In Brief

The animal licensing law has changed

New legislation came into effect on 1st October which will impact how residents and local businesses buy and sell pets, use day care or animal boarding services and keep and train animals for exhibitions.

Anyone selling pets, and dog breeders operating as a business or breeding more than three litters a year, needs to apply for a licence from the council.

Adverts selling pets must now include:

- The licence number
- Name of local authority issuing the licence
- Photograph and age of pet
- County of origin and residence of pet

If you're looking to buy a pet, it is important that you make sure that the seller is legitimate.

Visit: www.northantslicensing.gov.uk or contact the licensing team: Central Licensing Administration Unit, East Northamptonshire Council, Cedar Drive, Thrapston, NN14 4LZ, Tel: 01832 742102, email: licensingunit@east-northamptonshire.gov.uk

Joint commemoration exhibition in Oundle

Oundle School, supported by the town's Museum, are presenting an exhibition commemorating the centenary of the end of the First World War at the Yarrow Gallery between the 5th and 11th of November. The aim of the display will be to tell the story of the School and the town as well as giving an idea of what life was like for both during the war. Featured items will include memorials, photographs, maps, books, diaries and much more from the School's archives, the Museum, and the families of those who fought in the War.

Examples include: extracts from John Coleman Binder's diary – a baker, grocer and Town Councillor – bringing a first-hand account of what was happening in Oundle during the war; the Great War diary of AF Elliott, RAMC, son of Dr C N Elliott, North Street, and Oundle School day boy in 1896;

the recently acquired William Howard Livens collection, including his medals the MC and DSO, plus photographs showing the King and Queen inspecting one of his inventions, the Livens Projector which 'improved' the distribution of poisonous gas at the Front.

The exhibition also highlights the role of F W Sanderson, Headmaster, Chairman of the District Council and JP, who initiated the development of the School's workshops, which during WW1 were given over completely to the war effort, with the pupils turning out handmade horseshoes and munitions for the Woolwich Arsenal. Throughout the war Sanderson stood in front of pupils to read out the Old Boy Roll of Honour, listing those killed, the majority of whom he had seen pass through the School; it would have been particularly poignant when, in April 1918 he had to read out the name of his own son.

Genealogy jottings

"It says what?" Transcribers are only human and humans make mistakes. Some handwriting can be extremely challenging to read – to say the least! In fact, my old boss used to bring me things that he had written and could no longer read because of his appalling handwriting. He knew that I was used to reading strange documents! Mary Ann Miller, aged 28 in 1861, has her occupation transcribed by one website as Tempstress. I rather think that this is an error as her two daughters aged 9 and 7 also have that as their occupation. Looking at the original, I think that Sempstress (the old word for Seamstress) is a far safer conclusion. If you have access to the census and would like to take a peek, the reference is: RG9, Piece 60, folio 40, page 26. Handwriting can be taxing at times but please don't give up. Ask someone else to have a look as well.

The 1841 census record is not the easiest to read either. Written by the enumerators who often just recorded what they had heard

By Jan Pearson
Genealogy Specialists, Tracing Our Past, Discovering Our Genes (TOP DOG)
www.genealogy-specialists.com

– or what they thought had been recorded – in many cases they just used pencil rather than pen. Faded writing to add into the equation as well! If you are looking at these images on the computer, then enlarging the document might help. Or, if you have image enhancing software, making a positive image into a negative can also produce results. White on black instead of black/grey on white.

Abbreviations were also widely used. 'Do' was used in many cases instead of 'ditto', meaning the same as the word above. I have lost count of the times that I have seen 'Do' transcribed as a surname... Then we have Jno instead of John, Th.s instead of Thomas, Jas instead of James, to name just a few. Don't forget, 'Dau' can also be used instead of 'Daughter'.

Editor's notes

First, our seasonal reminder about the change from Daylight Saving Time (DST) on Sunday 28th October, when clocks need to be put back one hour. It seems that if the European Commission gets its way, this could be the last EU-wide co-ordinated change. If their initiative is successful, the last DST period will start on 31st March 2019; thereafter, each member state would decide whether they stay on 'summer time' (DST) year-round or change their clocks once more on Sunday, 27th October 2019 to observe permanent standard time in subsequent years. If we are out, or nearly out, of the EU by then we will be able to decide for ourselves anyway.

