NEWS IN BRIEF

'Surface dressing' road repairs across the county

Northamptonshire County Council has begun its extensive 'surface dressing' road repairs across the county. The work is being carried out by Northamptonshire Highways and will provide a cost-effective way of preserving and extending the life of highways in Northamptonshire.

Where surface dressing is scheduled in residential areas, people will receive a letter through their door notifying them of when the work will take place and kindly asking them to move their vehicles off roads and paths or to an adjacent street. Advisory signs will also be placed in the streets.

Surface dressing creates what are commonly known as loose chippings and as a result traffic is slowed to 20mph to reduce the danger of partially embedded chippings flicking up in the first few days.

Surface dressing is dependent on fine weather and, as such, the programme of works is liable to change.

More information and regular updates can be found on the Northamptonshire Highways Twitter page @NNHighways.

100 nature activities for families launched

After months of Covid-19 lockdown, followed by the arrival of the summer holidays, you might be feeling like you are running out of ideas for how to keep your family entertained. To help you out, the environmental charity PECT has launched more than 100 downloadable nature activities and resources to entertain, inspire and educate children.

"We wanted to help support families during this unprecedented time by offering free activities that can be done at home, using only simple everyday household or recycled items," explains PECT's Operations Director, Stuart Dawks. "Our Nature's School resources aim to bring families together to enjoy, appreciate and protect their time together, while discovering more about the natural environment."

Families can pick and choose the activities they want to take part in. The idea is that if children learn more about the natural wonders of the world we live in, they will develop a desire to help protect and preserve it too. Our local environment is sometimes an unexplored resource, often overlooked for its wealth of possibilities, and not always appreciated or looked after as it should be.

The 100 activities and resources, which are available online, include everything from nature identification sheets and instructions for creating a Bee Hotel, to tips on how to grow from food waste, and a guide to creating a Leaf Lantern, plus many more.

Nature's School is not just for families – schools, charities and other organisations can also benefit from these resources and use them to create new ways of delivering the curriculum and learning objectives.

PECT has a vision for creating sustainable places, where the natural environment is protected, communities are involved in their area, health and wellbeing is improved, and resource use doesn't compromise the needs of others, now and into the future.

To access the resources, simply visit www.pect.org.uk/projects/natures-school or find PECT on Facebook, Instagram or Twitter by searching for 'Sustainable PECT'.

More than £250,000 additional funding for Corby and East Northamptonshire

Tom Pursglove, the MP for Corby and East Northamptonshire, has welcomed the announcement that two of the local councils in his constituency will receive a further £278,163 from the Government to help pay for its response to coronavirus, as part of a £500 million package of additional support.

GENEALOGY JOTTINGS

WORDS BY JAN PEARSON

It is the 'other stuff' that I mentioned last time that makes family history interesting. Dates of birth and baptisms, marriages, deaths and burials are all events that happened to our ancestors, but what else happened in their lives? If you find that all you seem to have in one branch is a list of 'hatches, matches and despatches' as I have seen them referred to before now, then where did these take place? Have you investigated the town or village to see what was happening back then?

One of my great grandmothers was one of four girls. She was the eldest and only she and the youngest survived to adulthood. The two middle girls died within two months of each other – of diphtheria. Further investigation discovered that there was an outbreak in the village and surrounding area that year, which had a devastating effect on the families. It may well be that you discover that a similar event happened if you have a number of unexplained deaths in a particular time-frame and area.

It is always worth popping the names of the towns or villages into the internet with the words 'family history' as you never know what might spring up. Many places have family history societies who might help you discover more or even local village archivists with a wealth of information that would help to paint a picture of life way back then. That was how I discovered a 'living museum' where one branch of mine came from and that my great uncle Harry Smith was the first person to be married in the local Baptist Chapel. There were even photographs of the event that showed my grandmother as a 3-year-old in 1898 – something that I would not otherwise have seen.

Local schools are also very helpful and take an interest in their history as many were around back in the 19th century, albeit not necessarily on their present sites. Always worth contacting.

