreased drastically, and environmentalists are now looking for ways to stop this decline in the population of a creature so well known that it was christened Mrs Tiggy-Winkle in Beatrix Potter's children's books.

Fifty or more years ago hedgehogs were not hard to find; any short walk in the country would afford a glimpse of one, with a good view of those sharp needle-like spines. They were, of course, the first line of defence; at the first hint of any danger it would literally roll itself into a ball with those spikes pointing in all directions so that it needed a brave

(or hungry and foolish!) fox or badger to risk trying to uncurl the body to attack the animal from underneath (it sounds bloodthirsty, but how would you go about it?). If any inquisitive human should be man enough to try it without some protection, like a pair of stout gloves, he or she would quickly find out just how sharp those spines are. The best thing would be to gently coax it back into any convenient hedge.

Nowadays though the picture is much gloomier for several reasons, including careless methods of pest control in both fields and gardens, blocking of well-used tracks as housing estates spread, and the fact that rolling up in the middle of a main road is no defence whatsoever against motor vehicles. The end result: fewer hedgehogs. So we were pleased when a night-time camera showed a hedgehog ambling through; we had moved from a rural farm (which had very few anyway), hoping that the new address would be more attractive, but it took more than a year to get that sighting – and it hasn't been back yet!

Brand new science facilities unveiled at Prince William School in Oundle Pupils at Prince William School in Oundle can now enjoy science lessons using 21st-century learning facilities, following the opening of the school's new science block.

Work started on the construction of the new building in early 2017 and has been completed ready for the new school year.

The two-storey science block boasts 14 well-equipped laboratories to ensure pupils can benefit from the very best teaching environment.

The project is part of an extensive programme of refurbishment works at Prince William School, which is sponsored by the EMLC Academy Trust. The works will include investment in new buildings and redevelopment of existing teaching blocks.

Principal Elizabeth Dormor said: "This is a very exciting time for Prince William School, our staff, and our students as we carry out a significant refurbishment programme, starting with the opening of the new science block.

"The new teaching spaces feature impressive laboratory facilities and equipment to help our students reach their full potential in the science subjects. I can't wait to see the staff and pupils enjoying the new science block from September."

To mark the completion of the new science block, the school held a special science day for pupils on 16th July, including a visit from interactive science truck Titan II, which showcases the latest technology and engineering including robotics and virtual reality.

The next phase of development at the school will be the conversion of the former science block into a specialist maths building.

Young business brains take on the Dragons

East Northamptonshire's finest young business brains put their skills to the test at the final of the 12th Business Dragons event, hosted by East Northamptonshire Council (ENC).

The competition held in July and organised by The East Northamptonshire College saw teams of entrepreneurs from four local schools (Rushden Academy, The Ferrers School, Huxlow Science College and Manor School) pitch their ideas and business plans to a panel of local Business Dragons.

The 'Dragons' included Peter Waddup (Director of The Leprosy Mission), Lorna Wiltshire (Personal and Interior Stylist), Mark Carrington (Director of King Vehicle Engineering Limited) and Nikki Roberts (Manager of The Pavilion Youth Club).

The final, which was held at ENC on 13th July, gave the students the opportunity to present their original business ideas to the panel, having considered the design of the product, finance, staffing, manufacture, competition and profitability.

The Dragons then tested the knowledge and professionalism of each team with rigorous questioning about the benefit and effectiveness of their ideas.

The Winning Team Trophy, supplied by East Northamptonshire Council and presented by Cllr Helen Howell, Vice Chairman of ENC, went to Revise Easy Box from Manor School.

Their idea was to produce a simplistic product of revision material which meets the different techniques suited to how people revise. It's aimed at being an ideal solution for not only students but anyone that has to revise for an exam. The Dragons agreed that the product was an excellent idea that could be mass produced and was presented in a very confident and entertaining manner.

The Best Presentation Trophy, supplied by Manor School, Huxlow Science College and Rushden Academy, was awarded to Cosy Toes from Manor School, for their idea for heated socks, for those that do outdoor activities in the cold weather. The Dragons felt that this presentation was the most detailed, thorough and struggled to think of questions to ask as the presentation covered everything.

Flavoured, from Huxlow Science College, won the Most Commercially Viable Product Trophy, supplied by King Vehicle Engineering Limited. Their idea was for a bottle that has a section for concentrated juice to be stored which can be released in small quantities throughout the day. This would help reduce the need to keep buying bottles of flavoured water and hence reduce plastic waste, which the Dragons felt was incredibly important in helping to protect the environment.

Vice Chairman of East Northamptonshire Council, Helen Howell, said: "Once again the standard of the entries was fantastic and it's great to see such young minds thinking of ideas that could truly revolutionise the way we live. Well done to everyone who took part."

NFRS becomes first fire service in country to support GoodSAM app

A smartphone system which alerts the nearest off-duty first aid trained responders when someone has a cardiac arrest is now being supported by Northamptonshire firefighters.

Northamptonshire Fire and Rescue Service (NFRS) is the first fire service in the country to have signed up in support of the GoodSAM app.

The app triggers alerts to the three closest first aid trained responders when a 999 call is received for an ambulance, in order to deliver quality CPR until the emergency services arrive.