Another seasonal topic is bonfires. These seem to have fallen out of favour as a way of 'celebrating' the failed Gunpowder Plot on 5th November each year but at least one national newspaper was recently promoting the idea of a chain of fires across the country on 11th November to mark the 100th anniversary of the end of the Great War; as you will see in our report, one of these will be at Little Addington.

Initially, this seems like a great idea but it's not difficult to imagine the emergency services, particularly the Fire Service, being extremely concerned about the impact of a series of ill-conceived ad hoc bonfires. So, whether you have a bonfire on the 11th or a fire plus fireworks on the 5th, do be sure to stick to the recommendations of the Northamptonshire Fire and Rescue Service.

Elsewhere in this edition we note that more local events are being held to commemorate the end of the First World War. There's the lunchtime recital in Peterborough on the 25th of this month, art in Cotterstock Church on 3rd/4th November, the exhibition at 8 West Street, Rushden throughout November and the Oundle exhibition, 5th–11th November.

Local bus services are set to improve at least in terms of the comfort and facilities on offer as Stagecoach announces an investment of over £3m in luxury buses for the X4 service. The 13 new vehicles, which are due to be unveiled as this edition of the NVN goes to the printers, come with additional features including USB charging points and free Wi-Fi; they also have environmentally friendly Euro 6 engines and some will be fitted with contactless payment technology.

The service operates seven days a week between Northampton, Wellingborough, Kettering, Corby, Oundle and Peterborough.

Phil Medicott, MD for Stagecoach Midlands, said: "We are thrilled to be introducing 13 brand new Stagecoach Gold vehicles to one of our most popular routes. With the added features we hope these vehicles will encourage people out of their cars."

It remains to be seen if the impending weight and width restriction on the Oundle North bridge will have an impact on the X4!

Oundle cellist marks war centenary with Cello Concerto performance

Oundle cellist Nathaniel Watson, 17, will be performing Edward Elgar's poignant Cello Concerto, with piano accompaniment, at St John the Baptist, Peterborough Cathedral Square, on Thursday 25th October at 1pm.

A-level student Nathaniel, who lives in Oundle and went to Laxton Junior School, is a regular performer in the area. He has taken part in the Oundle Festival of Music and Drama and lunchtime recitals at St Peter's Oundle, as well as giving solo recitals at Peterborough Cathedral and at Fotheringhay Church. He will be playing the Elgar Concerto with the Eton College Symphony Orchestra in December, so this is a chance to hear him first on home ground with masterly accompaniment by the distinguished pianist and conductor Naomi Woo, currently studying for a doctorate in music at Clare College, Cambridge.

Nathaniel said: "I'm looking forward to playing in the ancient beautiful church of St John's and I hope I can attract some passers-by to spend 40 minutes listening to one of the best-loved cello concertos. It was written in the aftermath of the First World War and powerfully expresses the anguish of the conflict. It's especially fitting to be playing it so close to the 100th anniversary of the Armistice."

The Barnwell themed bonfire

What will the theme be this year? We can tell you that it is on Sunday 4th November. The Barnwell Bonfire party takes place annually on the Village Hall field and has gained an enviable reputation over many years. The spectacular fireworks, high quality food, friendly village welcome and enormous bonfire have been well known locally for over 25 years. Every year sees new ideas. The highly original and locally unique concept of building a themed bonfire began five years ago with the construction of a Norman castle reminiscent of their own Barnwell Castle.

The theme this year is again a closely guarded secret, although a trip to, and a little eavesdropping in, the Montagu Arms may give some clues. The plan is to continue to expand the experience, following last year's Hogwarts Express, making it a little more theatrical. Well that's the plan.

From the car park in the recreation ground at the top of church hill it is just a short walk down the hill, past the church, village green (look out for a surprise here), through the pub yard and up to the field. Here you will find a variety of food, fabulous drinks, fairy lights and music. The highlight is the 'installation' which will be simmering in the corner, waiting for the time it is sent up in flames.

Last year Guy Fawkes was accompanied on the bonfire by Donald from America. Who will be with Guy this year is still a matter of fierce debate? It may well depend on what the youth club decide to make.

What is known is that the whole evening will end with even more spectacular fireworks than before. The firework company promises a few surprises.

