Help prevent a kitten crisis

Due to fewer vets doing neutering during Covid-19, the Cats Protection charity estimates as many as 84,000 extra kittens could be born this summer.

They are urging people in East Northamptonshire to keep their unneutered cats indoors, and also unneutered males and females and siblings apart, until vet practices can become fully operational and resume neutering.

Supporting local NHS hospitals & community services

The first weekend in July will be marked by a minute's silence in memory of all those who have lost their lives and as a national moment of appreciation for the social connections that have kept the country going through such adversity, when we can all raise a glass, or a cup of tea in a nationwide offer of thanks and appreciation.

It will be an opportunity to thank not just NHS staff and other essential workers, but all those who continue to work so hard to support each other and sustain our communities throughout the Covid-19 pandemic.

Join in on Sunday 5th July to mark the 72nd anniversary of the founding of our NHS. Why not have your own virtual tea party at home while video-calling your family and friends and send us your pictures? We'd love to share as many pictures as we can on our website and social media pages to mark this special day.

On 5th July, Northamptonshire Health Charity will be raising a cuppa to all the local NHS staff it supports across Northamptonshire and to the incredible supporters and donors in the local community who have helped raise £190,000 to make such a huge difference to them and the services they provide.

It's a perfect excuse to enjoy a nice cuppa and a piece of cake (healthier snacks can be substituted, of course), give recognition to the incredible national institution that the NHS is and give thanks for everything it has done and continues to do for us all during these difficult times.

So, get your kettles on, bake your own cakes, dial up your relatives for a chinwag and take some snaps as you all raise a cuppa – to yourselves, to all those helping and to our wonderful NHS on its birthday.

Birth registration service re-opens via online booking system

Following Government guidance clarifying that registration services are now permitted to open in England, Northamptonshire County Council's registration service has re-opened to take birth registrations, notices of marriage and corrections via an online booking system.

Initially, face-to-face appointments will take place by invitation only and customers with outstanding exceptional birth registrations or those who had their birth registration appointment cancelled when lockdown was first implemented will be contacted first. Customers will be asked to complete and return a birth registration questionnaire in advance to minimise their time in the office, and will then be contacted to arrange an appointment. The number of people attending the office will be kept to the legal minimum required to complete a legal registration and all payments for certificates will be taken in advance.

Following Public Health guidance, screens have been installed in each office and wipes, hand gel and pens have been distributed across the service. The council is still awaiting Government confirmation as to when ceremonies can be recommenced.

Further updates about the service are available on the registrations website <https://www.northamptonshire.gov.uk/councilservices/births-deaths-ceremonies/Pages/registration-service-updates-coronavirus.aspx>. This will be updated when appointments are available to book.

GENEALOGY JOTTINGS

WORDS BY JAN PEARSON

Have you ever thought about publishing your family's history? If your family is like mine, it would run to several volumes and knock 'War and Peace' into a cocked hat! When you find that you are related to (almost) everyone in a particular village it can end up like trying to knit fog!

It might be that you just want an account of the facts of who your family were – their births, marriages and deaths etc – but every so often you hit upon a person whose story really grabs you.

I am thinking about possibly recounting the stories of some of the characters in my own family: my great grandfather who ended up in Saffron Walden gaol for two weeks for 'threatening Farmer Hagger with a hayfork'; my several times great grandfather who, as a blacksmith, was responsible for the ironworks on Henry VII's ships; or maybe my great uncle who, after being told he was unfit for the Army in WW1 (he had epilepsy) was discharged, changed his name and moved over 250 miles away from the rest of his family.

Perhaps a book of individual characters to be found amongst your ancestors might prove to be a way of garnering curiosity. But how do you go about it?

Professional publishers can be very expensive and could result in you having to have a minimum number of books printed, but other options are available. Have a rummage online – there are some where your 'book' would be kept in the ether and only printed when a copy is needed. Self-publishing is another option. A cousin of mine in Australia did this and I now have a copy of his book about one of our common ancestors, Frank Moon, who was born in Kent in 1836 and emigrated to the other side of the world. Worth thinking about?

EDITOR'S NOTES

It's good to be back... In print that is. It has been an interesting few weeks, to say the least, but we trust that you have remained safe and well and that our digital editions helped to spread the word of the marvellous community organisations and spirit which continue to provide so much support to people in the area.