When a 999 call comes through to East Midlands Ambulance Service (EMAS), if the symptoms of the patient are likely to indicate a cardiac arrest, the GoodSAM platform is automatically notified. The app uses the location of the patient to identify the nearest responders and asks them to assist. An ambulance is still deployed in the usual way.

These off duty, volunteer responders are signed up because they know how to deliver quality CPR as part of their usual work. They typically include doctors, police, nurses and firefighters.

On scene in seconds

Professor Mark Wilson, neurosurgeon and co-founder of GoodSAM said: "If a patient has a cardiac arrest, it is the first few minutes after the incident that determine the outcome – life, death, or long-term brain injury. In this time frame, we could never employ enough paramedics to be on scene in seconds – hence we need to alert people with the skills in the surrounding few hundred metres.

"GoodSAM can revolutionise our ability to get to the patient immediately and improve outcomes. Harnessing the community for the benefit of the community, this is an entirely voluntary system. GoodSAM responders can either accept or reject the request, depending on whether they are available at the time. If the request is rejected it will be passed on to the next nearest responder until the ambulance arrives."

The GoodSAM app has been running for three years and EMAS issued 13,000 alerts last year. A GoodSAM responder arrived on scene in 56 per cent of cases (7,280). Of these, 1,500 were cardiac arrests for which CPR could be performed.

Lifesaving expertise

NFRS Group Commander Mick Conlon said: "GoodSAM works by deploying people who are not at work but nevertheless carry around the lifesaving expertise that could really help someone who has a cardiac arrest.

"How many times have people suffered cardiac arrests and had to wait for CPR to be administered after the arrival of an ambulance crew, when someone in the next street away may have been qualified to help them?"

"We are busy signing up NFRS responder volunteers to the app as so many firefighters are keen to use their professional medical skills to help save lives, whether on or off duty."

Long-term future of outdoor learning centre secured

Children will continue to get a taste for adventure at Longtown Outdoor Learning Centre after an agreement for it to be sold to The Wilson Foundation has secured its future.

Northamptonshire County Council has agreed the sale of Longtown to The Wilson Foundation, who will continue to offer outdoor education opportunities for young people.

The sale of Longtown ensures the continued employment of staff, and is intended to achieve best value for the council and secure the long-term future of the service.

The Wilson Foundation is a charitable youth development organisation for Northamptonshire based in the county. It has invested in Longtown for many years.

The newly established Longtown Outdoor Learning Trust (LOLT) will continue to operate Longtown as an outdoor education centre and will honour all existing bookings.

As part of the purchase, The Wilson Foundation has committed to invest in significantly improving facilities and making it "a nationally renowned centre of excellence for outdoor education".

Northamptonshire County Council cabinet member for children, families and education, Cllr Victoria Perry said: "It's great to see that these fantastic outdoor activities that Northamptonshire children have enjoyed over decades will continue.

"The memorable experiences which children receive at Longtown not only have an immediate impact on shaping their confidence and life-skills but, by introducing them to outdoor activities, can go on to have a positive impact on their health and mental wellbeing throughout their lives."

Longtown Outdoor Learning Centre is a 70 bed residential centre for young people in the picturesque surroundings of Brecon Beacons National Park on the Welsh border of Herefordshire.

The facility has two main buildings: The Courthouse, a Grade II listed building and the Monnow Wing, an accommodation block with disabled access together with training rooms, stores and a workshop. The 16-acre site also has a range of activity equipment including a canoe training pool, climbing tower, rope courses and woodland.

The sale is due for completion on 1st September 2018.

East Northants Snooker League

Into week 12 of the ENSL Summer League. Unfortunately, the Committee had to make the difficult decision to remove the Windmill G team from the league. Due to a player shortage they'd begun to miss a number of their fixtures. Therefore, they have been removed from the league along with all of the points for and against. Whilst this is the best decision for the league, it has shaken things up as teams that had played Windmill G earlier in the season now see their overall points tally changed. Windmill C and Higham Mecca both had a BYE fixture this week so had to sit it out and hope that the results went in their favour, and to a large extent they did. Windmill C hung on to second place with a game in hand. Higham Mecca drop down one place but are just nine points off the leaders with three games in hand, so are in a much stronger position than their 4th place league standing may suggest.

Windmill Underdogs took on Coopers Ball Bashers at home this week. Neal Vaughan played solidly against Martyn Hatton winning both frames by some margin. Frank Perkins was next for Underdogs as he played Lee Bunker. Both teams had drafted in their reserve players in the final game. However, in the last Dave managed to get his own back as he took the frame to give Underdogs the overall 4-2 win and push them up into 5th place in the table.

Higham SAS hosted Coopers Troopers this week. Pete Beerten won his first frame on the final black against Roger Hayes-Roome. However, Roger showed great resolve as he potted well to win the next frame easily. This rescued a 3-3 draw for the home team.

Windmill Warriors were up against the bottom team, Coopers D. Michael Dicks looked very strong once again as he knocked in an early 38 break in the opening frame against John Simpson. But John held on and potted the final few colours to win the frame by six points. Overall score: Warriors 4, Coopers D 2.

Windmill Underdogs 4-2
Coopers Ball Bashers
Higham SAS 3-3 Coopers Troopers
Windmill Warriors 4-2 Coopers D
Windmill C = BYE
Higham Mecca = BYE

If you are interested in joining the League, you can find us via Facebook or Google – East Northants Snooker League. We would welcome more teams.