Gates are open from 5pm to allow time for walking down the hill, viewing the installation and having a bite to eat and drink before the fire is lit at 6.45pm. Oh, and the profits are used to improve the facilities at the Village Hall so what's not to like? See you there!

MODERN ACUPUNCTURE

During our health and wellbeing week, it's a good time to think about acupuncture if you haven't tried it before.

Have you ever wondered about the benefits of acupuncture? Local practitioner Spod Dutton is your guide to the top 5 Facts About Acupuncture:

- 1 We work alongside conventional medicine - Acupuncture practitioners value the benefits provided by conventional medicine. When a patient who is using conventional medicine comes to see us we try our best to dovetail with conventional medicine and provide the best all-round treatment possible.
- 2 There is more to acupuncture than needles - An acupuncturist has many tools in the box! Cupping involves the application of vacuum cups to promote local circulation and accelerate the body's own repair mechanisms; moxibustion is a heat-based therapy that, in effect, 'turbocharges' the treatment. We also take into account lifestyle and advise on diet, exercise and posture.
- 3 It can be measured scientifically - The effect of acupuncture on the body can be measured, including the release of neurological co-transmitters, changes in brain activity and the release of endorphins: the body's 'feel good' chemicals.
- 4 It can help with many different physical and emotional problems - The World Health Organisation lists a wide variety of diseases or disorders for which acupuncture therapy has been tested in controlled clinical trials. These include musculoskeletal pain such as backache, plus headaches and migraine, anxiety and stress, even insomnia.

5 You won't feel like a pin cushion -

Acupuncture as delivered in the UK is a very gentle intervention. The needles are so fine that the patient often doesn't even feel the insertion. An average treatment might involve the use of only four needles.

If you have any further questions about acupuncture or you would like to talk about acupuncture treatment based in Stanwick, call Spod Dutton on 01933 779973 or visit modern-acupuncture.co.uk

HIGHAM EYE CARE

Higham Eye Care is the independent optician for Higham Ferrers and the surrounding area. The lead optometrists, Hannah and Tricia, are sisters who each have over 20 years' experience.

Tricia explains that "regular eye examinations are advised not only to ensure that you have the best vision possible but to check both eye and general health. The blood vessels on the retina inside the eye are the only ones in the whole body that can be observed working in situ and so can provide important information about your general health. We can help in the early detection of blood pressure, cholesterol, diabetes and thyroid problems."

Hannah says that she is "very excited as we now provide an enhanced eye examination using a 3D OCT."

OCT (Optical Coherence Topography) is a completely painless, highly advanced eye scan for people of all ages. It is similar to ultrasound, using light rather than sound waves to image the different layers that make up the structure at the front and the back of your eye. Common, potentially serious conditions that the OCT can identify are Age Related Macular Degeneration, Diabetes and Glaucoma.

For more information on OCT contact Higham Eye Care on 01933 317000 or email info@highameyecare.co.uk, www.highameyecare.co.uk

NENE VALLEY OSTEOPATHY

In today's modern world, many of us suffer from injuries and pain not only from our hobbies, but from our lifestyles, work and illnesses too. All too often we see only the symptoms being treated but sometimes we need to look at why the pain is originally occurring, not just that it's there. Sciatica is a prime example of this. We often hear that someone has sciatica, but the definition of it is pain affecting the leg, not what causes it.

There are things we can do at home to help stop aggravating pain such as active rest, avoiding things that make the pain worse whilst still keeping ourselves mobile, and being conscious that we don't have poor posture. However, sometimes the problem can get the better of us, and seeking further help is then a good idea, but where should you go?

At Nene Valley Osteopathy we look slightly differently at the issue. By trying to help you discover the root cause of the problem, we approach your pain in an honest, straightforward fashion. Our treatments are a combination of hands-on therapy and supporting advice that works with your lifestyle in a way that makes perfect sense.

A CHARTERED PHYSIOTHERAPIST IN HIGHAM

Chartered physiotherapist, Pierre Bonnaud, has joined the rehab team at The Ashgrove Clinic in Higham Ferrers. His aim is to help you avoid long waiting lists for physiotherapy. Pierre says (with a tiny hint of French accent): "I want to get people back on their feet. Exercise is important as part of rehab and for reducing pain, but you need to know which exercises are appropriate.

