In Brief

Help on hand for carers

Are you a carer who is providing support for a relative or friend who has a disability, long-term illness or other additional needs?

Do you live in Higham Ferrers or Rushden?

Do you feel that you could benefit from a few hours break on a regular basis?

Might the person you are caring for benefit from some different company?

If so the Carers Sitting Service may be of interest to you.

We currently have volunteers available in your area. The service is free to use and is part of Northamptonshire Carers, a local registered charity.

To find out more contact Adam Wilson on 01933 677837 or via email adamw@northamptonshire-carers.org

Colemans celebrates 50 years

Local family-owned stationery company Coleman has reached the fantastic milestone of 50 years in business this year.

Founded by John Coleman in 1969 in response to the needs of local businesses who were automating their offices with typewriters, adding machines and photocopiers, Coleman has gone from strength to strength, opening branches in 14 towns, selling stationery, office supplies, and fine art and craft materials.

Colemans has survived and thrived in the face of recessions, competition from large chains and the internet. Sadly, they have had to close two branches this year (Wellingborough and Peterborough), but not wishing to rest on their laurels, they have opened a new concept store at the front of their Central Warehouse in Rushden.

This is located at Unit 5, Brindley Close, just off the main Rushden Lakes roundabout below the newly refurbished Lidl store. It is sited next to their hugely successful Coleman's Craft Warehouse, which has occupied since 2005 a 5,500 square foot warehouse next door, selling everything relating to crafts, cardmaking, art, die cutting, haberdashery, sewing and quilting – and much more!

The new store will sell stationery and office supplies – so customers will get the full Coleman's offering in one place – with excellent parking, disabled access and even a lovely café. The legendary Coleman's delivery service (same day or next day with no minimum order) is also available – so if you are bulk buying, just leave it behind and they will deliver it to your premises.

Colemans still have their store in Higham Ferrers High Street – which caters for business customers, hobbyists and students, as well as younger children – which is where the business started in 1969.

Existing account customers from any Coleman's branch can purchase items on account at the new store – and of course, new accounts are welcome.

The new store opened on Monday 29th July. It will be open 7 days a week (Mon-Fri 8.30am-5.30pm), Sat (9am-5pm), Sun (10am-4pm)

ENC local plan deferred

The dispute between Oundle and East Northants Council (ENC) over housing allocation came to a head at the District Council's Planning Policy Committee meeting recently and resulted in the Local or District Plan being deferred pending the examination of the town's Neighbourhood Plan.

The background to this concerns the amount of influence granted to townfolk as regards where housing should be sited; in this case Oundle argued for small developments within one mile of the town centre to facilitate easy access and limit traffic problems, whereas ENC sought to impose fewer, larger sites.

Obviously, the housing numbers and the manner in which developments should be handled cascade down from central government and at each level the requirements imposed from above need to be carefully observed. However, the 2011 Localism Act, which took a lead from the then Prime Minister's statement that "The time has come to disperse power more widely in Britain today", gave local people a greater say, resulting in the development of more Neighbourhood Plans. ENC had sought to have their Plan in place as soon as possible because of the change to a 2-Unitary Authority regime at County level, which is due in April 2021 and certainly a revised District Plan is needed because the existing document, the Rural North (Northamptonshire), Oundle and Thrapston Plan (RNOTP) looks badly out of date. The next move will be for an ENC appointed Examiner to review the Neighbourhood Plan.

Genealogy jottings

Benjamin Franklin supposedly once said, "If you fail to plan, then you are planning to fail." Sir Winston Churchill is credited with the saying, "Those who fail to learn from the past are doomed to repeat it." Never truer sayings exist if you are going on a visit, be it to a record office, graveyard, or area where your ancestors lived.