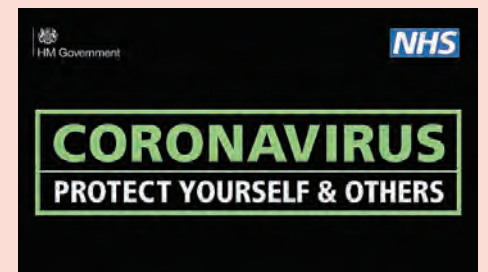

We are all getting used to the new protocols, which will now be part of our everyday life but with restrictions easing we bring you the first of our post-lockdown printed editions. For the next two months we will bring you alternate printed and digital editions, which will hopefully enable us to be back in print for every edition in the autumn.

We have spoken to many readers and advertisers who have missed their copy of Nene Valley News dropping through their letterbox. Some people do not have the technology to access the online editions and others rely on the paper for their business. If your business is re-opening or you have services to offer the local community, do contact us to see how we can help promote you in Nene Valley News. Our number is 01522 692542 or email: advertising@nenevalleynews.co.uk

Concessionary bus pass arrangements in Northamptonshire return to normal

Concessionary bus pass arrangements in Northamptonshire have returned to normal as of 15th June. The passes allow eligible older and disabled people to travel for free from 9.30am to 11pm on weekdays, and all day at weekends and bank holidays.

In March, Northamptonshire County Council agreed to temporarily extend the current bus concessionary travel scheme to 24 hours a day, to enable older and vulnerable residents to access essential services, such as early morning food shopping.

But with lockdown restrictions easing and social distancing measures remaining in place, the capacity of services may be reduced, therefore limited peak-hour travel is prioritised for those who may work in shops or factories, or for education.

County Council Cabinet Member for Place, Highways and the Environment, Cllr Jason Smithers said: "Supermarkets are more accessible now than at the beginning of the crisis and the easing of lockdown restrictions means more people will be using public transport for work and school.

"Social distancing measures are in place on buses and as some services may be reduced, we want to ensure there is enough room on routes for workers and pupils, while ensuring concessionary pass holders can still enjoy free travel."

For more information on concessionary bus passes, and their terms and conditions please visit <https://www.northamptonshire.gov.uk/councilservices/northamptonshire-highways/buses/bus-passes/Pages/default.aspx>.

CHANGES TO TOWN CENTRE PARKING

Parking enforcement in Northampton has been reintroduced to support shops and businesses as they re-open following the Covid-19 lockdown.

Northamptonshire County Council will be enforcing on street pay and display parking. This means motorists must purchase a pay and display ticket before leaving their vehicle parked and all maximum stay and no return time limits associated with pay and display bays will apply.

Northampton Borough Council will also be reintroducing parking charges in its car parks from 29th June.

Free parking will continue to be given to the NHS, health and social care workers and NHS Covid-19 volunteers in line with the government's free parking concessions. A Government Parking Pass or a pre-agreed parking permit must be clearly on display in the vehicle.

Northamptonshire County Council Cabinet Member for Environment and Place, Councillor Jason Smithers said: "We temporarily suspended on street pay and display charging at the start of the pandemic, but as the county begins to reopen we need to ensure that effective parking enforcement is in place to support this, allowing shoppers to park near their destination and bring people back into town centres.

"Free parking will continue to be given to the NHS, health and social care workers and NHS Covid-19 volunteers in line with the government's free parking concessions. The current residents' permit parking arrangements will also continue until the end of the month when they are due for review.

"All motorists are reminded that they should not park dangerously or cause an obstruction including blocking a dropped kerb, on zigzags at crossings, in loading restrictions and on yellow lines protecting junctions. It is vital that we keep the county moving, maintain traffic flow and focus on safety and access for emergency and essential services."

All pay and display machines will, where possible, have social distancing markings in place around the machines. While a regular cleaning regime will be in place, customers are advised to cover their fingers to press buttons. It is also recommended that customers wash/sanitise their hands as soon as possible after using the machine.

The government has issued guidance on safe travel available online at <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/coronavirus-covid-19-safer-travel-guidance-for-passengers-which-includes-a-checklist-of-planning-a-journey-and-what-to-take>.