"Whether you've just had a joint replacement, or whether you've got a groin strain and can't train, I'm here to help you get better, and better."

But can osteopaths and physiotherapists work together? "At Ashgrove, definitely!" says osteopath Jo Jones, owner of The Rushden Osteopathic Clinic, which joined forces with Ashgrove earlier in the year. "One of the reasons we're working at Ashgrove is so we can offer more options to our Rushden patients."

Pierre adds: "And we will make your rehab easy! Your normal daily activities can be your rehab, so you don't have to do hours of boring exercises. We can even turn hoovering into rehab!"

To find out if Pierre or the team can help you, call 01933 469043 to book a free initial consultation.

Artist returns

Commemorating the Centenary of Armistice Day, in Cotterstock Church, PE8 5HD

Do you remember this installation that London based artist Angela Wright created in St. Andrew's Church in June 2017?

Angela will return to Cotterstock on the weekend of 3rd-4th November to create another art installation to commemorate Armistice Day. Angela's work will be very different this year as she is creating a large wave with wire which will be decorated with 1,500 poppies that villagers are busily knitting and crocheting. This collaboration came about because of the positive feedback received last year.

Angela attended the London College of Fashion and ran her own business designing and making dresses for Liberty of London. She graduated from Camberwell College of Art and has a BA in Fine Art and Ceramics and has exhibited her work in many galleries in London. Angela enjoys installing works in different types of locations including churches, cathedrals and abbeys. She has created works in many prestigious buildings, most recently in Southwark Cathedral and St Peter De Beauvoir, London in April of this year.

There will be an opportunity to meet Angela and hear her talking about her work on Friday 2nd November in St Andrew's at 7pm. Tickets are £5 available from Harpur's of Oundle 01832 274050 (this includes a complimentary glass of wine or juice). Alongside Angela, local historian David Bond will give an illustrated talk about 'War Memorials and the Significance of the Poppy'. Angela's work can also be viewed on the weekend of 3rd-4th November from 11am-5pm. Tea, coffee, cold drinks and delicious homemade cakes will be on sale. Admission is free but donations towards the upkeep of St Andrew's will be gratefully received. There will be toilet facilities at the church.

Benedict Allen: Ultimate Explorer

Thursday 1st November, 7.30pm, The Great Hall, Oundle School

Benedict Allen, one of the world's most renowned adventurer-explorers, will be coming to Oundle as part of his brand-new tour of the UK.

Allen will tell the whole unvarnished truth of his most recent adventure – a solo expedition to Papua New Guinea, during which he filmed his journey to visit a community he had befriended thirty years earlier, when he hit the headlines after failing to turn up for a flight to Hong Kong, prompting his friends and family, and eventually the world media, to become concerned for his wellbeing.

Benedict will recall the highs and lows of this awe-inspiring trip, tell exhilarating tales from his life as an explorer and show never-before-seen material from his travels.

'This is a hugely exciting venture for me. I can't wait to travel the UK and share my experiences of some of the most testing, but also wonderfully inspiring, corners of the globe' – Benedict Allen.

Regularly filming his intrepid expeditions, Benedict's most recent television series was Birds Of Paradise: The Ultimate Quest (BBC Two), a two-part series which aired in February 2017, in which Allen was joined by BBC Security Correspondent and avid birdwatcher Frank Gardner. Allen's goal was to help Gardner, a wheelchair user, fulfil his lifelong dream of seeing birds of paradise.

His six series for the BBC include Travellers' Century, Skeleton Coast, Edge of Blue Heaven, Last of the Medicine Men and Ice Dogs. He also recently presented Adventures for Boys: The Lost Worlds of Henry Rider Haggard and was a contributor to BBC Two's Extreme Dreams.

Allen is also the author of 10 books, including The Faber Book of Exploration and Into the Abyss. He has written numerous articles for newspapers and magazines and is a popular corporate motivational speaker.

In 2010 Benedict became a trustee and member of Council of the Royal Geographical Society. This is a two-hour event including a 20-minute interval. Suitable for all ages.

Special scheme sees residents collect tonnes of domestic waste

Over 10 tonnes of household waste was collected at a recent waste amnesty organised by East Northamptonshire Council.