Genealogy Specialists, Tracing Our Past, Discovering Our Genes (TOP DOG) www.genealogy-specialists.com

The extra £500 million, which brings support for pressures local authorities are facing to £4.3 billion, should ensure councils in England can continue to deliver crucial frontline services, support those most in need and continue delivering for residents.

In total, since the pandemic began, Corby Borough and East Northamptonshire Councils will have received an additional £2,044,098. Northamptonshire County Council is also to receive another £4,748,971.

This additional support forms part of a comprehensive package of Government support to help councils respond to the pandemic, including an unprecedented new scheme to help councils recover lost income, including from car parks and museums, which have been shut during the lockdown.

In addition, the Government has announced a co-payment scheme that will compensate councils for irrecoverable income losses from sales, fees and charges. And to enable them to get on the front foot and build much-needed breathing space into their budgets, the Government is also allowing them to spread their tax deficits over three years rather than the usual one. This will allow authorities to pay deficits off in a reasonable timescale and will limit their cashflow pressures.

Tom Pursglove, the MP for Corby & East Northamptonshire, said: "The staff at Corby Borough, East Northamptonshire and Northamptonshire County Councils have played a superb role in coordinating the local response to coronavirus and I'm sure everyone in our community will join me in thanking them for everything they've done under extraordinary circumstances.

"At the beginning of this crisis, our Government promised to stand behind our councils and I'm delighted that they have done so, to ensure that we could protect local services and make sure that our local authorities could come through this difficult period with stable finances.

"This additional funding shows they've continued to listen to local concerns and will protect local services in Corby and East Northamptonshire, upon which we all rely.

"I continue, also, to be immensely proud of the enormous community effort across the area and pay tribute to each and every one of my constituents for their sterling efforts to support one another."

Trust transfers provide vital funds

Northamptonshire Community Foundation is delighted to have been part of the Revitalising Trusts initiative, which has seen over £3million invested across Northamptonshire.

Inactive trusts are defined as those which have spent less than 30% of their income over the past five years, whereas dormant trusts are those which have not spent any income whatsoever over the past five years. It is expected that the initiative will provide an extra £1million in grant funding to local community groups each year.

Northamptonshire Community Foundation has liberated several dormant trusts locally, including the Queen's Institute Relief in Sickness Fund, the Mark Taylor Charitable Trust, the Leslie Church Memorial Trust and the Cecil Pettit Legacy Fund.

These trust transfers alone have resulted in £2.1million being made available for the benefit of the local community, with an additional £1million due to match funding.

There are a variety of reasons why a trust may become inactive or dormant. The charity's objectives may be outdated or no longer relevant, making it increasingly difficult to find appropriate beneficiaries to support. The charity's assets may be so small that the income available to distribute will not be able to make a significant impact. It may be that the founders have passed away, as seen with the Cecil Pettit Legacy Fund.

Cecil Pettit worked tirelessly for the equal rights of disabled people; his primary concern being to ensure disabled people had access to a normal education and an ordinary life. He was recognised in 1982 with an MBE for his outstanding contributions and his property was put into trust with Howes Percival Solicitors.

Now sold, the building was match funded 50% by the Constance Travis Endowment Match Challenge, creating a fund of just over £1million.

Gerald Couldrake, Senior Partner of Howes Percival and a trustee of the Cecil Pettit Will Trust, said: "I am sure that Cecil would be both astounded and delighted that his legacy is a £1million fund to benefit disabled people in the county.

"We have worked very successfully with the team over a number of years as we were convinced that they were the right people to take on the administration of finding the best projects to fund. I look forward to reading about how Cecil's money will be spent in supporting many worthwhile projects in the years to come."

East Northants Council launches new way to report fly tipping

Having seen how successful the What3Words app has been across the world, East Northamptonshire Council (ENC) is now encouraging anyone who wishes to report fly tipping across the district to use the app.

What3Words works using the principle that every 3m x 3m square of the world has been assigned an address of three words. For example one 3m x 3m square at East Northamptonshire Council's Cedar Drive office can be identified more precisely as 'Corded.Clean.Eased' as opposed to ENC's postcode of NN14 4LZ which covers a larger area.