UPDATED GUIDANCE ON tradespeople working in the home

As the lockdown slowly begins to ease and more people consider having work carried out in their homes, new guidelines have been issued to help keep households in Northamptonshire safe.

The updated advice from the Government outlines the precautions homeowners may see professional tradespeople take when visiting their homes to provide heating, plumbing or maintenance services.

The guidance has been welcomed by OFTEC, the registration body for off-grid heating work, which has put together a checklist for consumers so they know the precautions workers may take and the standards they should expect from professionals.

Households must continue to follow two-metre social distancing rules and work must not be carried out if either the tradesperson or any occupants display Covid-19 symptoms, or where an individual has been advised to shield – unless it is to remedy a direct risk to the safety of the household.

The additional measures tradespeople may take include:

- Communicating with households

prior to arrival to ensure social distancing and hygiene measures are clearly understood and followed before work commences

- Wearing additional Personal Protective Equipment (PPE) and regularly washing their hands
- Holding any conversations outdoors or in a well-ventilated room
- Arranging methods of safely disposing of any waste with the householder
- Not sharing pens, paper or other items and declining refreshments
- Households in Northamptonshire can also help to keep both themselves and tradespeople safe by:
 - Keeping surfaces and rooms where tradespeople are working clean and ventilated
 - Not entering the room while work is being carried out unless absolutely necessary

- Clearly outlining the work required, providing photos if possible for the tradesperson before arrival to reduce the amount of time they need to spend in the home
- Carefully reviewing any new measures shared by the tradesperson before they arrive and clarifying any questions or concerns with them in advance
- Paying by bank transfer and not using cash

Malcolm Farrow of OFTEC, commented: "As the government slowly starts to ease some of the lockdown measures, more tradespeople will be working in peoples' homes across Northamptonshire. As long as the new guidelines are carefully observed, consumers should feel safe having heating technicians, plumbers and other professionals in their home.

"We can all help make things easier by accommodating the new rules tradespeople are following and raise any issues or concerns before the work begins. Households must remember to continue to follow the two-metre social distancing rules and it's vital that no work is undertaken if either the tradesperson or someone living in the house is showing any Covid-19 symptoms.

"For the households in Northamptonshire who need to have work completed on their heating system, always ensure you use a GasSafe, for mains gas, or OFTEC, for oil heating and solid fuel, registered technician as they are fully qualified and all follow strict safety guidelines."

More information and advice is available on the OFTEC website (www.oftec.org) and on the Government's website at <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/working-safely-during-coronavirus-covid-19/homes>.

Businesses advised to assess Legionnaires' disease risk

Businesses which have had to close buildings or reduce occupancy or activity during the Covid-19 outbreak are being advised to carry out risk assessments prior to reopening, as water system stagnation can occur due to lack of use and increase the risks of Legionnaires' disease.

Employers, the self-employed and people in control of premises, such as landlords, have a duty to protect people by identifying and controlling risks associated with Legionella. This means businesses are responsible for carrying out a risk assessment, to determine whether further action is required to ensure premises are safe to reopen.

Legionnaires' disease is a lung infection, caused by inhaling small droplets of water, suspended in the air, which contain Legionella bacteria. Legionnaires' disease is rarely transferred between people and can be treated with antibiotics, however of concern at the moment is the fact that symptoms are similar to those linked with Covid-19, so people may not recognise they have been infected.

Symptoms of Legionnaires' disease include a high temperature or fever, a cough, along with muscle pains, a headache and sometimes pneumonia. People who are feeling unwell with similar unexplained symptoms should ring NHS 111.

Lucy Wightman, Director of Public Health for Northamptonshire said: "This has been a very challenging time for businesses, with many sites needing to close or limit occupancy for a considerable period of time. Businesses should seek to be proactive in assessing the risk of Legionnaires' Disease occurring within their workplaces to minimise the risk caused by this potentially fatal illness as they prepare to reopen.

"Each of the borough and district councils have Environmental Health Officers who are working hard to support businesses and workplaces in returning to work, so please use this resource to support you in taking the necessary steps to ensure that your workplaces are safe."