I have recently been helping a chap with his ancestry and we discovered that one branch of his family came from Scotland. He decided that he would take a short break in the area discovered and so "Campaign Strategy" was the order of the day. It was going to be just one night in the area, but this turned into two when we uncovered all the different places that he could visit. The internet was very useful in nailing down the postcodes of the various churches, kirks and chapels where his family had lived plus we found details of a local Heritage Centre along with their opening hours. Note: it's always worth checking opening hours – there is nothing worse than turning up at a place after a long journey, only to find it closed! It is also worth checking out any local Tourist Information Centres. Many of them have books and leaflets about the locale that can prove extremely useful.

By Jan Pearson
Genealogy Specialists, Tracing Our Past, Discovering Our Genes (TOP DOG)
www.genealogy-specialists.com

Another idea is to contact the local Family History Group – or even museum – in advance of travelling, to see if they have any information that could help you in your visit. On one occasion when I was visiting a town where a group of my ancestors were from, the local museum had an exhibition on the Agricultural Labourers' Strike of 1914. There, amongst the exhibits, were photographs of my relatives!

I know that with Google Street View, Bing Maps and the like, you can usually nail down the houses where your ancestors once lived but there is nothing like seeing them for yourself. Years ago, I was spotted lurking outside an ancestor's home and I was invited in to look round – once I had explained my reason for lurking and that it was not for any nefarious purpose!

Editor's notes

In a further demonstration of the trading difficulties being encountered by high street shops, Corby town centre is set to lose three clothing shops from Willow Place. Burton, Dorothy Perkins and Evans are to close after their parent company Arcadia ran into money problems.

A statement issued by Arcadia says: "As part of its Company Voluntary Arrangements, Arcadia recently announced its intention to close a significant number of its retail stores throughout the UK. Regrettably, the Arcadia brands of Burton, Dorothy Perkins and Evans, located in Willow Place, Corby, have been included in the store closure programme. The Corby Town Shopping & Willow Place asset management team continues to actively market retail space within Corby town centre and is confident of securing alternative retailers to this space in the not too distant future."

A date for the closures has yet to be confirmed.

According to research published nationally by PricewaterhouseCoopers, UK high street closures are occurring at the fastest rate in the last nine years as we switch to buying online and rein in our spending. A net 2,481 stores, banks and other high street businesses disappeared from Britain's top 500 high streets last year, 40% more than in 2017.

These figures do not include independent outlets and there are those battling for this sector. The British Independent Retailers Association, the voice of independent traders, has wasted no time in writing to our new Prime Minister challenging the government to resolve some of the ongoing issues that are burdening independent businesses. They are urging the PM to: find a pro-business Brexit that ensures an inclusive deal and allows for a transition period, make permanent the current two-year discount available to retailers (for a business with a rateable value of up to £51,000) and encourage local councils to review their strategies and make more free parking available.

Elsewhere in this edition of the Nene Valley News we report on the deferral of the East Northants Council's Local Plan. This issue highlights the need for local planning authorities to review their local development documents in line with general government guidelines which indicate that this should be done at least every five years. The need for this timescale was emphasised in view of the need for community involvement. Five years is also consistent with current government expectations that Local Plans should be reviewed in whole or in part, to respond flexibly to changing circumstances. Doubtless, many throughout the District will be able to point to areas where the extant RNOTP does not reflect reality. Hopefully, the deferral will not cause problems for local Town and Parish Councils.

Nene Valley Festival returns this September

People from across the district, and further afield, are invited to celebrate the rich heritage, wildlife and culture of the Nene Valley as the annual Nene Valley Festival returns this September.

The festival which is now in its sixth year will take place from Saturday 14th September to Sunday 22nd September. As with previous years, the festival will offer a variety of activities for the whole family and with funding from Heritage Lottery, via Nenescape, this year's Nene Valley Festival will be bigger and better than ever.

Featuring more than 100 events at key locations across the Nene Valley from Northampton to Peterborough, the festival will include a wide range of activities for all ages and will kick off with an official launch event at Peterborough Cathedral on Saturday 14th September to coincide with the national annual Heritage Lottery Days.

Cllr Sarah Peacock, East Northamptonshire Councillor and Board Member for the Destination Nene Valley project, said: "We are delighted to be celebrating the wonderful Nene Valley once again. Each year, we aim to better the previous year and hope the 2019 festival will be no exception. This year's events will offer a wide range of events which will highlight all the brilliant attractions, wildlife and heritage along the Nene Valley."