Working in partnership with FCC Environment and Rockingham Forest Housing, homeowners in the Highfield Road area of Rushden took advantage of the scheme to help households throw away any unwanted items or waste.

In just under one hour on Saturday 29th September, the team collected hundreds of sacks of general and garden waste as well as seven fridge freezers. The garden waste will be recycled, as well as any white goods via the Waste Electrical and Electronic Equipment recycling scheme.

Children also took part in a community litter-pick organised by a local housing association which added to the great haul of waste.

Leader of East Northamptonshire Council, Cllr Steven North, said: "This is a wonderful achievement by all involved and once again shows what can be accomplished when organisations and residents work together to improve the area we live in."

If you want to organise your own community litter-pick, email the waste team on waste@east-northamptonshire.gov.uk. All equipment you should need can be supplied and waste can be collected at the end of the day.

Quiz night success

Raunds Deputy Mayor, Cllr Lee Wilkes, and his consort Cllr Helen Howell were delighted to represent Raunds Town Council in supporting the Manor School Quiz. Organised by quizmaster and teacher James Guest, and raising a magnificent £1,926, the quiz helped raise funds towards a school trip for students to Ecuador, where they will volunteer to help improve the lives of local people as well as developing life-changing personal skills.

Council supports project to tackle fuel poverty

Organisations across the county have come together to launch a new project, which will help to address fuel poverty across Northamptonshire.

The Northamptonshire Energy Saving Service (known as NESS) is a new three-year project (2018 – 2021), which will launch at Kings Park Conference Centre on Friday 19th October, to coincide with the start of the heating season.

The project has been established following funding from National Grid's Warm Homes Fund to address fuel poverty across the county, which is where an individual cannot adequately heat their home, and will deliver energy advice; ensure income maximisation and practical measures to improve the warmth of homes.

Established by Northamptonshire County Council and delivered by Community Law Service in partnership with friends in the local voluntary and charity sector, East Northamptonshire Council is supporting the project and Chairman, Cllr Wendy Brackenbury will be attending the launch event.

Speaking ahead of the event, Cllr Brackenbury said: "Now that autumn has officially arrived, we are all thinking about turning on our heating and enjoying cosy evenings at home. There are a number of residents across our district, and Northamptonshire, who are living in fuel poverty. We are dedicated to supporting NESS and ensuring that those residents have access to sufficient heating throughout the colder months."

Then and now

Nene Valley Community Action has been carrying out a Heritage Lottery Funded project over the past year.

1918-2018 'Then & Now' has been looking at the changes which have taken place over the 100 years since the end of the First World War. The project has worked with schools, community groups and local volunteers to explore the changes in food, clothing, toys and schooling. The group has also been gathering information and stories about some of the men whose names appear on Rushden's war memorial. To showcase the group's work, Nene Valley Community Action is hosting an exhibition.

The exhibition will be open to the general public and will take place at 8 West Street, Rushden, Monday to Thursday, 10am to 2pm throughout November. It will also be open on Saturday 10th November, 10am to 2pm. All are welcome. If you are interested in bringing a group to view the exhibition or would like any further information please telephone 01933 313526.

Kettlebell Pentathlon

On 6th October a group of 35 likeminded people gathered at Ferrers School, Higham Ferrers, to lift kettlebells at the English Kettlebell Association Pentathlon UK Open. The competitors, men, women and children with different abilities, experience and backgrounds shared common ground in terms of a desire to be the best they can be. The Pentathlon consists of five different lifts each with a duration of six minutes. There is a five-minute break between each lift and each competitor is allowed up to five different kettlebells to choose from for their lifts. There were 12 representatives from Rushden Kettlebell Club, the youngest just 8 years old.

Rushden Kettlebell Club has now been running for a couple of years and the members consist of several international standard athletes who compete regularly both at home and abroad. Del Wilson, who is the club coach training out of Unit Fitness in Rushden, is the Team Captain for the England Kettlebell Marathon team and is a multiple World Champion, holding several high rank certificates within the sport. He said: "I'm very proud of the efforts of my club at the Pentathlon at the weekend. Kettlebell sport is very tough both physically and mentally and it takes a lot of discipline to keep going when every fibre of your body is telling you to stop."