Further details on Legionnaires' disease, the type of workplaces which may be at most risk and details of how to carry out risk assessments can be found on the Health and Safety Executive website at <https://www.hse.gov.uk/legionnaires/workplace-risks.htm>

Residents asked for views on Cotterstock village planning document

East Northamptonshire Council is consulting the public on an essential planning document which provides more detailed guidance on the design of future new development in Cotterstock village.

The Cotterstock Village Design Statement Supplementary Planning Document (SPD) was approved for Public Consultation by East Northamptonshire's Planning Policy Committee on 8th June 2020.

After carrying out a Village Design Survey (VDS), the VDS was drafted by a working group comprising members of the Cotterstock Parish Meeting and was presented to East Northamptonshire Council in September 2019. The Survey, which forms Appendix 1 of the document, led to a range of guidelines being developed, to cover:

- Landscape
- Buildings and design
- Highways and street furniture
- Amenities

Informed by the Village Design Survey, the VDS aims to:

- Set out a distinctive local vision for Cotterstock village for the period up to 2031
- Ensure that future development within the parish acknowledges the existing landscape character and settlement pattern and that planning applications have taken these into account

- Protect the unique character and appearance of the Conservation Area
- Protect important views, landscape character, open spaces, mature trees, natural landscaping features, wildlife and natural environments.

The current draft of this document Cotterstock Village Design Statement – Supplementary Planning Document will be subject to a period of Public Consultation between Friday 26th June and Monday 10th August, 2020. Residents can have their say on the document online at https://www.east-northamptonshire.gov.uk/downloads/file/11861/draft_cotterstock_village_design_statement

Once the Public Consultation has been assessed, the Council will update the document. This version will be presented to the next available Planning Policy Committee for their approval, with a view to adopting the document as a Supplementary Planning Document, to form part of the Local Development Plan Document for use in the determination of Planning Applications and in giving general planning advice.

Your Health – the lawnmower attacks again!

WORDS BY CLAIRE SHORT

Hooray for being back in print! Did you miss us? With the weather perfect for grass over the past few months, I'm sure the number of lawnmower injuries has rocketed while we've been in lockdown.

I'm still not sure whether the most dangerous part of using the lawnmower is trying to start the stupid machine with a piece of string, trying to push it, or trying to empty it. All I know is that every year I injure myself, and plenty of our patients get hurt too!

So what can we do to stop these injuries? I've wondered about using garden shears to cut the grass, but that seems like a big no-no for the spinal muscles, as they hate being held in a forward bent position for a long time.

We could try AstroTurf, decking or gravel, but let's face it, digging up a lawn will cause more injuries than a lawnmower.

What about leaving it to grow and claiming health benefits from the wild flowers that grow? A nice idea, but you know as well as I do that it will become infested with brambles, which will scratch your arms and legs to bits.

A small sheep might be an option, but trust me when I say that cutting toe nails on sheep and sheering them every year is back-breaking work.

So that leaves us with, yes, the nasty lawnmower. Please make sure you warm up your back and shoulders before you tug and push and haul the machine around the garden. Our clinic is open and back to fixing shoulder, back, hip and knee injuries, but far better that you don't need us and warm up before mowing!

Have a healthy week!

From the CHAIRMAN

Whilst things are beginning to take a slow return to some form of normality we must still maintain the social distancing. With that in mind I was delighted to be given a sneak preview of the fantastic facility that is Enterprise Centre, East Northants in Raunds.

CLLR HELEN HOWELL

Although it wasn't the official opening ceremony (that is to come!), it was a milestone achievement for the contractors and ENC, especially during lockdown to be able to officially receive the keys to the centre.

ASHE Construction started the project for ENC in the summer last year and has maintained momentum even throughout the lockdown with social distancing and restrictions in place. It is fantastic for ENC to deliver the centre as part of Enterprising East Northants, the council's economic plan for sustainable job creation and business growth.

During our visit, my consort Cllr Lee Wilkes and I had the pleasure of being able to walk around the building and see for ourselves the quality of the build and finish of this facility. I am delighted that we have this business opportunity in my home town of Raunds. This project should provide incubation space for new start-up businesses with all the benefits that a new building can offer. As an electric car driver myself, I am also pleased to see electric charge points on site.