Festival highlights include a variety of walks, from heritage through to heath across the Valley alongside theatre and wildlife activities. Also, the festival will culminate with a finale event on 22nd September at Stanwick Lakes. From 10:30am until 4pm, visitors are invited to Come and Meet the Settlers, join in with the Settlers' Trails, as well as Archery and Axe Throwing.

The annual festival is being organised through the Destination Nene Valley project, which works with local tourism partners, and the Nenescape Landscape partnership, to promote the Nene Valley as a competitive, sustainable destination offering wildlife and heritage to local, national and international audiences.

Nenescape Project Manager, Amanda Johnson said: "The Nene Valley Festival is the highlight of the year, and all the Nenescape partners are proud to support it and celebrate all the valley has to offer. Thanks to National Lottery players, the festival is one of the ways Nenescape has been able to help celebrate and sustain the heritage and wildlife along the River Nene. This year's festival promises to be packed full of events across the Nene Valley and will give people the chance to experience a range of activities, from Peterborough through to Northampton."

Quiz night success

Higham Ferrers Mayor's first quiz on Friday 12th July at Higham Ferrers Bowls Club was a great success.

Seventy quizzers made up 12 teams to compete, and North End Numpties 4 pipped the Mayor's Mad Hatters in a tie-break to win the luxury hamper and the prized Mayor's Quiz Winners medals.

Many thanks to everyone involved including Colin the Quizmaster, Richard our scorer, Dave and Lynn who supplied the Ploughmans and Higham Ferrers Bowls Club for letting us use their superb venue.

Spotlight on Higham Ferrers

Elsby & Co Accountants
We have recently helped a number of people locally who have been targeted as part of the HMRC's lengthy Let Property Campaign, targeting landlords as part of its quest to uncover individuals potentially attempting to evade tax. HMRC is pulling together information from different sources, including land registry, the probate office, letting agents, even social media and where it suspects that you might be in receipt of rental income, but have not declared as such to HMRC via a tax return. A letter is sent entitled 'Income from letting property', essentially giving you 30 days to respond under the Let Property Campaign.

Over 40,000 letters have already been sent out and the remaining letters are being sent at regular intervals. It really is only a matter of time!

Once your response is submitted and accepted, you then have 90 days to complete a full disclosure. HMRC see their Let Property Campaign as an opportunity to come forward and report past undeclared rental income, and to benefit from more favourable penalties. If you don't respond you could have to pay a higher penalty or even face criminal investigation.

The Let Property Campaign can be a complex and lengthy process, but we do our utmost to ensure everything runs smoothly, from start to finish.

If you are concerned that you might be likely to receive a letter or have any other property related tax issues, please give us a call and ask to speak to one of our specialist property tax advisors.

The Ashgrove Clinic Rehab is happening in Higham! When The Ashgrove Clinic first opened it was known for its osteopaths. The osteopaths are still there, fixing joint pain, arthritic pain, frozen shoulders, sciatica and muscle spasms. But the rehab team has grown, and is getting locals back to health, and back to fitness.

Chartered physiotherapist, Pierre Bonnaud says: "Doing rehab after surgery, or even before surgery, is a bit of an adventure. Each person needs a different approach after their operation, especially with knee surgery."

Jay Sheridan, who works with the elite athletes at Ashgrove says it's important with injury rehab to regress the exercises when necessary. "I know," he says with a smile, "'regress' is just a fancy term for going back a step! But too often we over-do things after surgery or an injury. Rehab has to be paced for your own body, not for your neighbour, who had their hip replaced eight years ago, or your mate, who ran a marathon six weeks after the same injury you've got."

The Ashgrove rehab team: sports therapy, physiotherapy, and osteopathy offer a free 20-minute consultation, so pop in and see them if you need help.