"Each of my Club members gave it everything and several of them came away with a medal, including young Coral Cox at just 8 years old. She was tremendous and has picked up the technique for the lifts very well indeed. Mum and dad also took part making it a real family affair."

The amazing sandwiches and cakes provided for the athletes and spectators came courtesy of Mrs B's from Rushden. This is the fourth event that Del has organised and the plan is to make the Pentathlon a twice yearly competition. Kettlebell sport provides challenge, motivation and a sense of community. Anyone wanting further information can contact Del at del@kettlebellnation.com. Photos courtesy of Jason Huckle.

Knife crime confirmed as the new subject for Northamptonshire County Schools Challenge

Knife crime has been announced as the new subject for the Northamptonshire County Schools Challenge (NCSC) 2019. Schools across the county are already signing up to take part in this annual competition which asks students to create social enterprise ideas to help educate or support their peers on a particular subject.

The aim of this year's challenge is to help students gain a greater awareness of the dangers of carrying a bladed weapon, help prevent knife crime and reduce the number of injuries caused by using a bladed weapon.

PCSO Alex Franklin, a member of the NCSC steering group, launched the new subject by delivering a talk at Kettering Science Academy, one of the schools taking part. In the coming weeks, more talks will be delivered at different schools to introduce the subject to pupils who have signed up to take part.

PCSO Franklin said: "Knife crime has been on the rise in Northamptonshire in recent years, with 1,235 incidents taking place in 2017-2018.

"We know there are more young people nowadays carrying knives, so using the County Schools Challenge seems to be a perfect way to reach a key target audience to talk about knife crime.

"Unfortunately so many youngsters get involved with knives without really thinking through the dangers these weapons pose, perhaps mistakenly connecting knives with safety and protection. The truth of the matter is carrying a knife can only mean greater risk to you or to someone else and the consequences can be devastating.

"I really look forward to seeing what this year's County Schools Challenge teams come up with. Young people have such a great influence on each other, the ideas coming from this year's topic could end up saving lives."

NCSC, which is now in its 10th year, is usually run with Year 8 or 9 pupils and most schools carry out an in-house competition to identify one team to then take part in the semi-finals and present to a Dragons' Den style panel.

The best teams from the semis are put forward for the grand final, where they have the opportunity to win £2,000 and the right support to turn their social enterprise idea into a reality.

Previous subjects have included road safety, drugs and psychoactive substances, healthy relationships and e-safety.

Organisers are currently accepting applications from schools hoping to put forward teams for the 2019 challenge. Representatives from schools are welcome to email NCSC at ncsc@northants.pnn.police.uk or call Henny Cameron on 101, extension 345678. The final will take place on 8th July 2019, at The Castle Theatre in Wellingborough.

Tackling knife crime is one of the force's priorities as part of Operation Viper, Northamptonshire Police's crackdown on serious and organised crime. Information relating to knife crime, or about anyone who carries a knife, can be reported via 101 or anonymously to Crimestoppers on 0800 555111.

The Oundle Jigsaw – Volunteer Action's latest fundraiser

Volunteer Action (VA) is a local charity which operates in Oundle, Thrapston, and 50 surrounding villages. Its principal activity is the running of a community car scheme which aims to provide reasonably-priced transport for those in genuine need. Its 75 volunteer drivers take passengers to hospital, surgery or dental appointments, and for social and shopping trips. Demand for this service is growing and more drivers are needed, particularly those based in Thrapston, Warmington and Wansford. VA also provides a befriending service, with befrienders giving one-to-one support and companionship for the elderly, and those isolated by disability. Again demand is growing and additional befrienders are urgently needed.

VA is partly funded by grants from Local Authorities and the NHS, but also relies on donations from individuals and organisations, and its own fundraising activities. Following an earlier success with the Oundle Monopoly game, Oundle Volunteer Action's latest fund-raising initiative is The Oundle Jigsaw. Based on an original illustration by Gillian Dolby of Oundle's Dolby Gallery, the 1000-piece jigsaw features shops and other buildings in the town centre, plus a host of residents and other pedestrians, both real and imaginary, going about their daily business. The jigsaw retails at £20 and is available at The Oundle Bookshop, Colemans Stationers and Dolby Gallery, and would make an ideal Christmas present for local residents & anyone associated with the town.