If you would like to make an enquiry to register your interest or for more information please call: 0808 1787 060 or visit: <https://www.bizspace.co.uk/spaces/ecen>
Stay safe!

East Northants Council drives economic recovery across district

As part of its continued support to local businesses, East Northamptonshire Council (ENC) has been working closely with partner organisations and stakeholders to ensure they are supported during the coronavirus pandemic.

Teams from across the Council have been working hard to ensure that all businesses that are entitled to support receive it and since the start of the pandemic, ENC has paid out over 1,300 grants totalling nearly £15m and business rate relief of around £13.1m and are also currently working through applications to a new scheme for businesses that may have missed out in the initial rounds of grant funding.

As well as financial support, ENC's economic development service, Enterprising East Northants (EEN), has strengthened existing relationships with partners from across the county, including the University of Northampton, the SEMLEP Growth Hub, Federation of Small Businesses and Wellingborough and East Northants

Chamber of Commerce, to launch the Recovery Through Enterprise campaign.

Launched to support those most in need, the campaign offers personal 1:1 business advice, as well as access to a wide range of support webinars and resources. It will also include working with the EEN skills group to provide employment support for residents who have lost their jobs as a result of the pandemic. The team behind the campaign will be based at ENC's new Enterprise Centre East Northants.

Steven North, Leader of East Northamptonshire Council explains more: "As a Council, we have a responsibility to help those businesses in need across the district and everyone at ENC is working hard to ensure that businesses get the advice and financial support they need especially at this difficult time.

"We are proud of the work we have done so far to help so many businesses, but always want to do more and we are continuously looking for new and innovative ways to assist, like the Recovery Through Enterprise scheme, which includes helping locals towns to re-open their high streets and commercial areas safely."

ENC has also been given a grant of £84,908 which will support the work to drive economic recovery across the district. This work is being supported at a countywide level through the Safer Public Places initiative which will see a range of activity aimed at improving public safety with a particular emphasis on encouraging walking and cycling.

Town council mourns death of past Mayor

It was with great sadness that the Higham Ferrers Town Council and staff received the news of the death of former Mayor Paul Gadsby on 11th June following a short illness. He had served as a Borough Councillor from 1969 and then as a Town Councillor until May 2011. He was Mayor in 1998-1999.

CLlr Pam Whiting, Leader of Higham Ferrers Town Council said: "Higham Ferrers has just lost a true gentleman. If you met Paul in the street he would always raise his hat when he greeted you. Paul was one of the most polite, caring and understanding people you would wish to find. Indeed I feel very privileged to have known him."

"Having served with Paul on the Town Council for several years he was always keen to help new Councillors in any way he could, and indeed was a great help to me when I first became a Councillor. Being such a quiet and unassuming man it did take him a few years before he decided that he would like to become the Town Mayor, and this was a position he carried out in the excellent manner you would expect from him.

"It was with great sadness that we heard the news that Paul had passed away following a short illness, and he will be sorely missed not only by fellow Councillors, but also members of the local Methodist Church."

New mayor for Higham Ferrers elected at Zoom meeting

Councillor Christina Reavey started her Mayoral year in unique circumstances as the first Mayor to be inaugurated through a Zoom video call! The global pandemic meant that the Town Council were unable to hold the traditional 'Mayor Making' ceremony in the Council Chamber, so Councillors gathered together via the online portal to witness Cllr Reavey take her oath and be declared the Mayor of Higham Ferrers for 2020-21. Councillor Barry Prigmore was elected as her Deputy. At the end of the meeting the Councillors all raised a glass to toast the new Mayor.

Cllr Reavey told her fellow Councillors that it was an honour to be elected as the Mayor of Higham Ferrers and that she is committed to supporting and promoting the town. She and her consort, Anthony, are looking forward to representing Higham Ferrers at many events in the surrounding towns.

Cllr Reavey has been a resident of Northamptonshire for 35 years and approximately 25 of them have been in Higham Ferrers. She is retired but formerly taught for 23 years in a nearby Primary School and she considers the education and wellbeing of our young people to be very important.

Cllr Reavey's consort, Mr Anthony Reavey, is her husband of 49 years and they have three children, two of whom live and work locally and one in the city. They have four grandchildren, two of whom attend Ferrers School, with one more at Higham Infants and the youngest at pre-school.