Training and development key to client satisfaction

Wilson Browne Solicitors based in Market Square, Higham Ferrers has a long tradition of investing in people and helping them to achieve their ambition. Many employees have worked for the firm for a number of years and clients see many benefits to this, often popping in to say hello when they are passing.

Vince Skiplorne, Chartered Legal Executive in the Conveyancing Team, has worked for the firm for 22 years. Stacy Jackson has recently qualified as a Chartered Legal Executive (FCILEx) following five years studying the Fast-track Diploma. Kirsty Chettle, who started as an office junior in Higham, has just begun her ILEX training and Suzanne Brown has one more year of ILEX training before qualifying as a CILEx Probate Practitioner. All three are familiar faces in the Wills, Trusts and Probate team, in Higham Ferrers, highly commended by The Law Society and recommended by The Legal 500 a 'Who's Who' in the legal world.

Kevin Rogers, Chairman said: "The CILEx route is highly valued within the firm, allowing us to offer our staff different ways to qualify as a lawyer as they develop their careers. Just as everyone's background is different, we value different routes to success. As well as solicitors we have paralegals, qualified practitioners in their own field, licensed conveyancers, trainees and Legal Executives at all levels, and every single one takes pride in providing excellent client service, ensuring Wilson Browne Solicitors remain all the help you need."

Rushden Chiropractic Clinic

From the Chairman

This is the time of year so important to many young people. Whilst older students sit exams and then wait anxiously for results, younger children change classes and schools.

Towards the end of the school year, I went to two schools, St Peters and Windmill in Raunds and was delighted by the children recalling their best moments at the schools and their appreciation of the teachers.

We had a pleasant evening of jazz at the refurbished gallery in Kettering. It now looks bright and there was a great exhibition of works by local artists.

The sun shone for the carnival in Raunds, with the only shower starting as I stood to present a trophy to the Guides and Brownies for the best entry in the parade. It soon stopped and everyone agreed it had been a good afternoon.

Between 1261 and 1265 Northampton had a university sanctioned by Henry III as an alternative place to study for students displaced from Oxford and Cambridge during a period of civil unrest. Due to a mischievous complaint to the king it was closed as being too much of a rival to Oxford and Cambridge.

It was in 2005 that the present university formed from various colleges and became the University of Northampton and in 2018 the university welcomed its first cohort to the brand new Waterside Campus offering a full range of courses.

The University of Northampton is building a good reputation and it was a pleasure to go to the graduation ceremonies. The staff led the parade from the new Waterside campus to the Derngate Theatre along with the Mayor of Northampton with his Mace and the Chairman, Vice Chancellor and Chancellor. It was lovely to see the enthusiasm from the students watched by their proud parents and friends receiving their degrees. Some students are from abroad but they could still be part of the occasion as it was webcast around the world. A number of students have their own presentations as the Vice Chancellor and other staff visit several countries during the summer.

We are fortunate to have the UoN in our county with the many opportunities it provides for a wide range of people of all ages and with a great variety of courses. The new campus is splendid and all can enjoy the Waterside restaurant and bar.

My best wishes for a pleasant and enjoyable time during the summer.

Council

Budding entrepreneurs take on local 'Business Dragons'

East Northamptonshire's finest young business brains put their skills to the test at the final of the 13th Business Dragons event, hosted by East Northamptonshire Council (ENC).

The competition held in July and organised by The East Northamptonshire College saw teams of young entrepreneurs from local schools – The Ferrers School, Huxlow Science College, Manor School Sports College and Rushden Academy – pitch their ideas and excellent business plans to a panel of local Business Dragons.

The 'Dragons' included Peter Waddup (Director of The Leprosy Mission), Nikki Roberts (Manager of The Pavillion Youth Club), Helen Featherstone (Careers Consultant and Business Owner) and Emily Carrington (Head of Family Law at Franklins Solicitors).

The final, which was held at ENC on 11th July, gave the students the opportunity to present their original business ideas to the panel, having considered the design of the product, finance, staffing, manufacture, competition and profitability.

Each team was then quizzed by the Dragons on the benefit and effectiveness of their ideas, before a winner was announced.