All proceeds from sales of the jigsaw will go to the VA charity – for further details see www.volunteeractionoundle.org.uk. Also if you can help as a volunteer driver, or as a befriender, please contact VA's manager Liz Holland on 01832 275433.

From the Chairman

The highlight over the last couple of weeks was attending the Bernard Vann VC Memorial Day held in Rushden. The memorial and commemorative service marked the posthumous award of the Victoria Cross, 100 years ago, to Lieutenant Colonel, The Reverend Bernard Vann who was born and lived in Rushden.

He was the only ordained Church of England clergyman to be awarded the VC as a combatant and a commemorative stone was unveiled by his two grandsons at the parade.

The Victoria Cross was awarded to Bernard Vann for his actions on 29th September 1918 at Bellenglise and Lehaucourt, France. Bernard Vann was commissioned into the Sherwood Foresters and it was good to see veterans of the former regiment and their successors, The Mercian Regiment, along with their regimental mascot, Private Derby 32nd, a Swaledale Ram.

A viewpoint at Rushden Lakes recognises Bernard Vann and is located on the Nature Trail's one-mile wheelchair and pushchair friendly path around the lake, facing south towards Rushden. Just one of the many walks around the district which can be enjoyed in the wonderful autumn weather we are experiencing as I write this column.

This year, as we mark 100 years since the end of WWI, it is important that we remember the sacrifices made by men and women both before and since for the freedoms we have today.

*ENC Chairman,
Cllr Wendy Brackenbury*

Heritage Family Fun Day

The Higham Ferrers and Rushden Heritage Family Fun Day took place on Sunday 16th September at Rushden Lakes. The fun-filled day was held as part of the annual 10-day Nene Valley Festival and as a part of the National Heritage open weekends.

The event was organised by Rushden and Higham Ferrers Town Councils, supported by Rushden Lakes and brought together a family day out with an opportunity for new visitors to learn all about the heritage and history of the local towns.

Local businesses from Rushden and Higham Ferrers were invited to have a stall free of charge at the event. Over 35 local businesses and community groups were pleased to be able to take up this opportunity and attended on the day – feedback has been extremely positive from all parties.

The entertainment at the event included performances by Rushden Town Band, medieval fun and entertainment, heritage displays, family activities and a chance for the Higham Chichele Society to launch their fascinating, illustrated timeline of Higham Ferrers, plus an excellent chance to browse the local business stalls.

A 'Shop Local in Rushden and Higham Ferrers High Streets' booklet containing over 48 redeemable discount vouchers was compiled and produced in September by the Town Councils. Over 1,500 booklets were given out to visitors at the Heritage Family Fun Day, a further 500 booklets have been distributed amongst the shops on both High Streets.

Other giveaways handed out on the day included approximately 500 promotional shopping bags containing interesting local literature aimed at encouraging new visitors to come and explore the nearby towns.

The aim of the Heritage Family Fun Day was not only to raise awareness of all that is available in Rushden and Higham Ferrers but also to showcase the local heritage and offer a snippet of information about the local history.

How to stay safe this autumn

People across the borough are gearing up for Halloween and Bonfire Night. Northants Police and Fire Service and the Borough Council of Wellingborough are providing hints and tips to help make sure these seasonal festivities can be enjoyed by everyone.

Halloween can be fun for adults and youngsters, but not everyone chooses to join in the celebrations. Don't knock on doors where you see a 'no trick or treat sign', and try and stick to houses that are decorated with pumpkins outside. Parents, be sure to accompany your little ones while out and about and plan your route beforehand, going to houses where you know the residents. Stay in places that are well lit, and take a torch with you. And remember: pop your pumpkins in your compost bin once they're finished with.

Once the Halloween decorations and costumes are put away, people will begin preparing for Bonfire Night. To make sure that people of all ages can enjoy the celebrations, supervise young children away from fireworks, bonfires and sparklers. Sparklers should be kept away from children under 5.

If you're hosting a Bonfire Party, only buy fireworks from a licensed retailer with a CE mark. Ensure that fireworks are lit away from properties at arms length and always have a bucket of water handy. At the end of the night, pour water on the embers and make sure that you collect all used fireworks and, once they're completely cool, dispose of them in black bins.