Cllr Reavey has been a Town Councillor for the last five years. She is a member of several committees and working parties where she feels most fortunate to work alongside, and learn from, some very experienced Councillors.

She enjoys meeting and talking with local residents and their families and looks forward to representing our lovely historic town during her Mayoral year.

> LOCAL GROUPS RECEIVE MAYOR'S FUND MONIES

Cllr Chris O'Rourke recently distributed funds raised during his 2019-20 year in office to more than a dozen local groups. In recognition of the current situation with Covid-19, Cllr O'Rourke also felt it was only right to donate some of the funds to the Rushden Food Bank, so they received a share too.

Groups which benefitted were: Higham Ferrers Tourism, Higham Gateway Club, 1st Higham Ferrers Rainbows, Ranger Cadets Association Rushden & Higham Ferrers, Girls' Brigade, 2nd Higham Ferrers Rainbows, Higham Rangers, 2nd Higham Ferrers Guides, 1st Higham Ferrers Brownies, the Pavilion Youth Group, 3rd Higham Ferrers Brownies, Over 60s Club, St Mary's Church, HiFARS (Higham Ferrers Archaeology and Research Society) and the former Mayor's chosen charity the Encephalitis Society. Our pictures show the presentations taking place.

VIRTUAL OPEN DAY VIEWED BY OVER 400 PEOPLE

stopped staff at Moulton from working together to ensure potential students are supported in making an informed choice after GCSEs.

Susan Titmuss, Marketing Manager said: "The response to our online event has been incredible. Numbers of prospective new students who pre-registered to watch was 137% more than this same event last year!

"Over 400 unique page visits were made to our website throughout the day and it was great to see so many people taking an interest in studying at the College. It really shows the appetite for online events such as these and it's something we'll definitely be looking into running again."

The event, which took place from 10am until 9pm on 9th June included a series of presentations from each of the subject areas, live Q&A sessions, careers advice and virtual tours around the campus.

Susan added: "We wanted to try and replicate our usual open day experience as much as possible so that potential students could get a feel for the College and be able to ask tutors any questions about the courses. Over 200 hours of College content was watched in total across our virtual event, enabling students to experience a little bit of Moulton from behind their screens!"

The College is now busy processing the applications received following the event, conducting interviews by telephone so that students know they have a place to study in September.

Wildlife NEWS

ROY BURRELL

Our wildlife has hopefully solved its housing problems for the new young families, but the parents' job actually gets harder (old proverb: 'no peace for the wicked') as most will now have to meet the demands of raising the new generation. Soon they will start to look rather worn-out, with tatty feathers and nest entrances scuffed and more exposed; some may even die of exhaustion.

Some interesting and revealing sights at this time of the year happen during the night hours, when perhaps the day's work has left the parents a little 'tetchy', or even asleep, but other life does not stop. The garden CCTV (not one of the top-flight models, unfortunately!) does start to reveal more of the after-dark happenings, as with a couple of very unexpected glimpses recently.

Earlier, when males were looking urgently for suitable mates to make a strong family unit, chasing a partner was a most important job on the list, especially if suitable females were in short supply. Hedgehogs are not everyone's model of a speedy athlete, but given a chance the camera showed that both of them were running quite hard before they disappeared into the night.

The second surprise again concerned hedgehogs, basically creatures of the night; occasionally better lighting conditions produce an overlap between daytime and night-time activities; the camera triggers when the subject moves, and that gap can show as day becomes night and vice versa. On one occasion the hedgehog, having arrived at the dish of food, was munching its way in when a carrion crow arrived;

all fairly commonplace, until the crow decided that it was frightened of the hog's spines but the thought of food was strong enough to keep it trying, and it started a comical dance routine – while the hedgehog simply carried on eating! At last the hog had eaten enough and wandered off into the nearby plants; unfortunately (for the bird) there was not enough food left for the crow to spend time for the crumbs, even as the light strengthened, and it flew off for a better breakfast. The night's programme had come to an end, though the nightlife would continue somewhere else.