The winning team trophy, supplied by East Northamptonshire Council, and presented by the Chairman of ENC, Cllr Dudley Hughes, went to Huxlow Science Academy. The team designed an app, called Huver, which lists all the available cleaning services in an area. The aim is to have all the best options for cleaning in one space and those using the app can then compare the best deals, allowing for increased efficiency.

Runners-up were Rushden Academy who produced a new adult and children's version of the classic Tic Tac Toe game which featured prizes for winners and challenges for those that lose.

Third place went to another team from Huxlow Science Academy, who created a Radio Frequency ID tag for clothing and items that if lost can be ID'd through scanning the tag using a smartphone app and returned to their rightful owner.

During the event, Chairman of East Northamptonshire Council, Cllr Dudley Hughes, said: "It is important that young minds are encouraged to develop their ideas and acquire the business skills and knowledge that lead to being a successful entrepreneur."

"East Northamptonshire Council is pleased to host this year's Business Dragons competition and, as previously, the standard of entries was brilliant and it is always great to see such young minds thinking of ideas that could change all of our lives. Well done to everyone who took part and we look forward to seeing these young people further develop their ideas."

Rushden Lakes festival weekend

Rushden Lakes hosted a two-day Festival Extravaganza over the weekend of 27th/28th July to celebrate their 2nd birthday and, despite the rain, people flocked to the shopping park in their thousands.

The Festival featured a wide range of additional activities such as food tasting and cocktail masterclasses, Festival styling and make-up, including glitter makeovers.

There was also plenty to keep children entertained, with face painting, craft activities and games. It was unfortunate that the sun didn't shine on the event, especially after all the additional effort which had gone into making it such a success, but that didn't deter thousands of people from attending over the course of the weekend.

If you haven't already visited Northamptonshire's premier shopping park you can find out what's there on their website www.rushdenlakes.com

As well as the array of shopping, dining and leisure activities, you can take lakeside walks, visit the Nene Wetlands Visitor Centre, and even hire a canoe on the lake. Throughout August there will be extra activities aimed at keeping children occupied during the holidays; in particular, Rushden Rangers is a free family club providing a great opportunity to get outdoors together, so your little ones can enjoy fun and educational activities as well as a themed walk around the beautiful Rushden Lakes. All of this and parking is free!

Stargazing micro-adventure

There is one more opportunity this summer to sleep out and raise money for your local country park.

Barnwell Country Park will be hosting another Sleep Out on Saturday 31st August from 6pm until 9am the following morning. You can join them at 6pm to set up camp, but do bring your own camp supper, then at dusk the Peterborough Astronomical Society will target the sky with their powerful telescopes – gaze at the moon and spot the nearest Near Earth Object.

You will need to book and the price per adult/child is £5 (includes bedtime hot chocolate, dawn breakfast and the opportunity to wild camp in safe surroundings with toilet facilities and a night watch). There is also a £5 compulsory car parking fee, payable at the park.

Participants only need warm clothes, sleeping bag and mat, plus a small tent/bivouac/shelter/survival bag (or be brave and just sleep under the stars).

Rushden Swimming Club making their mark at the Swim England National Summer Meet 2019

Two very young and extremely talented swimmers, Amber Haycock (11) and Henry Knight (14) representing the Rushden Swimming Club have achieved great success at their debut at the national level. They have managed to make it to the finals in their events.

These events are usually extremely competitive and even qualifying to take part in this meet is a major achievement. Accomplishing this at their age gives signals of more and better things to come, all we can say is watch this space and keep following Rushden Swimming Club!

Both swimmers were accompanied by coaches Chris Mayell and Marcus Eaton who are valuable members of a dedicated coaching team at the club.

Rushden Swimming Club holds training sessions five days a week across three venues. They have over 100 swimmers, from all age groups and different ability levels. For further information about joining or to have a trial, please contact the club via their website www.rushdenswimmingclub.co.uk and fill out the 'request a trial' form.