Amanda Wilcox, Principal Environmental Health Manager at the Borough Council of Wellingborough, said: "Autumn is a great time of year for families to come together and celebrate Halloween and Bonfire Night. We would urge residents to be responsible when out and about trick-or-treating or attending a Bonfire Night celebration and keep an eye on youngsters and senior citizens to make sure everyone has a safe and enjoyable time."

Champion dog

About four years ago, the Swivel Club helped to fund training for Elkie to become a Diabetic Alert Dog. Her owner, John Stave, who lives in Rushden, and his wife Lorraine, acquired Elkie, a Springer Spaniel who was 18 weeks old, from a company in Ireland. The plan was for her to return to Ireland at 12 months old, to be trained.

Unfortunately the company let John and Lorraine down, and Elkie still needed to be trained. They found an ex-Police Dog trainer locally, and the Swivel Club charity funded all the training. Elkie was enthusiastic, and showed a natural ability to reach a high standard. She passed the Kennel Club Good Citizen Award for obedience.

She has excelled herself, and has on several occasions alerted John when his glucose levels have become critical, even when John has been sleeping, preventing John from falls.

A few weeks ago John and Lorraine received a letter informing them that Elkie had been nominated as a finalist in the ASDA Hero Dog Award, at the National Pet Show in Manchester on 6th-7th October.

John was unable to attend, due to having had knee surgery. Lorraine and a neighbour attended the event and were stunned when Elkie was announced as the winner.

Proud owners John and Lorraine continue to attend the Swivel Club events at Rushden Town Bowls Club. They always take Elkie along and are often asked about how she was trained. They are more than happy to explain their good fortune, and how lucky they feel, thanking all the supporters of Swivel Club, known for 'Turning Lives Around'.

OSCAR Radio celebrates its 20th year making broadcasting history

OSCAR Radio, Oundle School's vocal hub and the only station to be run and directed exclusively by pupils, is celebrating its 20th year on air with a four-week broadcast starting on 7th November.

Giving pupils of all ages the chance to plan, produce and present programmes of their own making, the station has created a wonderful centre for all members of the Oundle School community to showcase their talents. A team of nine Upper Sixth Form pupils, assisted by a further 20 deputies, run aspects of the radio from recruitment to marketing to timetabling and all pupils are given the opportunity to run a show.

Managing Directors, Ed Hodgson (17) and Pandora Bannister (18), commented: "OSCAR Radio is one of the school's best assets, and to be leading it into its 20th anniversary broadcast is a real privilege. We hope to get more pupils involved than ever before in the unique opportunities that the radio offers; and for the listeners, to provide more varied, exciting content to propel OSCAR into its third decade."

Teacher in charge of OSCAR Radio, Chris Pettitt, said: "OSCAR Radio was conceived by my predecessor, David Fuller, in 1998 and has gone from strength to strength during the 20 years of its existence. I took over in 2005 and it has been a great honour to watch as generations of Oundle pupils have benefited from the management, journalistic and media experience that

OSCAR has offered them. Happy birthday OSCAR, here's to the next 20 years!"

OSCAR Radio reaches a 30-square-mile range via FM Radio 87.9FM, and globally on oscar-radio.org. With the fresh and innovative ideas of pupils wanting to create and host their own shows, OSCAR Radio has enjoyed a diverse selection of programmes from music and news to interviews and sport, each as interesting and creative as the next.

Commenting on this milestone for the School, Head Mrs Kerr-Dineen, said: "OSCAR Radio is a source of great pride for Oundle School and gives unique journalism and leadership opportunities to our pupils. It is wonderful to see it go from strength to strength as it celebrates its 20th birthday."

The upcoming broadcast will run from 7th November-4th December with all the diversity of programmes that OSCAR always aims to deliver. This year, the radio's instagram (@oscar_radio_official) account has been revamped and will be offering information on what's on as well as new ways to participate throughout the broadcast.

Listeners will be able to tune in on their radios or use the live streaming utility on OSCAR's website where they can also listen to podcasts. Thanks to an update of the OSCAR website last year, listeners all over the globe are able to listen in and access the programmes and information about OSCAR. 20th anniversary festivities will be occurring all month, with newly-made jingles from some of the most influential managing directors in OSCAR history.