This time of year would usually be busy with lots of different events on campus, showcasing the range of courses and facilities on offer. While the events calendar looks very different this year, it hasn't

Students who missed the course presentations and virtual tours can now view them through the open event portal on the Moulton College website. Visit www.moulton.ac.uk/virtual-open-day

Over half a million pounds to community projects

Northamptonshire Community Foundation has awarded £556,465.50 to hundreds of community projects across Northamptonshire supporting the most vulnerable residents and families in local communities during the Covid-19 crisis.

The Coronavirus Response and Recovery Fund is being delivered in partnership with Northamptonshire Emergencies Trust and can continue giving out funds due to the generosity of donors and the general public in Northamptonshire. The funds are supporting thousands of residents who have been self-isolating or shielding, as well as individuals and families on a low income and those impacted by job loss.

To date, the appeal has raised £658,401 and the funds have already reached 52,889 residents supported by 6,314 volunteers locally.

Rachel McGrath, Deputy CEO of Northamptonshire Community Foundation, said: "The galvanised response from local community groups and charities to support vulnerable residents and families during this public health crisis has been absolutely amazing. Our staff team and trustees have been inspired by the array of projects and their local reach ensuring no one is left struggling on their own.

"We thank our generous donors for enabling us to support this crucial civil society response to the pandemic. The demand continues for these support services on the ground and our appeal will continue, so that we can keep helping people emerge safely from lockdown and help rebuild local lives. If anyone wishes to find out more about our appeal and how they can help, please get in touch."

Projects have covered the county and have included food aid, shopping services, community transport, care packages, telephone befriending services, online activities and educational support, counselling services, employability support, wellbeing advice and information.

Recently funded projects include:

- Food for Thought Daventry – providing food aid and support to families on a low income.
- Café Track in Northampton – providing virtual mental health support for vulnerable clients.
- Caring and Sharing Trust in South Northamptonshire – providing virtual support services, activities and transport for people with learning disabilities.
- United African Association Northamptonshire in Northampton – providing food aid and deliveries to vulnerable residents.

Anne Wankiiri, of the United African Association, said: "We are so thankful to Northamptonshire Community Foundation. The grant has enabled us to help so many people who were genuinely in need of support."

Moulton College Football Academy partners with AFC Rushden & Diamonds

Moulton College and AFC Rushden & Diamonds have announced a new partnership – a collaborative venture providing Club scholars with a full-time education within world-class sports facilities.

The partnership, starting in September 2020, will support AFC Rushden & Diamonds U19 scholars to gain essential qualifications, while catering for elite and development squads competing in national and regional leagues. Competitions will include the National Youth Alliance League and FA Youth Cup as well as the AoC Championship and Regional Leagues.

Students will be supported by UEFA A and B licensed coaches both at the College, and through links to professional services available through the Club. Extensive coaching and playing opportunities will be available to scholars across the Club's professional development phase, and the partnership will provide a pathway into semi-professional football for U18s and U21s.

In addition, the collaborative venture seeks to support the growing trend of developing Futsal within post-16 education. The partnership will make use of the specialised indoor Futsal arena at Moulton College Pitsford campus, operating a male and female programme in combination with the full-time football offer.

Ryan Farmer, Academy Director at AFC Rushden & Diamonds said: "AFC Rushden & Diamonds are delighted to announce our Scholarship collaboration with Moulton College for September 2020 onwards. Throughout the process of developing this relationship with Moulton College, we have been extremely impressed by the Sports Leadership Team and amazing facilities that the College has to offer.

"These factors together with the mutually aligned values shared between our organisations suggest that the future will be bright for the post-16 scholars, the College and the Football Club."

Tim Dudding, Head of Football

at Moulton College, added: "We are excited to partner with such an innovative and ambitious club to deliver an outstanding programme for post-16 scholars. The Club and its board of directors have been incredibly supportive of our positive vision, and we are looking forward to what the future holds for us both."

A key concern for players within semi-professional academies is managing the dual-athlete lifestyle that is supportive of both their sporting and academic aims. With athlete lifestyle support available, this partnership hopes to address this.

Tim added: "We want to offer facilities and coaching in an atmosphere that is conducive to the development of every person in terms of self-discipline, good attitude and teamwork. We want to provide students with the maximum opportunity to develop their personal, social, educational and sporting skills with their welfare and enjoyment a priority in every decision we make."