Wildlife news

Watching nature sees everyday plants and animals in normal surroundings managing with life's little problems. Yet sometimes the result is not quite as planned, and we find activity we had not expected – and occasionally not what was wanted, either – but there are always lessons to be learnt from what does actually happen.

We found a good example in our own garden in the last couple of weeks. Having discovered earlier in the year that one hedgehog (or possibly more, but that is another story) was visiting on most nights, we put out each night a small dish of suitable food (the safe-for-hedgehogs variety) which lack compounds which could be poisonous to other wildlife. A CCTV camera would keep track, particularly to find times when the hogs were more likely to come feeding. We would also be helping to keep down the numbers of a major garden pest which hedgehogs like – slugs.

On some nights the food dish was empty but with no TV record of a visit. Repositioning the camera brought only a slight improvement, but eventually it was possible to arrive at an answer. The invading slugs were learning that those special food pellets appealed to their own taste buds, so they slithered to this new feeding-place, with occasionally half a dozen or more collecting round the food-dish we were providing so thoughtfully!

We may think of slugs as long, black, shiny, slimy creatures, but there are in fact several different species; some are small (perhaps no more than 4cm) while at the other extreme larger species may stretch to a foot or so. There is also a range of colours, and their various diets may be either vegetarian (attacking crops) or helping by tackling earthworms, and other slugs. With all this variety it is understandable that they are likely to find something edible in whatever we put out.

So we just keep feeding what will help to control their numbers, hoping that not too many of the leaf-eaters will attack our favourite plants. Slugs are not as unpleasant as some think – but I would like them to leave some food for the hedgehogs!

East Northants Snooker League

Week 10 of the ENSL summer league, sponsored by Pete Banks Electrical. The leaders, Windmill Warriors now extend their lead to eight points, but there's only five points separating the next five teams, as Windmill C fall three points adrift in last place.

The so far unbeaten Higham SAS hosted Cue Sports C and, once again, the ever-consistent Adam Burns got them off to a great start by taking the first frame against Ryan Ball. But, frame two went in Ball's favour as he made some crucial pots on the colours.

Next up, in an extremely tight match, Luke Clinton saw off Adam Underwood to give Cue Sports C a 3-1 lead going into the last two frames. As always, it was down to the Higham captain Pete Beerten to determine the result as he took on Cue Sports captain John Sharp. The first frame went to Sharp as he made it difficult for Beerten to score, but Beerten showed his resilience in the final frame as he won it in style to salvage an important extra point for Higham SAS. Final score, Higham SAS 2, Cue Sports C 4.

Over in Wellingborough, Cue Sports D and Cue Sports B went head to head. Justin White won both of his frames against Ian Wiggins to continue his impressive run of form. He is currently one of the highest ranked players this summer, having won 78% of his frames. Martyn Hatton managed to grab the next frame from Alvin Thomas to give the B team their first point, but Alvin won the next to make it 3-1 to the home team and things were looking ominous for Cue Sports B.

This week's results:

Higham SAS 2-4 Cue Sports C
Cue Sports D 3-3 Cue Sports B
Windmill C 1-5 Windmill Warriors
Windmill A = BYE

The two team captains, Aaron Whittemore and Lee Bunker then played out the remaining frames. Frame five could've gone either way, but Bunker managed to claim it and he then went up several gears to win frame six with a great display of potting and safety. Two important frames from Bunker to finalise the match score at 3-3.

At the Rushden Windmill Club, bottom of the table Windmill C faced the top team Windmill Warriors. The C Team's Stewart Brown took on Michael Dicks in the opening frames, with Dicks taking the first two. Tony Jupp then took on Richard Wright of the Warriors. Tony played very well in frame three and his safety play tied Wright up in knots, and he deservedly won that frame. Wright knew he had to change his strategy, and that he did. He went all out potting and knocked in breaks of 31 and 33 to win frame two and put the Warriors 3-1 up. James Rawlins had it all to do in final two frames as he played Paul Lewis. James struggled to get going and left Lewis the opportunity to make an impressive 59 break to win frame five, and he continued this form to win frame six also.