It is hoped that by encouraging residents to download the app, fly tipping can be reported more precisely. This will allow it be located more quickly and dealt with by Council officers, especially in more rural areas of the district where a postcode typically covers a much wider area.

Cllr Steven North, Leader of East Northamptonshire Council, said: "Our waste team work tirelessly to ensure that fly tipping is dealt with swiftly and quickly across the district, but can't do so without the help of residents across East Northants. It is hoped that by encouraging everyone to start using the What3Words app, we'll be able to locate and deal with fly tipping much quicker."

Anyone wishing to report fly tipping should download the What3Words app to pinpoint the three words unique to that location. The three words will then need to be pasted into the relevant box when reporting fly tipping via the ENC website.

NORTHAMPTONSHIRE LIBRARIES ANNOUNCES SECOND PHASE OF REOPENINGS

Northamptonshire Libraries has announced its second phase of re-openings across the county, following official guidance from Central Government.

As of 3rd August, more of the county's libraries will be reopened to ensure accessibility for the maximum number of customers. The libraries that will be open are Brixworth, Corby, Duston, Hunsbury, Rushden, Towcester, and Central library.

This second phase follows an earlier series of reopenings that took place in July, where Wellingborough, Irthlingborough, Brackley, Kettering, Weston Favell, Daventry and Oundle became accessible to the public again.

Current opening times for the libraries differ depending on location:

Monday, Wednesday, Friday: 10am-4pm, and Saturday: 10am-2pm

- Wellingborough
- Corby
- Oundle
- Kettering
- Rushden

- Weston Favell
- Central Library
- Brackley

Monday, Wednesday, Friday: 10am-4pm

- Daventry

Tuesday, Thursday: 10am-4pm, and Saturday: 10am-2pm

- Brixworth
- Irthlingborough
- Hunsbury
- Duston

Tuesday, Thursday: 10am-4pm

- Towcester

Due to the necessity for safe ways of working, including rigorous cleaning regimes and the management of staff timetabling, library services will initially be restricted to:

- A signposting enquiry service
- Access to the internet by booked appointment
- A select and collect lending service by prior arrangement only

The normal range of activities and browsing will not be possible at this stage and customers visiting the library may find they need to wait outside to be assisted by staff.

Councillor Lizzy Bowen, Deputy Leader of the Council, said: "The first phase of library reopening was very successful and we're pleased that we're able to start the second phase shortly afterwards. Library services are an essential part of the community and we have used a phased approach to ensure that health and safety measures are in place and that social distancing guidelines can be adhered to, to protect both our staff and customers.

"We have also ensured that our popular library services are available online throughout lockdown, and look forward to gradually being able to offer these in our libraries once again."

Further information will be available on the website as matters progress.

From the CHAIRMAN

I was delighted to be invited to attend the opening of a new play area for the under-5s in the Peace Park, Market Road, in Thrapston on Friday 24th July by the Mayor of Thrapston, Cllr Karen Draycott.

WORDS BY CLLR HELEN HOWELL CHAIRMAN OF EAST NORTHAMPTONSHIRE COUNCIL

The new equipment was part funded by East Northamptonshire Council through our Community Facilities Fund. It was great to see the children finally being able to use it. I thought it was such a great facility that I took my granddaughter along the following Monday to enjoy it.

I was able to pop along to Pizza Venezia, the Italian restaurant in Rushden, on Tuesday evening to enjoy a long awaited meal out with my partner and a friend. It was great to see The Mayor of Rushden, Cllr Cesare Marinaro and his wife who own the restaurant and I was pleased to hear that trade is now starting to pick up. The food was fantastic by the way! He was really pleased to be taking part in the new scheme from the government, Eat Out to Help Out, which started on 3rd August, and runs every Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday until 31st August. Diners are able to take advantage of 50% discount on food or non-alcoholic drinks to eat or drink in (up to a maximum of £10 discount per diner). You can dine as many times as you like too! I hope you will all take advantage of this scheme and help to ensure that our hospitality trade in the district is supported.

Don't forget to maintain social distancing and wear your face coverings in the shops. Let's hope that by following the guidance we won't need to take a step back along the road to recovery.

Stay safe!
